600 Return for Alumni Activities

More than 600 alumni attended the annual meeting and luncheon at Mansfield State Teachers College Saturday, May 27, 1950.

Lloyd Jones, '30, of Harrisburg, Pa.; presided over the meeting, which was called to order at 11:00 a .m., in Straughn Hall. Officers for the 1951 reunion elected were: Chairman, Edgar Frear, Susquehanna, Pa,; Vice-chairmen, Harry E. Marvin, Schenectady, N. Y.; and Edson Strange, of Upper Darby, Pa.; Secretary, Mrs. Mary MacBlane Barden, Mansfield.

Evert Pearcy, faculty advisor, presented the class of 1950, which was received into membership by Alumni President Edwin S. Coles, 1900, Mansfield. Thomas Harrington, of Kingston, Senior Class president, responded. There were 133 members in the class.

Music was furnished by the Madrigal Singers under the direction of Albert Schroer.

A report on the Alumni Association was made by Mr. Leon Lunn, '36, Mansfield. The address of all alumni are about 75 per cent complete and a new directory will be published soon, he said.

Miss Maryon Farrer, '18, Mansfield, reported on Alumni Clubs. Most active this year were the clubs located in Luzerne, Lycoming, Tioga and Wyoming counties. Clubs located in New York City and Philadelphia have become too large and cover so much territory that they will be divided into smaller areas. New clubs also are to be formed in Elmira, New York, and Lackawanna County. Other clubs are located in Bradford, Potter, Susquehanna and Sullivan counties.

President James G. Morgan gave the address of welcome. He also outlined the building program which is now underway at the college. This program includes a new kitchen, new Science building, new men's Dormitory, new heating plant .and steam lines, and new floors in the girls' dormitory. Mr. Morgan also stated that if Alumni Hall had to come down, the clock tower would remain and become a part of the new building.

Chairman Jones called upon the reunion classes to stand and a spokesman from each to address the group. Six members of the 1890, oldest annisersary class, were present. Miss Fannie Watson, of Mansfield, was their speaker. Class of 1895, James Muir, Wollaston, Mass.; 1900, William Neal; Mansfield; 1910, Stanley Evans, Bayonne, N. J., 1920 Reed Hitchcock, Michigan; 1925, Maurice Starkey, Cohoes, N. Y.; 1930, Harry Summers, Warren, Pa.; 1940 Max Cannon, N. Mehoppany, Pa.; and 1945, Mrs. Betty Herrold Witmer, Yorksville, Pa.

Charles Lugg, of Syracuse, formerly of Knoxville, a member of the class of 1880, was the oldest member present.

Returning graduates travelled from California, Missouri, Kentucky, Michigan, Virginia, Massachusetts, Washington, D. C., and many other points to attend the Alumni Day activities

The President's Corner

I know that every Alumnus will be interested in a brief report on Governor Duff's current $15,000,000 program for a much needed rehabilitation of the physical facilities of the State Teachers College, especially as it affects Mansfield.

To reduce the fire hazards in North Hall, the corridors and the Dining Hall floor have been tiled, the wainscoting has been removed, and all stair treads have been covered with linoleum. The new Science Building, the new Men's Dromitory, and the complete renovation of the kitchen and replacement of kitchen equipment should be completed by the opening of college in September, 1951. These projects are made possible by allocation from the General State Authority.

Other major projects now being completed will provide the college with a modern heating plant and storm sewers. In addition, land has been purchased for the development of an athletic field on the campus.

Small projects of rehabilitation include parking areas, sound-proofing of music rooms and studios, renovation of the Junior High School lighting system and home economics rooms, repairs and replacement of curtains and draperies in Straughn Auditorium. These physical improvements will add greatly to the efficiency of preparing teachers for the schools of the Commonwealth.

JAMES G. MORGAN, President
Mansfield State Teachers College

Mrs. James Pruyne (Margaret Doughton, '31) presented a discussion on "Literature of Pennsylvania" at the meeting of the Outlook Club in her home town.

Letter to the Alumni:

Dear Fellow Alumni:

We are so grateful for all the help that a great number of you have given in correcting addresses for the new Alumni Directory that we take this means of saying a hearty "Thank You". We hope you will continue to maintain a close relationship with your Alma Mater, writing often of your professional advancement and family growth.

Sincerely,
HELEN C. WOOD,
Secretary

Greetings to the Alumni

On behalf of the Alumni Association I wish to express our appreciation for the hearty response so many of the Alumni have made by paying their annual dues of $1 per year. This has enabled us to build up a fund to keep in contact with our members each year, and also to revise the Alumni Register so that we can print a new one. Miss Helen Wood, our secretary, has been working for months on getting correct addresses and is doing a fine work. She has only a few more classes to contact.

We have been pleased with the expressions of pleasure from the Alumni who have been coming back and renewing their acquaintance with Mansfield. They certainly get a thrill out of meeting former classmates and getting information from others.

Yours for a stronger Alumni Association.

EDWIN S. COLES.

After Fifty Years

The fifty-year anniversaries of the classes of Mansfield State Teachers College, then known as Mansfield State Normal have been the highlight of Alumni Days, and this year was no exception. There were about 103 graduates in the class of 1900, and there were 25 here for their anniversary. Twenty-nine of the class have passed on. The others were kept from the reunion by school and other duties, and some by illness.

Mrs. Belle Barton Murdock and William J. Neal acted as secretaries to contact the various members of their class, and succeeded in all but five cases. Mr. Neal presided at the class reunion. Those present gave brief reviews of their lives since leaving Mansfield. The ladies of the class had mostly the same story of teaching after graduation, getting married, raising a family, and going back to teaching. Some have retired and others are due shortly, having completed the sufficient number of years in active service as teachers. The men who were present had left the teaching field for various resons, chiefly economic.

It would be interesting to note the changes that have come about since this class ventured into the world of affairs at the turn of the century, but space does no permit. We can note briefly that as styles in clothing have changed, so have styles in customs and manners. Travel then was by horse and buggy, and by the Tioga Division of the Erie from Elmira, a long and dusty ride. There were also stage lines between Mansfield and Troy and Mansfield and Wellsboro. The boys and girls were not permitted to mingle as they do today, and the only round dance of the year was held in the Opera House on the night after the Seniors received their diplomas. The salaries of most of the graduates ran from $22 to $25 and $30 a month. Today there are quite a number of the class still engaged in teaching at calaries up to several thousand dollars a year.

Those present for Alumni Day included the following:

E. Belle Barton (Mrs. A. H. Murdock), 54 Cary Ave., Yonkers, N. Y.

Nellie E. Burt (Mrs. G. Cleveland Wright), 1739 Westover Ave, Petersburg, Va.

Edwin S. Coles, Mansfield.

Urania Dayton (Mrs. Fred Birchard), Birchardville, Pa.

Dr. David T. Ditchburn, 4000 Cathedral Ave., Washington, D. C.

Margaret Dixon (Mrs. Robert O'Donnell), 803 Main, Avoca, Pa.

Carrie Gregory, Prompton Lakes, N. J.

Maude Littley (Mrs. Jerome Eighmey), Millerton, Pa.

Bertha Mason, (Mrs. G. O. Kingsley), Columbia Cross Roads, Pa.

Margaret Morris, 18 74th St., Woodcliff, N. J.

William J. Neal, Mansfield.

Edith Passmore (Mrs. Norman Schanbacher), 413 Fulton, Elmira, N. Y.

Dean E. Phelps, Mansfield.

Burdell Phillips (New Albany, Pa.

Nettie Rice (Mrs. Herbert Evans), Mansfield.

Ethel G. Shaw (Mrs. Charles Jerald), Mansfield.

M. Jennie Shaw (Mrs. Charles Bainbridge), Hamilton Square, N. J.

E. Mae Smith (Mrs. Everett Mack), Wellsboro.

Archie Soper, Wellsburg, N. Y.

Ethel Sterling (Mrs. Leon Russell), Towanda, Pa.

Laura Strange (Mrs. Fred E. Rose), 521 Union Ave., New York City.

Anna A. Sturdevant (Mrs. H. J. Taber), 815 W. Fourth St., Williamsport, Pa.

Grace Sturdevant, New Albany, Pa.

Jennie Sutton (Mrs. John Little), Westfield, Pa.

Among those heard from were:

Edna S. Clemons (Mrs. Glenn Jeliff), Philadelphia, Pa.

Anna Dayton (Mrs. Glade T. Perrin), Newton Center, Mass.

Charles M. and Jean H. Doane Rose, Pueblo, Colo.

Delbert E. Hall, teacher of government and history in the New York City Schools, Great Kills, N. Y.

Nellie Middaugh (Mrs. M. V. Thurston), Elmira, N. Y.

Frances E, Myer, a patient in Robert Packer Hospital, Sayre, Pa.

Raymond G. Patterson, Department of Education, State Teachers College, Westfield, Mass.

Marie A. Traynor (Mrs. Peter Blumester) Smethport, Pa.

Grace A. White (Mrs. Joseph Preston), Troy, Pa.

Kate E. Zepp (Mrs. Earl Playfoot), Galeton, Pa.

May Borden, who has taught forty years in the Kearney-Arlington School System, the last 28 as principal of the Washington Junior High, Arlyington, N. J.

Sara O. Hodges (Mrs. Douglas M. Black), who taught in schools for Rehabilitation of Veterans after World War I, and who has recently moved from Charlotte, N. C., to Tampa, Fla. Their household goods and personal belongings, except what they had in three suit cases with them were burned in transit from Charlotte to Tampa.

Nine Members of 1890 Class Return for 60th Anniversary

Nine members of the class of 1890, Mansfield State Normal School, returned for their sixtieth anniversary reunion Saturday.

COLLEGE TO HAVE TWO NEW BUILDINGS

The General State Authority asked for bids on Wednesday, September 13, for the construction of two new buildings at the Mansfield State Teachers College and modernization of the institution's kitchen and refrigeration facilities.

The new buildings will be a men's dormitory and a new science building. Both will replace structures which have outlived their usefulness and represent health and fire hazards to students.

The new men's dormitory will replace South Hall, one of the oldest buildings on the Mansfield campus, which is only used in part at the present time due to the dilapidated condition of the upper floors. The present science building is a temporary one-story frame structure that has long needed replacement.

Both new buildings were designed by Thomas Hendryx, Bradford architect. The dormitory will embody a new type of architecture. One section of it will have an exterior of cast aluminum panels and the remainder will be of brick. The aluminum panels will have a dull finish and will have an appearance similar to a new hospital being erected in Bradford that has won wide notice in the architectural world. That building also was designed by Hendryx.

The dormitory will be a four-story structure with a basement. There will be piano practice rooms in the basement as well as a recreation room. The practice rooms will replace those in the building to be demolished and will be for the use of men studying music, the course emphasized at Mansfield.

On the first floor will be offices, a student lounge and kitchenette, an apartment for the dean of men and eight student rooms as well as utility rooms. On each of the upper three floors there will be 19 student rooms. Fifty-six of the student rooms will have accommodations for three students and nine of them for four students each.

The Authority also asked for bids on a number of alternates providing for reductions in the cost of the building. These, which would be used only in the event the base bid overran the allocation, included the elimination of two four-student rooms on each of the four floors. These two alternates would cut the accommodations to 175 students.

The new science building will be constructed on the site of the present wooden structure and will consist of a one-story fireproof building containing six laboratories and a two-story section at one end including offices, store rooms and a lecture hall.

The new kitchen, designed by Henry J. Reese, Coudersport, will provide modern facilities for food preparation at the college. A new food storage plant will also be erected. Plans call for construction to go on in such a way that there will be as little interference as possible with college activities.

The following attended Alumni Day for their sixtieth anniversary: Jay W. Rose, Edward M. Elliott, Helen Phillips Cruttenden, Anna Leonard Taylor, Mary Evans Davies, Martha J. Carlin Lott, Lizzie J. Allen Wales, Anna Broadbent Jones, and Fannie C. Watson.

Willard Ehlers, '29, is the newly appointed director of the Civic Chorus of Elmira, N. Y.

Seven Members Attend Reunion of Class of 1895

Seven members of the class of 1895 of the Mansfield State Normal School, now State Teachers College, returned for their 55th anniversary reunion Saturday, May 27.

Those who attended the reunion were Charles Argetsinger, 635 West Church St., Elmira, N. Y.. Bayard Bradford, R. D. No. 2, Troy, Pa.; Julia Goodspeed (Mrs. Everitt McMurtry), Mansfield; James N. Muir, Quincy, Mass.;Adie Pollock (Mrs. H. F. Cox), 430 Colfax Ave., Scranton, Pa.; Edith Rose (Mrs. N. J. Smith) Mansfield; Ruby Williams (Mrs. Lafayette Taylor), 2035 North Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa.

James N. Muir, better known as Jim Muir, responded to the call of the chairman at the general alumni meeting held in the Straughn Auditorium in receiving the class of 1950 into the alumni association.

After the alumni dinner, 600 present, the members of the class and a few friends met at the appointed hour, 3 p. m., in the Arts Building. Jim Muir presided and reported to his classmates that he had sent out a personal letter to each surviving member; also a copy of a letter from Miss Maryon Farrar, of State Teachers College, giving the details of Commencement.

Two letters were returned, eleven sent letters of greeting and something of their home and family life. Excerpts were read from the letters received. The eleven responses covered a wide area: Arizona, Florida, Indiana, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania. Washington, D. C., Texas and Maryland.

Our ranks are thinning. It was altogether a joyous occassion to meet and greet the few who responded to the call. It was a rare privilege and pleasure to read excerpts from letters of those who could not attend. It was another quick communion of young people separated 55 years ago, to meet in the sunset of their lives.

To those who did not respond, as well as those who did, we wish you continued good health and may He who presides ABOVE be kind and generous to you until we meet in the Kingdom of Heaven.—James N. Muir.

Football Forecast For MSTC

With the graduating of most of the post war crop of GIs, head athletic coach Ted Casey has been forced to turn to the younger, inexperienced, high school graduates to mold his athletic teams for the 1950-51 season. Casey is depending upon the spirit and aggressiveness of his team to outweigh the lack or experience.

So far this season, Mansfield has suffered defeat at the hands of Bloomsburg, 39 to 6; Indiana, 28 to 14; East Stroudsburg, 14 to 0; and Brockport, 13 to 12. But the Red and Black gridders made a smashing comeback when they met Lycoming College on October 21 at Smythe Park. The score? 40 to 0.

The Mountaineers have four more contests ahead of them yet. On Oct. 28 they will meet King's College at Wilkes-Barre; on Nov. 4, Edinboro at Mansfield; on Nov. 11, Lock Haven at Lock Haven; and on Nov. 18 they will battle it out with Millersville on home ground.

Coach Casey will be aided in his task of pushing the Mountaineers on to victory by Edward E. Rushin, newly secured athletic coach. Rushin, who is a graduate of Stroudsburg S. T. C., has an excellent record as varsity backfield coach in football and head coach in basketball at Sunbury High School.

Sidelights on Sports

The 1949-50 school year was a gloomy one for Mansfield. In football the Mountaineers emerged victorious in only one out of seven contests and tied another.

The Huskies of Bloomsburg spoiled the opening game of M.S.T.C. before a crowd of more than 5,000 fans at Berwick, Pa., by defeating the Red and Black gridders 26 to 0.

In the second game two Indiana second-half touchdowns proved fatal to the locals as they went down to defeat, 14 to 0. The Mountaineers received their third and fourth straight setbacks at the hands of Kutztown by a score of 12 to 6 and Stroudsburg, 28 to 6.

Mansfield finally broke into the winning column via a 14 to 7 decision over Alliance College. The defensive play of Tom Hurley and the offensive play of "Nello" Burian and "Big Pete" Dokas were the all-important factors in the victory for the Mansfieldians.

The Red and Black gridders, still fresh from their first victory of the year, tied Edinboro on a rain-washed field, 6 to 6. In the final contest of the '49 season Mansfield suffered defeat from a strong Lock Haven team, 33 to 0, before a large Homecoming Day crowd at Smythe Park.

The 1950 basketball season proved to to be as disappointing as the football season. Sven though the Mountaineer squad included five letter men and exceptional talent in the new comers, they did not strike the win column until the third game. This win from King's College, 65 to 58, proved to be one of the team's best games and a major upset, because most of the highly rated King's quintet had been playing together for seven years, including high school and college. The season's record of four wins and thirteen losses does not paint the true picture of the highly spirited team. Handicapped by a late start, the Caseymen played hard against keen competition.

The baseball season was a little brighter for the sports enthusiasts at M.S.T.C. With less than 10 days to practice before the first game, Coach "Ted" Casey built a squad around 10 returning lettermen and promising newcomers. The record was 6 wins and 5 loses when the final pitch of the '50 season was thrown.

New Buildings Now Under Construction

Old Landmarks Give Way To New

One of the oldest landmarks in this area has been removed in the name of Progress. No longer will students and visitors traveling from the direction of Wellsboro in the evening see the lights of old South Hall. No longer will the shouts of the students on their way to classes be heard in the old, time-worn halls. With the advent of spring, couples must find places to gather other than in the doorways, on the porches, or under the "Umbrella Tree" growing in the shade of the building. The library with its volumes of musty, well-fingered books has moved to new, unfamiliar rooms. The old South Hall has finally been demolished.

In 1854 a group of prominent Mansfield citizens gathered together with a common purpose—to build an institution of higher learning in the vicinity of Mansfield. Funds, labor and material were quickly requisitioned, enabling the Mansfield Classical Seminary to open its doors in January,

The President's Corner

JAMES G. MORGAN
President, Mansfield State Teachers College.

The biennium closing May 31, 1951, has been one of growth and marked changes in both physical plant and educational program and achievements. Major improvements have been completed in the corridors and bathrooms of the Women's Dormitory; heating plant and steam lines; filtration plant; and in providing storm sewers. Ten acres has been added to the college for development of an athletic field. Under construction are a new Science Building, Men's Dormitory, and Kitchen.

The curriculums have been reviseed in all departments with emphasis on General Education in the first two years. Students now enrolled will not be affected by the change, but the incoming freshmen will follow the new curriculum.

The enrollment of the College has been the highest in its history. Until the Korean incident it appeared that the College would enter a period of readjustment due to the loss of veterans, but a period during which long-range plans would be projected in a peaceful future. That was resolved by the invasion of Korea and the ever increasing manpower demands for defense. All colleges will feel the impact of these demands in many serious ways. To meet these new challenges will require the loyalty and unity of everyone interested in Mansfield.

We sincerely appreciate the courtesies extended to me on the occasion of the annual banquets of the Philadelphia, Williamsport, and Tioga County Alumni Clubs and it is our hope that the returning Alumni will have a happy and pleasant sojourn with us.

JAMES G. MORGAN,
President.

1857, to one hundred-five students. But four months later this buildng burned to the ground, and on its site South Hall was built. According to the first college catalog, this building was "a brick structure, one hundred-fifty feet in length by fifty feet in width." In this building were "the gentlemen's dormitories, the office of the principal, chapel, six recreation rooms, and the text-book library." It was remodeled and enlarged in 1889.

Soon a new building will open its doors to the men students. It will be of fireproof construction and brick-faced to harmonize with the other buildings on the campus. It will stand four stories high with a basement and will have a capacity of two hundred. The basement will house a laundry and pressing room, recreation rooms and facilities for men day students. The first floor will provide offices and a modern apartment for the Dean of Men, a Post Office, kitchenette, and a lounge. The building will be newly furnished with built-in- wardrobes and modern dormitory furniture.

The new Men's Dormitory will not be the only sign of progress on the Mansfield campus. A new science building is being built on the site of the temporary science building built in 1927. It will also be of fire-proof construction, faced with bricks to harmonize with the other buildings.

This building will house classrooms; physics, chemistry, and biology laboratories; offices for the faculty; conference rooms; science lecture auditorium; and a herbarium for botanical study The laboratories will be provided with the latest laboratory equipment.

The construction of both buildings is made possible by the General State Authority. Mr. Thomas Hendryx, Bradford, Pennsylvania, is the architect. Raymond Hedden, Nanticoke, Pennsylvania, is the contractor for the new Men's Dormitory; and Frank P. Case and Sons, Inc., Troy, Pennsylvania, is the general contractor for the new Science Building.

"Grandma" Howe Passes On

Mrs. Carrie Elmanette Case Howe, the last survivor of the Class of 1876, and the one alumnus to return here for a 70th reunion, died shortly after noon on December 14, 1950, at the home of her son, Albert D. Howe, 29 Oak Street, Wellsville, New York.

"Grandma" Howe, as she was known to all her friends, celebrated her 98th birthday last October 31. She was believed to be Wellsville's oldest citizen.

Mrs. Howe was born on October 31, 1852, in Sullivan Township, Tioga County, Pa. She graduated from MSTC in 1876 and taught at Shenandoah, Pa. She was married to Albert Howe on May 15, 1881, and they made their home in Andover where both taught. Later the family went to Whitesville, New York, where both Mr. and Mrs. Howe spent years in school work and where they lived until Mr. Howe's death in May, 1928.

She was a member of the Whitesville Baptist Church and of the Andover Eastern Star, being the oldest living Eastern Star member in the State of New York. For several years she served as clerk of the Town of Independence and as Republican County Committeewoman.

Although there are no members of the Class of '76 to mourn at her passing, "Grandma" Howe's loyalty to her alma mater will long be remembered in the hearts of all Mansfield graduates.

Curriculum Changes To Begin Next Fall

The Curriculum of the Mansfield State Teachers College which has been in the process of revision for the past two or three years has been completed and will to into effect with the coming of the new freshman class in September, 1951.

This revision is not peculiar to M. S. T. C., but is a state-wide revision for all State Teachers Colleges.

The emphasis in the new curriculum will be on a General Education for the students of all departments. Courses such as English and Speech have been combined under a course entitled Communications and will stress the fundamentals of both. This course will be five semester hours for two semesters. World Culture will take the place of History of Civilization and Literature. The emphasis is to be upon the broad fields of knowledge instead of segments of knowledge from specific courses. Two new major fields, Social Science and His-

600 ATTEND ALUMNI DAY

Rev. Homer Heisley Delivers College Baccalaureate Sermon

The annual Baccalaureate Services of MSTC were held on Sunday, May 27, at 10:30 a. m. The Reverend Homer W. Heisley, Minister of the First Evangelical Church of Williamsport, delivered a stirring address entitled, "Behold the Dreamer."

The world was built by dreamers who realized their dreams," said Rev. Heisley. He advised the graduating seniors to continue dreaming and also to work toward the realization of those dreams for "A dreamer can only be of service to the world when he attempts to fulfill his dreams."

The invocation, scripture reading, and benediction was delivered by the Reverend David J. Griffiths, minister of the Baptist Church of Mansfield.

The anthem, "The Almighty," by Schubert, was sung by the College Choir under the direction of Miss Roberta Schlosser. Mr. John B. Little, Jr., accompanied on the College organ.

In the afternoon, the Symphonic Band under the direction of Mr. Bertram Francis presented a concert in Straughn Auditorium. Miss Onolee Swan played a flute solo, Concerto in D. Minor by Molique, with Mary Louise Keiper, '51, as accompanist. The trumpet trio, Charles Neiman, Robert English and Eugene Welliver, played a selection by Paul Henneberg entitled "Triplets of the Finest."

The College Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Sigmund Michota was heard in its final concert of the year on Sunday evening in Strauhghn Auditorium. Soloist was Mr. Patrick O"Hearn, '51. He played the violin concerto, Sympronie Espagnole, by Lalo. The orchestra concluded its program with the ever-popular Finlandia by Sibelius.

CURRICULUM CHANGES

tory have been added and the required hours for a major has been stepped up in some courses.

The professional preparation for teachers is also better integrated and includes recent scientific developments. Problems of Secondary Education now includes units on guidance. Measurements has been combined with Educational Physchology and both General and Educational Psychology have been moved up to junior year.

Under the new curriculum a student may be given the privilege of taking examinations in the subject matter areas for the purpose of securing exemptions. This will enable the student to take more courses in the field or fields in which he is particularly interested.

Eighty-Sixth Annual Commencement

The eighty-sixth annual Commencement of MSTC was held on Monday, May 28, 1951, at 11:00 p. m. in Straughn Auditorium. The invocation was delivered by the Reverend Paul Emenheiser, Rector of St. James Episcopal Church of Mansfield.

"A New Man For A New World" was the topic of the address delivered by Dr. Frank F. Adler, Pastor of St. James Evangelical Church of Ocean City, New Jersey. Dr. Adler told the assembly that it was too late to change the world to fit the people in it. "Instead," he said, 'it is time we began to change the people to fit the world." He told the graduating class that they, as future teachers, were in the best position to help mold the "New Man for the New World."

The music for the program was provided by Mrs. Mary Louise Keiper, a member of the Class of 1951, at the piano, and Miss Florence Borkey, instructor in the Music Department, at the organ.

President James G. Morgan conferred the 128 baccalaureate degrees.

MSTC Graduates of ????

A son, Timothy Arnold, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Smith, of Eaton, New York, on January 25, 1951. Mrs. Smith is the former Miss Mabel Pearson, of Blossburg, class of '36.

A daughter, Carol Anna, was born on January 18, 1951, to Mr. and Mrs. Merle Dewey, of Canandaigua, New York. Mrs. Dewey, class of '38, is the former Miss Dorothy Carlyle.

Y., '84, the oldest alumnus present.

Greeting the alumni, President James Morgan told of the revised curriculum to be inaugurated at the college this coming Fall and the new building program. One of the planned additions to the new curriculum will be the granting of degrees to nurses for school nursing and dental hygiene. Mr. Morgan said that he hopes that the college will be able to grant Master's degrees in the near future.

Nine members of the Class of 1891 returned for Alumni Day and 19 returned from the Class of 1901. The reunion classes met in the Arts Building.

In the evening Jack Wilcox, '47, and the College Opera Workshop presented a program in Straughn Auditorium. Mr. Wilcox sang arias and songs, by Mozart, Faure, Manning, and Richard Rodgers. Miss Dolores Kunz, soprano, and Joseph Geyer, tenor, students at the college sang the leading roles from "Madame Butterfly", by Puccini. Mr. Wilcox and Miss Beverly Theetge, '51, presented the death scene from Moussorgsky's "Boris Godounov.'

Names in the News

Many familiar names have appeared recently in newspapers throughout the country. Looking them over carefully, we find that they are graduates of old MSTC.

Miss Mary M. Maneval, of Blossburg, '23, a teacher at Norristown, Penna., received her Ph. D. Degree this past February. In a letter to the Alumni Association she says, "I always shall remember my wonderful days in Mansfield. The Ph. D. Degree seems like a dream, but I have worked faithfully. I did enjoy it, too." Congratulations from your fellow alumni, Mary.

Our own Dr. Will George Butler was honored recently by having some of his musical compositions added to a collection of original manuscripts at the Pennsylvania State Museum at Harrisburg. Dr. Butler's manuscripts will be exhibited along with those of other celebrated composers of the Commonwealth, including Stephen Foster. We have also been advised that Paul Lavalle, conductor of radio's "Band of America" has added all of the marches written by Dr. Butler to his repertoire. Everyone will remember Dr. Butler as the director of music at MSTC for 25 years.

Mrs. Donald Knaz, Spanish teacher in Honesdale High School, the former Miss Eleanor Nash, '47, of Mainesburg, has been awarded a scholarship for the Summer session at Middlebury College, Vermont. She began her studies on June 29.

Frank H. Marvin, Mansfield's 'grand old man," celebrated his ninetieth birthday during the past year. He attended Mansfield State Normal School in 1879 and 1880 and taught for two years in Covington. Mr. Marvin said his health is pretty good and that he enjoyed his many greeting cards, letters and callers. We hope in ten years we may report Frank's 100th birthday.

Mr. W. Howard Monks, '34, of Kenmore, New York, has received a step toward the top of his career lately. He has been appointed agency supervisor in the Buffalo Agency of the Massachusetts Life Insurance Co. Mr. Monks has been a life insurance underwriter since 1946.

Miss Laura R. Hess has received her Masters Degree from Scarritt College this month. She has been studying at this Nashville, Tenn., college since September, 1950.

Miss Clara H. Carlson, '10, was honored by having her portrait painted for the Belmont Boulevard School of Elmont, N. Y. She is principal of the Gotham Avenue School in Nassau County, New York, and is completing 36 years of teaching in that district. Miss Carlson leaves a word of advice to all future teachers. "The first prerequisite of a good teacher is the same today as it always was. You must like children."

Several alumni are making themselves known through speeches here and in other parts of the country. Miss Josephine Wolfe, '36, talked to the grade school teachers of Troy, Pa., recently. She has also accepted the invitation which was issued to her by the Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development to become a member of their national organization.

Miss Helen L. Edwards, '30, was guest speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Field Enterprises, Inc., Educational Division held recently at the Meridan Hills Hotel of Washington, D. C. The World Book Encyclopedia is published by the Field Enterprises, Inc. Dr. Charles Ward, President of Plattsburg STC and graduate of MSTC, spoke recently at the Patchoone Teachers Conference. And Mr. Leon Lunn, social science instructor at Mansfield and graduate of '36, was the guest speaker at the annual Spring luncheon of the Tioga County Republican Women held recently in Wellsboro, Penna.

H. I. Lehman, class of 1911, was recently heard from. He tells us of his life in brief after leaving MSTC. "After graduation I taught for 2 years in Pennsylvania, 3 years in the Philippine Islands, studied 2 years in the Moody Bible Institute, graduated from Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., and have been a Methodist missionary in Brazil since 1919."

Dr. Catherine Urell, '19, has been promoted from Junior Research Assistant to Research Assistant in the Bureau of Educational Research on the Board of Education of New York City. Her husband, Dr. Clinton S. Lutes, is a member of the faculty of Brooklyn College.

Many of our old grads are not satisfield with a B. S. degree and are working toward their higher degrees. James Helmer, '34, has received his Master's degree from William and Mary Colleege and is principal of the Thomas Jefferson High School in Suffolk, Va. John H. Hyde, Jr., received the degree of Master of Education from the University of St. Bonaventure. Mr. Jack Wilcox, '47, has completed his graduate work at the University of Michigan School of Music, and Mrs. Grace E. Pryor, '26, received her Master's degree at the University of Pittsburgh and is studying for her Ph. D.

The Covington Baptist Church has grown and advanced considerably for the past six years under the able guidance of its pastor, Rev. Lawrence C Grow, '48. At a recent business meeting of the church, by a unanimous vote of its congregation, Pastor Grow was asked to continue as pastor for the coming year. In addition he received many words of commendation from members and friends unable to attend this meeting.

Miss Charlotte Lappla, '32 presided over the meeting of the elementary teachers of the Tioga County Branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Association held at MSTC during March, 1951; and Mr. Warren L. Miller, '17, acted as chairman of the secondary group. President Morgan and Walter G. Clark, 09, were speakers at the meeting.

Mr. Melvin D. Brace, '36, has been assigned as instructor for the blind in the physical medicine rehabilitation service center of the Bath, New York. VA center.

Attorney Kenneth B. Lee, '48, has been admitted to the Sullivan County Bar and has opened his law office in the First National Bank Building of Dushore.

Mr. Charle V. Darrin, '34, is author of the lead article, entitled "Your Truly Attached Friend, Mary Lincoln" in a recent journal of the Illinois State Historical Society.

Dr. James S. Coles has been appointed acting Dean of the College at Brown University, Providence, R. I. Dr. Coles is executive officer of the Department of Chemistry. A member of the class of '34, he is the son of Edwin S. Coles, President of the Alumni Association.

Dr. and Mrs. Ellsworth S. Obourn are going to Thailand to serve as education consultants. Dr. Obourn, '19, chairman of the Science Department of John Burroughs School, Clayton, Missouri, has been appointed consultant of science education to the Thailand Education Minister by the United Nations Educational. Scientific and Cultural Organization.

Two golden wedding anniversaries of Mansfield graduates since the last issue of the Mansfieldian went to press. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hillman held their celebration on January 2, 1951. Mr. Hillman, '02, was an educator for 48 years, the last 31 as principal of the Elkland High School. He retired in 1947. Mrs. Hillman, '01, was member of the Elkland faculty from 1919 to 1931. Most of her teaching has been done in the Parkhurst Schools.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Sherwood, 92, held their celebration on February 19, 1951, at their home at 141 S.E. 65th avenue, Portland, Oregon. Mr. Sherwood has been in public school work for over 35 years. He retired in 1941.

Uncle Sam has again claimed his share of Mansfield graduates. Philip H. Stittler, '50, has been assigned to the 550th Quartermaster Mobile Refrigeration Company at Fort Lee, Va.

Joseph McDermott, '41, has been promoted to Lieutenant Colonal and is stationed in Washington.

Cpl. Stuart Mackowiak, '50, is now serving in Korea with the Army Medical Corps.

Major Robert C. Smith, '40, was recently awarded the Bronz Star Medal for meritorious service. The presentation was made by Brig. Gen. Edward Timberlake, Jr., Fifth Air Force Vice Commander, during formal ceremonies at headquarters in Korea.

The citation accompanying the award read, in part: "Major Smith was responsible for organizing the Photo Intelligence Unit of Fifth Air Force at Taegu, Korea. Operating under cambat conditions, Major Smith provided a continual source of valuable information on the enemy."

Major Smith's wife is the former Elizabeth Harris, also of the class of '40.

CARRYING ON

Although many MSTC graduates use teaching as a springboard into other professions, some are still carrying on the work of that noble profession. To those who are aiding in the job of preparing American youth for the life ahead, we send our best wishes for success in your chosen field.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF THE ALUMNI AND THE FRIENDS OF MANSFIELD STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Volume X | Mansfield, Pennsylvania--June, 1953 | Number 1

ALUMNI HALL

A landmark dear to the memories of all Mansfieldians, Alumni Hall, erected in 1886, overlooks the town and valley; while its Tower Clock, oftentimes independent of solar, Greenwich, standard and non-standard interpretations of the zodiac, has its own, unique and unchallenged personality.

When and if the ravages of rust and decay necessitate the replacement of this-time-honored structure, the site of Alumni Hall will remain forever hallowed in the minds and hearts of all Mansfield alumni.

JAMES G. MORGAN, President

From the President's Desk

The 88th Commencement season is now history, and we were delighted that so many of our alumni found time from busy schedules to return to their Alma Mater and rekindle memories of their normal or college years. We at the college welcome our alumni at any time, but Commencement weekend is a time when special efforts are made to provide the warmest welcome and we hope that you have had a very happy experience.

I sincerely appreciate the warm welcome extended to Mrs. Morgan and myself on the occasions of the Mansfield alumni club dinners. We all are especially pleased at the increase in numbers attending these gatherings. Mansfield has always recognized the importance of alumni in the administration of the college and has benefitted greatly by the interest and loyalty engendered by that recognition.

You can aid your Alma Mater greatly by speaking favorably of her at every opportunity, referring to her prospective students, and strengthening the growing interest in her alumni clubs.

President James G. Morgan

EDWIN S. COLES

The hearty support given by so many members of the Alumni in paying their dues so that we could print the directory is greatly appreciated by the officers and the College.

So, too, is the fine work done in organizing and continuing the Alumni clubs in the various sectors.

As we have said before, the MSTC Alumni Association has not made any solicitations for funds, simply asked all who can to pay their dues as often as they can, so that we may have an active organization.

Due to lack of funds we have been unable to send out a Mansfieldian for some time. This present issue is larger than usual, because we had so much material. With continued active Alumni we can send the Mansfieldian to you twice a year, so that you may keep up with what the Alumni and the College are doing.

Edwin S. Coles, President
General Alumni Association

Former Librarian Dies

Mrs. Sarah Gates Crockett, 82, widow of Dr. W. D. Crockett, died at her home at State College, Pennsylvania, on November 8, 1951. Mrs. Crockett was a native of Canton, attended Mt. Holyoke College, and for a number of years acted as Librarian at Mansfield. Since 1911 she had lived in State College where her husband was head of the Classical Language Department at Penn State until his death in 1930.

The Sports Arena

Alumni sports fans who have followed "the news" have observed gradual up-grading in the three major sports at Mansfield. While the record has not been too impressive, the 1952-1953 seasons produced some good games and a sprinkling of victories. With Acting Coach Ed Rushin at the helm, together with M. E. Spotts Decker as Director of Athletics, the general sports picture looks bright for another year.

Beginning in 1952, the "Athlete-of-the-Year" has been chosen and his name placed on a plaque in the College Gymnasium. Award winners to date are: Natal George, '52, Carbondale; Thomas Best, '53, West Pittston.

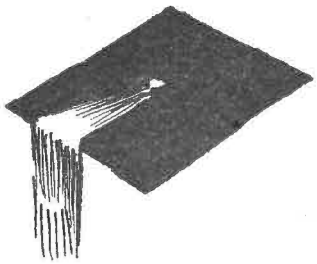
President Morgan together with the Athletic Policy Committee, with Manford Lloyd, Mansfield '33, as chairman, is busy formulating a strong athletic program. Graduate Manager Karl Van Norman, '06, has been of great assistance with contributory records and writings on early athletic achievements at Mansfield.

600 ATTEND ALUMNI DAY

Baccalaureate

On Sunday morning, May 24, the Rev. E. Raymond Shaheen, Pastor of Messiah's Evangelical Lutheran Church, South Williamsport, addressed the graduating class at the Baccalaureate Service. He spoke on the topic "A Personal Program" with sincerity and directness. He pointed out that only by having a personal program may one hope to render service, gain happiness or success in the world of today.

Special music was provided by the College Choir, under the direction of Mr. Daniel Border, with Miss Florence Borkey at the organ. Devotions were led by the Rev. Stanley C. Robinson of the Mansfield Methodist Church.



88th Commencement

114 men and women students graduated from the Mansfield State Teachers College in the 88th Commencement exercises on Monday, May 25, in Straughn Hall. Every seat was filled as parents and guests gathered for the event. The speaker, Dr. Millard G. Roberts, Associate Pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church, New York City, and a former Air Force Chaplain, discussed the topic "What About Tomorrow". He pointed out the importance of everyday living, vividly drawing a contrast between real education and mere bookishness. In closing, he suggested that students need not worry about tomorrow if they follow this motto, "Know and trust yourself, your country and your God."

Special music was provided by Betty Hayden, '53, and Mr. John B. Little of the Faculty at the organ. The Rev. David J. Griffiths, Mansfield Baptist Church, led devotions. Degree candidates were presented by Dean Herbert E. Manser and diplomas in the four curricula were awarded by President Morgan. With well-chosen remarks, President Morgan challenged the graduates to a life of service not only in the profession of teaching but in general living, pointing out that as people live and teach today so will the future be tomorrow.

Commencement Musical Events

As a climax to Alumni Day, a capacity audience in Straughn Hall witnessed the first performance of an opera, "Many Moons", produced by Mr. John B. Little and Mr. Joseph Golz of the Music Education Department. The unique production was based on a short story by James Thurber, with whose permission it was used. Roles were sung by members of the Opera Workshop group and the entire opera, voices, music, costumes and settings were of the highest quality and thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

On Sunday afternoon, May 24, the Symphonic Band, directed by Mr. Bertram W. Francis, gave a fine performance in Straughn Hall. A special feature was a concert march written and conducted by Luther Hoffman, '53, drum major of the Band. The 85-piece band was called back for three encores by a large audience.

Sunday evening, Mrs. Christine Lewis, soprano, and Mr. John Doyle, pianist, presented a Faculty Recital. Miss Florence Borkey accompanied Mrs. Lewis, who sang Italian and Modern 20th Century selections. Mr. Doyle played numbers by Bach, Beethoven, Rachmaninoff, Liszt and Chopin.

Delphics Meet Again

About thirty members of the Delphic Fraternity (1899-1915) of the Mansfield Normal School met at the Mansfield Baptist Church Saturday evening, May 23rd. A banquet was followed by singing and reminiscences. Those present were:

Lester Albert, Susquehanna; Dr Will George Butler, Blossburg; J. V. Brownell, Washington, D. C.; Harry Brink, New York City; Dr. Joseph C. Doane, Philadelphia; Dr. John H. Doane, Wilkes-Barre; Dean English, Wellsboro; Eugene Frutiger, Liberty; Ulna Goodall, Harrisburg; Fred Hardy, Port Allegany; John Jaquish, Tunkhannock; Dr. Raymond Robinson, Harrisburg; Allen Rockwell, State College; Horace Roff, Binghamton; Walter W. Strait, Olean; Lewis Sindlinger, Elmira; Clarence Stewart, Elmira; Everett Stephens, Carbondale.

Also: Stephen Beach, Edwin S. Coles, Percy A. Coles, Elmer Cornwell, Kimble Marvin, Everett Nash, Earl Shaw, Walter Shaw, Myron Webster, Harold Strait, Ernest Stuart and Arthur J. Dann, a guest, all of Mansfield.

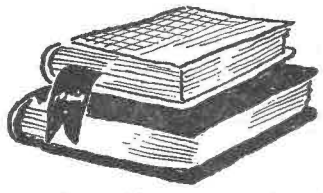
Over 600 alumni were present for Alumni Day on May 23, 1953. The day began at 10:00 a. m. with registration, followed at 11:00 by the annual Alumni Meeting. The program included: Invocation, Dr. George A. Retan, '03; Business session conducted by Dr. Raymond Robinson, '13, Chairman, and Mrs. Clara Treat McIntosh, '13, Secretary. Vice-Chairmen were Dr. Joseph Doane, '03, Mr. Robert Nearing, '23, and Dr. Lloyd Straughn, '28. The Class of 1953 was presented to the Alumni Association by their sponsor, Dr. Newell Schappelle, and welcomed by Edwin S. Coles, '00, President of the Association. Music was furnished by the Renaissance Singers, Miss Clarissa Randall, Coach. Leon Lunn, '36, spoke for the Association and Miss Maryon Farrer, '18, spoke for the Alumni Clubs. President Morgan greeted the group, followed by the singing of "Mansfield Hail."

A delicious luncheon at 1:00 p. m., was followed by class reunions and the Alumni Exhibit in the Lounge of the new Men's Dormitory. The Exhibit was arranged by Mrs. Bertha Palmer, Miss Stella Doane and Karl Van Norman, and drew many favorable comments from the alumni and guests. The Alumni Association's collection of pictures and other items was augmented by over 100 pictures loaned by Karl Van Norman. Also included in the exhibit were graduation dresses from 45 to 80 years old.

President and Mrs. Morgan were at home to alumni and guests at 4:00 p. m. at their home. About 300 enjoyed a very pleasant time at this annual event.

Back for their 50th class reunion were: Dr. Joseph Doane, Philadelphia, and Dr. George A. Retan, Mansfield. Back for their 60th reunion were: Mrs. E. Louise Adams Brophy, Mansfield; Dr. Fred G. Davis, Philadelphia; Frank A. McCarty, Riverdale, N. Y.; Mrs. Bertha Presho Baker, Genesee; Mrs. Mabel Shipman Shaw, Mansfield; Mrs. Jessie Stilwell Gaige, Millerton; and Rev. John T. Williammee, Wrightsville.

New Alumni Directory



Many favorable comments have come from Mansfieldians regarding the first Alumni Directory printed since 1941. This fine work is due to the efforts of many persons, but special appreciation is due Miss Helen Wood, Mansfield '18, for her continued and untiring efforts to bring this 126-page volume to the widely scattered Mansfield alumni.

Salute to Alumni In Armed Forces

Since the inception of Mansfield State Teachers College, her alumni have answered the call to duty in the Armed Forces when the need arose, and so it is today with sons and daughters of Mansfield serving round the globe.

Wherever you are in this time of crisis, the Mansfieldian salutes you and wishes you well. And to the families of those who have made the supreme sacrifice, may God be ever near to sustain you.

President Morgan Honored by Scouts

President James G. Morgan was awarded the Silver Antelope award for distinguished service to boyhood at the Annual Meeting of Region Three, Boy Scouts of America, held November 6-8, 1952, at Buck Hill Falls. Region Three comprises Virginia, Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland and Pennsylvania. The award represents noteworthy service of exceptional character to boyhood by registered Scouters of the Region. President Morgan had previously been awarded the Silver Beaver for his services to the General Sullivan Council. He has been in Scouting since 1913, serving from Scoutmaster up to Council President. At present he is Council Chairman of Leadership Training, member of the Executive Board and Council Representative to the National Council.

Mansfield Graduate Bowdoin President

Dr. James Stacy Coles

Since the last issue of the Mansfieldian, Mansfield State Teachers College has been honored by having one of its graduates named as President of Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. James Stacy Coles, of the class of 1934, known as "Stacy" or "Spike", was installed as president of Bowdoin last October, in colorful ceremonies that attracted representatives from over a hundred colleges in the northeast.

After his graduation in January, 1934, he went to Columbia for advanced work, and received his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees there. While attending Columbia he taught in the City College of New York for three years. After getting his Ph. D. degree in chemistry, he taught at Middlebury College in Vermont, until the war broke out, when he was called to Woods Hole, Mass., to take charge of the underwater explosives research being conducted at the Oceanographic Institute.

Following the war he went to Brown Unniversity as head of one of the departments of chemistry, and in 1951 was made acting dean of men, also. In May of 1952, he was chosen as president of Bowdoin.

Stacy Coles is quite well related to Mansfield State Teachers College:

His grandfather, James Emerson Rose, was a graduate in the class of 1867.

His uncle, J. W. Rose, in 1890

His father, Edwin Stacy Coles, in 1900.

His uncle, Percy A. Coles, in 1902.

His aunt, Inez Coles Leonard, 1908

His aunt, Alene Coles Seccomb, in 1911.

His aunt, Pearl Lauderbach Coles, was a member of the Music faculty.

His aunt, Dr. Anna Rose Hawkes, was on the faculty from 1912 to 1918.

His cousin, Brunswick W. Leonard graduated in 1939.

Campus Briefs

The new buildings — Men's Dormitory, Science Building and Kitchen— are now in operation.

North Hall is being treated to a new roof and new paint in the Dining Room and corridors.

Placement of graduates is high for all departments.

The Faculty Association, under the presidency of Miss Helen Dieffenbach had a productive year. Next year with Miss Ruth Hughes as president should be equally good.

Nurses from the Hahnemann Hospital, Scranton, and Robert Packer Hospital, Sayre, will attend Mansfield again this year for one semester each. This year's classes will number 30 and 70 respectively.

In music circles, the Band directed by Bertram Francis and the Orchestra directed by Sigmund Michota have been busy with concerts on campus and in nearby communities. The College Advanced Chorus, directed by Daniel Border, has also made several appearances. In March the State Collegiate Orchestra Festival was held at the College.

President Morgan and other members of the staff have filled a number of speaking engagements this year, including many high school commencements.

Dean and Mrs. Samuel Long are now at home in their new apartment on the first floor of the new Men's Dormitory.

The Offices of Public Relations and Veterans Counseling have been combined under the direction of Fred A. Jupenlaz.

Department Heads Change

Due to the retirement of Dr. George A. Retan, long a figure of distinction on Mansfield's campus, Richard M. Wilson, Mansfield '35 succeeded to the position of Director of Campus Schools, Student Teaching and Placement. Coincident with this change, Clarence L. Hunsicker became Director of Elementary Education and Dr. Clarence R. Mutchler assumed the directorship of Secondary Education. In the Secondary Education Department, Dr. Elizabeth M. Swan and Mr. Leonard K. Beyer became Heads of the English and Science Sections, respectively.

1954 Alumni Day Plans Announced

PRESIDENT JAMES G. MORGAN

PRESIDENT MORGAN HONORED BY AMERICAN LEGION

In appreciation of his outstanding service to his community, state and nation, the American Legion, Department of Pennsylvania, has awarded to President James G. Morgan their Distinguished Service Certificate.

The award was made last July at the Department of Pennsylvania Convention in Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall, Pittsburgh, Pa., by Department Commander, Herbert G. Walker. The two other award recipients were Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, President of Pennsylvania State University, and Major Thomas F. Martin, Chief of the State Police Training Center, Hershey, Pennsylvania.

Around 3,000 Legionaires and Auxiliary members attended the award ceremony along with many distinguished Legion and government guests, including Governor John S. Fine.

The college and the community of Mansfield may be justly proud of the prestige and honor brought to them through the achievements of President Morgan.

The local post of the American Legion honored President Morgan at a testimonial dinner on Tuesday, March 23, 1954, at which time Department Commander Paul R. Selecky was guest speaker.

Plans are now under way for the 1954 Alumni Day program, May 22, 1954. Arrangements are in the hands of President Morgan, Edwin Coles, Alumni Association President, Helen Wood, Alumni Secretary, and Maryon Farrer, Chairman of the Alumni Relations Committee. The program is as follows:

"JIM" McCONNELL

"JIM McCONNELL NAMED TO FEDERAL POST

The Class of 1912 of the Mansfield State Normal is justly proud of James "Jim" McConnell of Ithaca, N. Y., who was recently appointed Head of the Commodity Stabilization Service (C.S.S.) of the Department of Agriculture. McConnell is well qualified for this position, being not only a farmer of note, but also affiliated with numerous activities in or closely allied with the agriculture field. To mention a few: Executive Vice-President of the Grange League Federation (G.L.F.), largest marketing cooperative in the world; Cornell University Trustee, Board Member of Farm Foundation, national agriculture research organization; General Manager of the Federal Exchange; and recently, Adviser to Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Jim and his wife have three married children. He owns several farms in the Mansfield area, where he makes his summer home.

ELLSWORTH OBOURN JOINS UNESCO PROGRAM

Dr. Ellsworth S. Obourn ('19) has been appointed to take charge of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization's program for the study of science education and the improvement of science teaching in the member nations of UNESCO, effective April 1, 1954. Obourn is widely known in the field of science education. He was for 10 years Secretary of the National Assoc. for Research in Science Teaching; member of the National Science Committee of the N.E.A.; member of the Committee of the N.E.A. who prepared the 46th yearbook entitled "Science Education in American Schools"; member of the Physics Committee of the College Entrance Examination Board; member and past director of the National Science Teachers Association. He has published textbooks and books on teaching of science, his last publication being "Science in Everyday Life."

Last year Dr. Obourn served as technical expert and adviser at Bangkok, Thailand, under a UNESCO Technical Assistance project.

Ellsworth and his wife will be in Paris after April 1, at 19 Avenue Kleber.

GREETINGS TO ALUMNI

At present plans are underway at the College for the alumni activities of 1954. Alumni are always welcome at Mansfield but we especially invite you to return for Alumni Day to enjoy the activities and share in the fine spirit which is traditionally Mansfield's.

The Steuben County Alumni Club, our newest held a most enthusiastic meeting in Corning, N.Y., in the fall. Spring club meetings scheduled are Chemung County Club, April 22, Mark Twain Hotel, Elmira, N.Y.; Lycoming County Club, April 28, Lycoming Hotel, Williamsport, Pa.; and Philadelphia Area Club, April 30, Haverford Hotel, Haverford, Pa.

Another column will give you the Alumni Day activities. Tickets for the luncheon are secured at registration time and tables are reserved for anniversary classes. Room reservations in the dormitory may be made with Miss Ellamae Jackson, Dean of Women

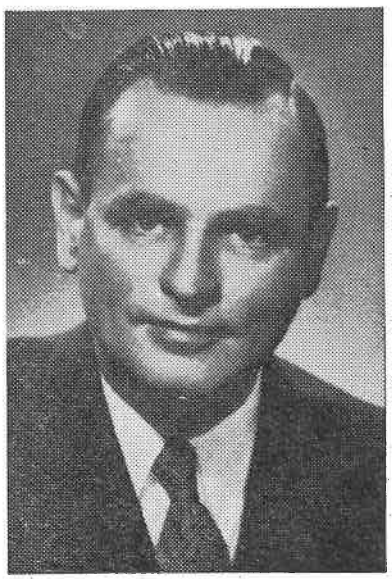
Cordially,
Maryon Farrer, '18
Chairman, Alumni Relations Committee.

1954 COMMENCEMENT PLANS

The Rev. Herbert Harrison, Minister of the First Methodist Church, Olean, New York, will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon to the 1954 graduating class on Sunday ,May 23, at 10:30 a.m. in Straughn Auditorium. Special music will be provided for this service by the Music Education Departmene.

At the Commencement exercises, Monday, May, 24, at 10:00 a.m., Attorney Donald V. Hock will speak on the subject "Aladdin Had a Lamp". Attorney Hock, a former mayor of Allentown, Pennsylvania, is an alumnus of Muhlenberg College and the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

Ninety-five seniors will receive Bachelor of Science degrees at this ceremony.



DONALD V. HOCK

FELLOW ALUMNI:

On behalf of the Executive Committee of M.S.T.C. Alumni Association I wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to those members who have been paying their dues so regularly.

Your Association is not engaged in any financial campaign, as is the tendency with most colleges. We have been able to get along with the dues that are paid and also to print a directory. This can be brought up to date again in a year or so, if we continue to have the loyal support of our members.

The Alumni Loan Fund has money to loan to worthy students while they are attending Mansfield. If you know of anyone who needs such assistance, please write to President Morgan.

Edwin S. Coles, President

BELOVED TEACHER SUCCUMBS

Alumni, young and old, mourned the death of a master teacher, when Miss Dorothy F. Hutchinson died October 7, 1953 at Olean, New York, following a long illness.

A graduate of the 1912 class at Mans- Normal, she later received her B. S. Degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1925 and her M. S. Degree from the same institution in 1934.

Ever mindful of the need for in-service training she spent several summer sessions at various universities and colleges.

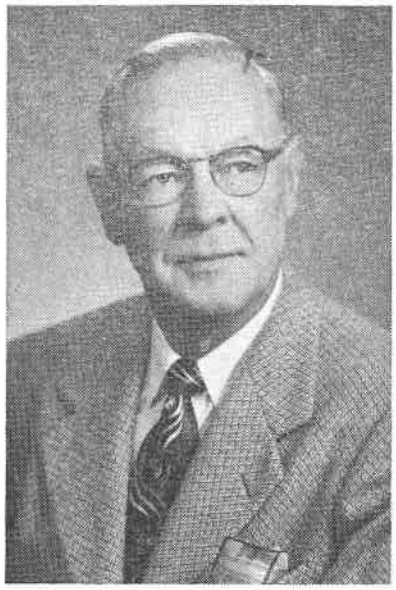
Miss Hutchinson spent 39 years in the school rooms of this state—28 of those years were given to the supervision of 4th grade pupils in Mansfeild's Laboratory school. We say "given" because Dorothy Hutchinson actually gave her life to the work of the teacher.

Her civic mindness caused her to offiliate herself with numerous church, club and municipal activities.

Her death leaves sorrow in the hearts of many, but memories of her great worth live on.

ALUMNI RECEIVE COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARDS

In 1951 the Mansfield Businessmen's Asso.iation established a Community Service Award to honor one local person in Mansfield each year. Such award wou'd be given to a man or woman of outstanding ability who has contributed long and valued service to the town and its people.



HERBERT G. PETERSON

EDWIN S. COLES

Herbert G. Peterson ('14) was the recipient of the award in 1952. In 1953 Edwin S. Coles ('00) was honored in like manner. Both men have served as President of the M.S.T.C. Alumni Association and are active in community activities of a wide and varied nature.

During this year, Edward C Russell ('12) was honored by the Mansfield Borough Council at the close of his tenure as Burgess and in recognition of his numerous other civic contributions.

EDWARD C. RUSSELL

AROUND CAMPUS

On April 6, the College sponsored "A Day at College for High School Students", which was very well attended by students from the service area. Mrs. Elizabeth B. Morales, Director of the Home Economics Department, was general chairman. The day's activities consisted of classroom visitations, guided tours, assembly program, luncheon and social hour.

May 7, the College will be the scene of a Teen-Age Traffic Safety Conference on the campus, under the local chairmanship of M. E. "Spots" Decker, Atheltic Director, with J. Andrew Morrow, Superintendent of Bradford County Schools as area chairman. Similiar conferences will take place on all State Teachers College campuses on that date.

On May 13-16, Mansfield S.T.C and Elmira College, Elmira, N. Y., will hold a four-day Festival of Contemporary Arts at the Corning Glass Cener, Corning, N. Y. Miss Marjorie Brooks, Director of the Music Department, is general chairman for Mansfield, assisted by Mr. Joseph Golz, and other Music staff members. A fine program is planned and alumni in the Corning area are urged to attend one of the performances.

Alumni will be interested to know that several maintenance projects are underway on the campus: new roof for Straughn Auditorium, exterior painting and repairs for North Hall, two new enclosed fire escapes for North Hall, and painting of water standpipe.

The faculty members have been unusually busy this year attending career days and conferences in area schools, where they spoke and advised prospective students relative to the various curricula offered at Mansfield..

The Sixth Annual Invitation High School Basketball Tournament was a decided success, with 24 high school teams in attendence. The total distance travelled by the teams during the 8-day event was 4701 miles

Since last year the Business office of the College has taken on new personnel with Mr. J. Dale Stahlman of Elkland replacing Mr. Wayne Kelts as Business Manager and Mr. Morgan Scranton, Wellsboro, replacing Mr. W. Raymond Miller as Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings.

The Artists Course this year featured the Trapp Family Singers, Mr. Max Landow, pianist, and "Fiesta in Haiti", all of which were well received. College Players productions and professional Assemblies were also very successful this season.

Greetings! Alumni.....

This issue of the Mansfieldian is another one of interest to our Alumni. Great credit should be given to Fred Jupenlaz, the editor of this as well as previous issues, and we will continue the publication once or twice a year, as our funds warrant.

Speaking of credit, we should not forget the fine work that Maryon Farrer is doing with the various Alumni clubs in New York, Philadelphia, and nearby cities and counties. If there is no club near you, why not inquire about Mansfield Alumni in your vicinity and see if you cannot organize one.

Credit is also due to Helen Wood, the General Alumni Secretary, for the good work she is doing in keeping the address of the Alumni as near correct as possible. She is asking for addresses in this issue, so help her if you can.

I would like again to thank our loyal members who have paid their dues of only $1 per year, and enabled us to do what we have. We have to pay 2c each for postals to be sent to over 6,000 Alumni each year, as well as for printing and addressing them. Your Association printed a new Alumni Directory, and will have to do it again sometime. It is the dues of contributing members that enables us to do this, and give you this Mansfieldian.

Best wishes to all of you,

EDWIN S. COLES,

President General Alumni Association.

600 ATTEND ALUMNI DAY

Commencement Weekend at the College began with Alumni Day, Saturday, May 22, with about 600 alumni and guests participating in the various activities of the day. Contrary to the usual turn of events, the weather for the entire day was conducive to good attendance for all functions.

The Alumni Meeting was opened at 11:00 a. m. by Dr. Tom Miller, '24, Oswego, N. Y., who acted as Chairman. The Invocation was given by Mrs. Lula Barton Dodd, '94, Mansfield, Pa. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Elizabeth Youngkin Beach, '24, Mansfield, Secretary.

Warren Miller, '19, Mansfield, gave the Nominating Committee report. A unanimous ballot was cast for the following officers: 1954-1957 Term.

President - Edwin S. Coles, '00, Mansfield, Pa.

First Vice-President - Richard M. Wilson, '35, Mansfield, Pa.

Second Vice-President - Warren L Miller, '19, Mansfield, Pa.

Directors: 1954-57 - Leon E. Lunn, '36, Mansfield, Pa.; Joe Bedenk, '19, State College, Pa.; and H. Austin Snyer, '34, Sayre, Pa.

Officers for 1955 Alumni Day:

Chairman: Judge Forrest L. Hubbard, Baker, Oregon, '05

Vice-Chairman: Don McClelland, '25, Waverly, N. Y.

Vice-Chairman: Dr. J. Edward Smith, '25, Doylestown, Pa.

Vice-Chairman: Dr. William R. Straughn, Jr., '35, Chapel Hill, N. C.

Secretary: Marion Bisbee Clark '25, Mansfield, Pa.

The Class of 1954 was presented to the Association by their adviser, Mr. Sigmund Michota. President Coles welcomed the class into membership in the General Alumni Association and Myron Wartella, class President, responded.

(A large majority of the '54 class have already paid their alumni dues.)

Music consisted of three original compositions by Edna Cogswell Otis, '04, who is the daughter of the late Hamlin E. Cogswell, one-time director of the Music Department. Miss Doris Reigle sang a soprano solo, "A Spring Birthday"; Brian Doud played a violin solo "A Summer Evening," and a women's ensemble sang "In Sound and In Stillness", all of which were throughly enjoyed by the audience. Mrs. Otis was present for this program, as well as the 50th anniversary of her class.

William Shearer, '24 Corning, N. Y., was the speaker of the day. He is the President of the Steuben County Alumni Club. His remarks were most timely and well received by the audience.

Miss Maryon Farrer reviewed the events of the past year in the Alumni Clubs.

Dr. Miller then called upon the anniversary classes to stand and asked a representative of each class to make a few remarks.

President James G. Morgan greeted the alumni and guests, welcoming them to the campus and mentioning a few matters of general interest to all.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Alma Mater, Mansfield Hail, written by alumnus Dr. Will George Butler,, '97.

Following the Alumni Luncheon in the college Dining Room, many visited the Exhibit in the Lounge of the Men's Dormitory. This exhibit was arranged by Miss Stella Doane, Mrs. Bertha Palmer and Karl Van Norman. Mr. Van Norman, '06, contributed more than 100 athletic pictures to the exhibit, while other alumni contributed various pictures and other articles to make one of the most complete exhibits ever displayed. The Committee deserves much credit for this fine feature of Alumni Day.

At 3:00 p. m.,class reunions were held in the Arts Building, while at the same hour the Ithaca College-Mansfield S. T. C. baseball game was witnessed by a large crowd who saw Mansfield lose 20-5 to an exceptionally strong visiting "nine".

President and Mrs. Morgan held open-house at 4:00 p. m., when some 300 alumni and guests enjoyed their gracious hospitality.

From all reports of visiting alumni the 1954 Weekend was greatly appreciated by all who were able to attend.

BACCALAUREATE

On Sunday morning, May 23, the Rev. Raymond M. O'Brien, Rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Elmira, New York, addressed the graduating class at the Baccalaurate Service. He spoke on "Who Is Man", pointing out that we can only gain success and happiness by knowing who we are, why we are here and where we are heading. The inspirational address was much appreciated by the graduates, parents and friends.

Special music was provided by the College Choir directed by Mr. Daniel Border, and Miss Florence Borkey, organist.

The Invocation, Scripture Reading and Benediction were given by the Rev. J. Daniel Stover, Rector, St. James Episcopal Church, Mansfield.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

The 1954 Alumni Day and the 89th Commencement are now written into the history of Mansfield. It is always a real pleasure to have so many alumni and particularly the anniversary classes return to their Alma Mater, re-live the happy memories of their student days and renew old friendships. It is our earnest hope that your brief stay on campus was a pleasant and happy one and that you will plan to re-visit your College whenever it is possible for you to do so.

Again, I desire to thank the Mansfield Clubs for the hospitality and friendly reception afforded Mrs. Morgan and myself during the past year and we are delighted to join with the clubs at their annual meetings.

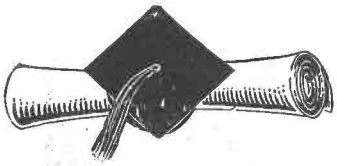
The alumni have been beneficiaries of free public schools and a Normal School or Teachers College education subsidized largely by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It would naturally follow that the plight of our nation's schools would be of major concern to all of you. Our schools are faced by three types of shortages that need immediate attention.

There is a shortage of classroom space, finanical and social rewards for teaching and of high calibre teachers. The first two shortages are in large measure the result of the third. No matter how devoted teachers are, they will not indefinitely tolerate overcrowded classes and inadequate compensation. We must recognize that the teaching profession does not have the status, the respect and honor of the general public that it deserves. Children taught without adequately prepared, truly inspired and devoted teachers will not only be stunted in their personal lives but in service to their country as well.

As citizens and parents, you can act to provide school facilities that expand with demand. You can see that teachers' compensation is in keeping with the position of trust to which many teachers dedicate a lifetime. Only such conditions will attract the best young women and men so badly needed in increasing numbers to teach our rapidly growing school population. Inform yourself of the school conditions in your home community; become active in organizations of home and school; support or serve on boards of education; and work to see that school bond issues are thoroughly understood and supported by your community.

Do this and you will help to provide needed protection for the present of education and the future of your nation, for what is in preparation today governs to a great extent what the tomorrow will be.

JAMES G. MORGAN, President



89th COMMENCEMENT

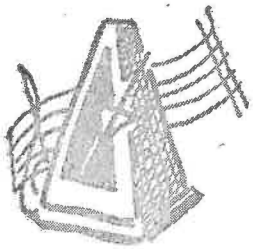
On Monday, May 24, the Weekend was brought to a close with the Commencement Exercises. Following the Academic Procession, with organ accompaniment by Mr. John B. Little, the Invocation was given by the Rev. John Ross Hays, Minister, Mansfield Presbyterian Church. Miss Doris Reigle, '54, sang two soprano solos, "Sea Shell" by Carl Engel and "Corals" by Bryceson Treharne.

Attorney Donald V. Hock, former mayor of Allentown, Pa., gave a very interesting and timely address, "Aladdin Had A Lamp". Mr. Hock's wide experience in the field of law and politics helped make his remarks most entertaining and educational. Following the address, Dean Herbert E. Manser presented the graduates, while President Morgan conferred the degrees upon 96 members of the class. There were 28 Secondary, 29 Elementary, 20 Home Economics and 19 Music graduates.

President Morgan then addressed a few remarks to the graduates, placing special emphasis on the careers of three retiring faculty members, Mrs. Edna P. Marsh, Miss Jessie I. Grigsby and Miss Margaret T. O'Brien, as examples toward which the 1954 graduates might well look in beginning careers in teaching.

Following the singing of the Alma Mater, the Rev. Mr. Hays offered the Benediction.

Two members of the College Board of Trustees, Mr. Olin W. Evans, Chairman, and Mr. Walter W. Swimley, Vice Chairman, had sons graduating. The fathers were here to present their sons with diplomas, which made an unusual feature of the day's activities.



COMMENCEMENT MUSICAL EVENTS

On Sunday afternoon, May 23, the College Symphonic Band, directed by Mr. Bertram Francis, presented a fine program in Straughn Auditorium This concert is a welcome feature of the Weekend and was enjoyed by a large audience this year. Numbers by Kenneth Alford, Tchaikowsky, Robert Bennett, and Richard Rodgers were among those especially enjoyed.

Sunday evening at 8:00 p. m. Mrs. Christine Lewis, soprano; Mr. John B. Little, pianist, and Miss Florence Borkey, accompanist, presented a Faculty Recital. Mrs. Lewis sang numbers from 20th century composers and a group of Italian songs. Mr. Little played from Beethoven and Schubert.

LET'S HEAR FROM YOU

Alumni will notice very little or no news from some classes. This is due to either modesty or lack of time on the part of individual members, because we cannot print news we do not have. Enough said!

ALUMNI CLUB NEWS

By Maryon Farrer, '18 Chairman, Alumni Relations Committee

CHEMUNG

In September, 1953 the Chemung County Club met at the Recreation Center, Harris Hill. A very well attended and profitable gathering welcomed the college guests: Miss Maryon Farrer and Miss Jessie Grigsby.

Gordon Gray was elected president and Derna Carley Smith, secretary.

STEUBEN

During the month of October 1953, the Steuben County Club had their meeting at the Baron Steuben Hotel, Corning, at which time the college was brought to the group by President and Mrs. Morgan. President Morgan spoke relative to the place of alumni clubs and also touched on many items of interest to the group. Steuben's president and secretary are William Shearer and Walter Forrest, respectively.

LYCOMING

April 28, 1954 marked the Lycoming County Club's meeting at the Lycoming Hotel, Williamsport, Pennsylvania. President and Mrs. Morgan were guests of the Club. A musical program by the Renaissance Singers of Mansfield State Teachers College, coached by Miss Clarissa Randall, was enjoyed. About forty persons were in attendance. A Look In The Mirror

Perhaps it's time for some of us to take a quick glance in the looking-glass of our association with the mother institution, and to do a bit of evaluating relative to our particular status as an alumnus of M.S.T.C.

Webster gives several analogies of the term alumnus, including such statements as, "a member of a school or college class that has been graduated"; a "foster child," and I think especially appropriate, "to nourish".

The old Normal, now the State Teachers College, was and is steeped in hallowed tradition from which we all have derived a greater or lesser degree of nurture—material, spiritual and intellectual. It's very satisfying to be an alumnus of an institution such as this, to be considered a "foster child", for just as certain as man is born of woman so are ideals, inspiration and industry born of honest labor.

I wonder, is "to nourish" a one-way street with all the nourishment coming our way? I am inclined to believe the road is wide enough for a bit of traffic in the other direction whereby you and I, as alumni, may bring as well as take away.

If while in college, we lost a bit of our ignorance, a fair share of our prejudices, a few of our illusions; if we widened our horizons, became less disturbed about economic than about spiritual poverty, more sensitive to the needs and aspirations of others; and above all, if college helped us to analyze ourselves and to face the findings, we can look back at the experiences and forward into the mirror, breathing the unspoken prayer, "Thank you, God, for the opportunity someone else made for me to become an alumnus."

McCONNELL ADVANCED

James A. McConnell, '12, Mansfield's illustrious statesman, has been appointed by President Eisenhower to the post of Assistant Secretary of Agriculture. McConnell is no stranger to these columns, and it is with pride that we follow the progress of "Jim" in his governmental advancements.

ALUMNI CLUB NEWS

The Lycoming County Club met Monday, April 18, 1955 at Williamsport, Pa. Florence Honeywell Watkins, '20, is Club President.

The Sullivan County Alumni Club is planning a meeting for May, 1955. Joseph Frawley is President of this group.

PHILIP LOVEJOY

COMMENCEMENT PLANS

Philip Lovejoy past secretary of Rotary International, has been secured as Commencement speaker for 1955. Mr. Lovejoy is in wide demand as a speaker and is noted as an educator, world traveler and executive He served on the central administrative staff for Rotary for nearly 23 years, 10½ of which he was General Secretary, a position from which he retired in December 1952. He has been decorated by the President of Chili and the King of Denmark. In 1945 he was a consultant to the United States delegation at the United Nations meeting in San Francisco.

Mr Lovejoy will address the Mansfield graduating class on the subject, "Skyscrapers."

Special music for the Commencement program and the Baccalaureate service will be provided by the Music Education Department.

GREETINGS TO THE ALUMNI

Your Alma Mater extends to all her sons and daughters, and especially the anniversary classes, a since invitation to return and renew old friendships and acquaint themselves with the needed changes that have been made to the physical facilities of the College.

We earnestly direct your attention to the appeal, the first of its kind, that is made elsewhere in this issue, by the President of the Student Council for your support and contributions to the Student Union Fund. This is a very worthy and much needed project and is one initiated by the student body. The Student Union will be located in what has been known as the Y Hut, a landmark many alumni remember. It will be renovated and equipped with a soda fountain, snack bar and dance floor.

Your College was last accredited by the Middle State Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in 1942. A revisitation by a committee of this Association was made in March. The visitation contributed to a thorough self-analysis of your College that will aid us in correcting our weaknesses. I know you will be interested in the following statement made in the preliminary report of the visitation committee.

"Some of the outstanding features at Mansfield include a friendly co-operative spirit in which all the staff approach the problem of teacher education; the professional attitude of the staff; the enthusiasm in which they do their work; and their loyalty to the College. This is not only true of the instructional staff, but also of the administration and non-instructional staff."

—JAMES G. MORGAN.

GEORGE W. CASS

The Mansfieldian and College pay tribute to a former faculty member who has passed the portals of earthly classrooms to enter the supreme graduate school immortal. George W. Cass was a beloved member of the Normal and College faculty for 34 years and it is impossible to estimate the number of lives influenced by his contacts, both through classes and extra-curricular sponsorship.

He was born May 11, 1879, and was educated at Elkland High School. Mansfield Normal and Dickinson College. He began teaching at Mansfield in 1907 and retired in 1941. He saw the present State Teachers College grow from an institution with a two-years course to that of a full four-year degree granting college.

The college yearbook of 1926, which was dedicated to him, has this to say concerning their friend and teacher:

"Since appreciation is an intangible quality, it can be expressed only through some outward token Therefore, we, the class of 1926, as a concrete symbol of our appreciation for the guidance of our sponsor, do respectfully dedicate this book to George W. Cass."

MANSFELD GRADUATE NAMED EDINBORO PRESIDENT

Dr. Thomas R. Miller, '24, assumed the position of President at Edinboro State Teachers College in September. He succeeds Dr. L. R. Van Houten, retired. Dr Miller was formerly Dean of the State Teachers College, Oswego, N. Y. He graduated from Towanda High School, Mansfield, and Syracuse University, where he obtained his Ph.D. He has had wide experiences in the various levels of education in Pennsylvania and New York State and has made outstanding contributions to professional and civic affairs, most particularly in Oswego. Mansfield is very proud that one of her graduates attained this high position in the field of Teacher Education in the Commonwealth.

Dr. Miller presided at the Alumni Association Meeting last May as many of the alumni will recall

Student Union Plans

TO THE ALUMNI:

For some time there has been a pressing need for a Student Union at Mansfield State Teachers College. A Student Union would be a place on campus similar to a soda bar where the college students can socialize. It would contain such accommodations as a snack bar, soda fountain, and a dance floor.

We have undertaken this project and are making it a joint student-alumni effort. We have solicited funds from the alumni back to 1925; and we have solicited the present student body for $5.00 each.

At the present time we are still about $1500 short of our goal. Since the alumni are seldom given an opportunity to remember their alma mater, which no doubt still occupies a fond place in their hearts, perhaps they will want to help us with this project.

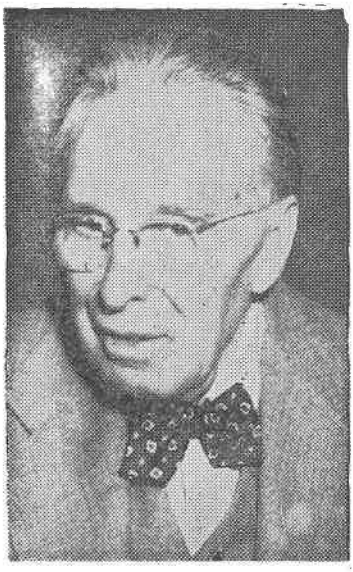
If you care to make a contribution, please send it to: Student Union Fund, State Teachers College, Mansfield, Pennsylvania.

Sincerely yours,
THOMAS HALLORAN,
President 1954-55 Student Council.

BALDWIN VISITS MIDDLE EAST

Jay A. Balwin, '20, Treasurer of the Near East College Association, is visiting several colleges in that far-away area which are connected with the Association. The main purpose of the visit is to establish a uniform accounting system in the various institutions, among which are: American College for Girls and Robert College for Men, both in Istanbul; American Hospital, Istanbul; American University in Beirut, and colleges in Athens and Thessaloniki. Mrs. Baldwin will accompany Jay on this business-pleasure trip which will take about 3 months.

Jay obtained his Master's degree at Pennsylvania State and has had wide experience in education as well as being a certified public accountant His home is in Valley Stream N. Y.



DR. WILL GEORGE BUTLER

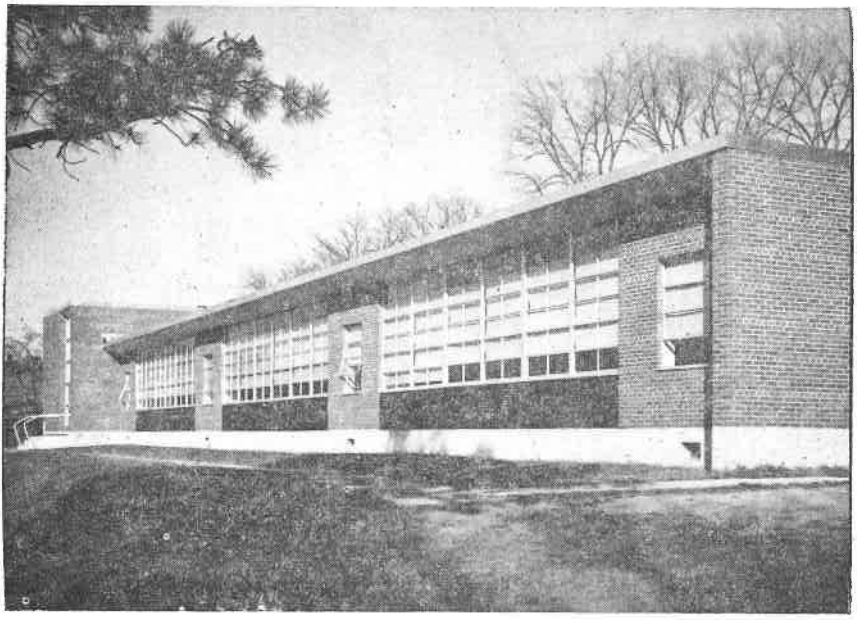
The passing of Dr. Will George Butler, '97, leaves M.S.T.C. alumni and friends with a sense of loss, but at the same time a feeling of gratitude for having known one of his ability and distinction.

Dr Butler was born in Blossburg January 31 1876, in the house where he spent most of his life. He attended Blossburg schools Mansfield Normal, Chicago Musical College and New York University

Space does not permit a complete resume of his accomplishments, but let it suffice to say that he was a most talented man, in music, art and literature, and a fine leader We at Mansfield remember him not only as a friend and former colleague, but also as the composer of our alma-mater, "Mansfield, Hail!'

FORMER NURSE DIES

Mrs. Irving Washburn, formerly Mrs. Elizabeth Tuthill, died at Dover, New Jersey, February 8, 1955. She will be remembered as the College Nurse during 1913-15.



New Science Building

WHAT'S DOING ON THE HILL

Students and townspeople enjoyed a special treat on November 30 when the College was host to the Indiana University Singers and Symphony Orchestra, directed by Dean W. C Bain and Frank St. Leger.

The Opera Workshop, directed by Mr. Joseph Golz, delighted audiences in Straughn Auditorium, at Troy, Pa., at Alfred University, and at the P.M.E.A. Convention in Harrisburg, with a program entitled "Five Miniatures". The program was on the usual high quality we have come to expect from Mr. Golz and his students and it was repeated at Mansfield by request.

The Artists Course program selected this year by Miss Clarissa Randall and her committee were well received by large audiences. Artists featured were: Wilma Hoyle Jensen, organist; Frances Magnes, violinist; and the Salzburg Marionettes.

The Misses Elizabeth Allen and Sarah Drum, advisers to the College Players, came through again this year with masterful productions of "Here We Come Gathering" and "The Merchant of Venice". The latter production was given a special performance for high school students. Students belonging to the Players not only act but also have opportunity to participate in all phases of play production.

A new enclosed fire escape is being constructed for North Hall by F. P. Case & Sons of Troy, Pa. under the direction of the General State Authority. The $60,000 structure will replace two open fire escapes.

In the Music Department, Benjamin Husted, '47, is assuming the duties of Department Director in the absence of Miss Marjorie Brooks, who is taking sabbatical leave. Miss Brooks is devoting the semester to travel and study in Italy.

Mr. Carmine Ficocelli, Conductor of the Orchestra and instructor in strings, has been elected Vice-President of the Pennsylvania Collegiate Orchestra

Directors Association. He was recently chosen Director for the Northwestern District Orchestra Festival held in Mercer, Pa.

Mr. John Baynes, ('40) Director of Music in Campus Schools, has been promoted to Captain in the Air Force Reserve.

Mr. Bertram Francis, Band Director, has been elected President of the Faculty Association for 1955-1956. He was chosen conductor for the District Band Festival held on the Mansfield Campus in April.

Other members of the Music Department have been active as soloists, Judges in musical events, guest conductors, etc.

"A Day at College for High School Seniors" was repeated this year on April 19. This cooperative event sponsored by the various departments of the college was very successful last year in bringing a large number of interested students to the campus. Mrs. Elizabeth Morales was general chairman. The Tioga County Science Fair with Dr. Clarence Mutchler as chiarman was held in conjunction with the "Day at College"

The Home Economics Department sponsored a conference on the campus March 19 for area home economics teachers supervisors and students of the college. The theme this year was "Planning for the All-Purpose Room."

The College was host to the annual spring meeting of the Tioga County Branch P.S.E.A. on March 12. P.S.E.A. State President Dan Scala addressed the group in the afternoon.

State Grange Lecturers from Pennsylvania and nearby states were welcomed to the College April 5-7 for their annual conference. They last visited Mansfield in 1952.

March 7-9 the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools sent a team of 5 men and 2 women to re-evaluate the college which was originally evaluated by the Association in 1942. Prior to the visitation the college prepared an intensive report of its activities The general feeling around campus is that a "check-up' such as this is good for everyone.

Basketball Winners

M.S.T.C sponsored the 7th Annual High School Invitation Basketball Tournament in March with 20 area schools participating. Sayre was the winner in Class B competition and St Bernard's in Class C. The Teams demonstrated a fine brand of basketball for the fans.

MANSFIELD ALUMNA
LEAVES MEMOIRS

Mrs. Helen Phillips Cruttenden, who passed away January 3, 1955, in Scranton, Pa., has left an interesting account of her life in manuscript form dedicated to her children. Mrs. Cruttenden was a member of the Mansfield Normal Class of 1890. While in the Normal, she met her husband, Edwin A. Cruttenden, then an instructor. Mr. Cruttenden was a member of the '83 class. He was for many years head of the Commercial Department at Scranton Technical High School. In 1924 Mrs. Cruttenden was appointed Assistant Probation Officer in the Common Pleas Court of Domestic Relations, Lackawanna County, a position she held 24 years. Her manuscript says "To me it was most interesting work as I was able to counsel and assist those in need and distress, from infants to old age." Her survivors include: Mrs. Grace Cruttenden Bailey, her sister-in-law, of Mansfield, Class of '91.

1954-55 "COURT SESSION"

The immedate sport season, basketball, is now history at Mansfield S.T.C. and in pleasant reminiscence we recall the six victories plus those five heart-breaking defeats—lost in the last few seconds by one or two points.

Due to the unfortunate accident of Coach Edward Rushin, "Ted" Besanceney, Mansfield '33, held the court reins this season with creditable success, giving the fans a high class brand of basketball. The team averaged 74.4 points per game in the 17 game schedule.

Next year's team will be minus only two of this season's stars, and with the reserve material developed this year, should break far into the win column.

FORMER FACULTY MEMBER DIES

Mrs. Emma Sebell Gaige, 77, of Williamsville N. Y., died September 3, 1954. She was a teacher in the Normal School 1911-13 in the Domestic Science Department. Most recently she was housemother in the Methodist Children's Home, Williamsville, N. Y.

Sorry I missed seeing you!

When I returned from spending the winter in California and looked over the list of those who returned for Alumni Day, I saw many names of former graduates whom I am sorry to have missed seeing.

I have not a perfect record for attending Alumni Day, but I have missed only few in the past half century.

I saw a few Alumni in California, and wish I could have seen more, but distances are so great and I could go places only through the kindness of others.

Mrs. Coles and I spent most of the winter with her sister, Anna L. Rose Hawkes, Dean of Students at Mills College, Oakland, who was a teacher at Mansfield from 1912 to 1919, and is known to many of our Alumni.

We spent the Christmas vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hilsdorf at South Laguna. Mrs. Hilsdorf will be remembered as Georgia Hoag, a teacher in the Music Department.

We called on Mrs. Hermon Fordyce, at Los Gatos. She was Ina Barton of the class of 1896.

We spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Amos Reese, who have retired after a successful teaching career in California. Amos Reese graduated in 1893, and was later a teacher and vice principal at Mansfield. Mrs. Reese graduated in 1906.

Edna Josephine Doane Bailey, 1897, came to Oakland last winter after spending many years in Australia, and we saw her several times.

In Reno we visited Beatrice Elliott Stevens, who has lived in Nevada since shortly after her marriage to Carleton Stevens.

We spent a weekend in Pasadena with Mrs. Esther Cogswell, widow of Bryce Cogswell, who graduated in 1912. He was a brother of Mrs. Herbert Grant, class of 1906.

Lawrence Dyer, class of 1924, called on us while we were visitng a cousin in Sherman Oaks. Lawrence lives in Burbank.

They were all interested in MSTC and inquired about other graduates.

It is very gratifying to find such loyalty to Mansfield among those who received their first higher education at our Alma Mater.

Alumni Day Well Attended

Alumni Day activities, May 21, 1955, brought between six and seven hundred alumni and friends to the campus, some spending only the one day, while others stayed for the "works"—Saturday through Monday a. m.

Registration in Straughn Auditorium was followed by the general alumni meeting under the very capable chairmanship of Don McClelland, '25. The nominating committee's report by Fred Jupenlaz, '31, resulted in the election of a slate of officers as follows:

President,

1955—1958, Edwin Coles, Class of 1900;

Directors,

1955—1958, Walter G. Clark, '09, Richard Lowe, '22 and Louise Palmer Harris, '30.

Alumni Day officers for 1956, John Hertz. '31, Chairman; Paul Jones, '26, Lester Albert, '16, and Robert Straughn, '36, Vice Chairmen; Mrs. Edna Larson Shelly, '36, Secretary.

The class of 1955 was presented to association by the sponsor, Mrs. Helen Lutes, and was welcomed by Dr. Richard Wilson, '35, association vice president. William Deakin, '55, class president responded.

Enjoyable musical members were rendered by the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Golz.

Mrs. Florence Honeywell Watkins, '20, spoke interestingly for the Association, and Miss Maryon Farrer, '18, gave a comprehensive account of the various alumni clubs, of which there are now twenty. She urged alumni to join clubs in their area, and where none exists. to assist in the creation of new ones.

Before the chairman called upon anniversary classes, he recognized earlier graduates present—Mrs. Grace Cruttenden Bailey, 91, Mrs. Edna Lou Adams Williamson Brophy and Mrs. Mabel Shipman Shaw, both from the Class of '93; Mrs. Lula Barton Dodd and Mrs. Sophronia Dayton Warner, both of '94.

Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Brophy have missed only two alumni days since '93, and Mrs. Bailey held the honor position of the earliest class member.

Following the recognition of the anniversary groups, President James G. Morgan made timely remarks as he welcomed the alumni and other guests to the campus.

Dr. Butler's "Mansfield Hail", brought the meeting to an appropriate close.

One sad note was the absence of Charles H. Lugg, '84, who died January 11, 1955.

The Alumni Luncheon in the College Dining Room was well attended, and was followed by usual "gab-fest" in the first floor lobby, with a gradual meandering of small groups toward

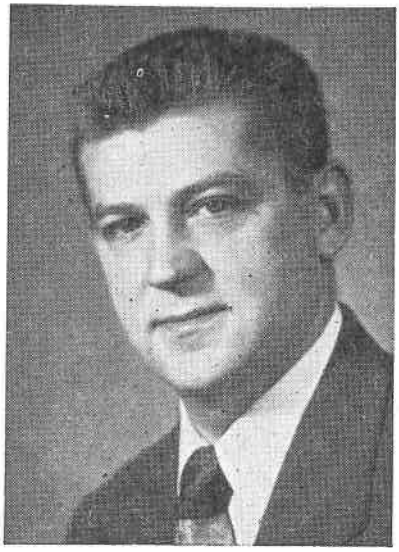
At 4:00 p. m. more than 300 alumni attended the tea at the home of President and Mrs. Morgan. This traditional event is always one of the day's high-lights.

COACH RUSHIN RESIGNS



Edward E. Rushin, assistant coach at Mansfield State Teachers College from 1950 to 1952, and head coach at the same institution since that time, has submitted his resignation to College President, James G. Morgan, who accepted it with regret. Coach Rushin's resignation from coaching and teaching came on the advice of his physicians and surgeons, who treated him since his accident last October. As most readers will recall, Mr. Rushin was very severely burned when a gas explosion destroyed his partially completed home on Brooklyn Street, Mansfield.

Mr. Rushin received his education at East Stroudsburg and New York University. He was a three-letter man at East Stroudsburg, where he played varsity football, 2 years of basketball and 1 year of baseball. He played one season of professional football with the San Francisco Clippers before entering Navy service, where he served 3 years as Chief Specialist.

He successfully coached at Sunbury, where he produced two championship teams and runners-up in basketball, and served as varsity backfield coach in football. The administration, faculty and students of the college regret the circumstances which have necessitated the departure of Coach Rushin and his fine family.

Greetings To The Alumni

The 1955 Alumni Day and the 90th Commencement are now a part of the history of the Mansfield Normal and Mansfield State Teachers College.. We were thrilled by the large number attending and the enthusiasm of those who returned; and were delighted by the response of the decennial classes. particularly the 50th and the 25th year classes. Many, who had not returned in the past few years, were pleased with the new buildings and the renovations to the physical plant, as well as the continued feeling of warm friendliness which is a tradition of their Alma Mater. This is best expressed by the following quotations from a letter we received from a member of the Class of 1925:

"To my wife and me Alumni Weekend was a thoroughly delightful experience. We were impressed with the tone and quality of the campus. Every thing appeared to be in shipshape: clean halls, walls, paths, washrooms, trim landscape and inviting spaciousness.

"We climbed to the silvery water tower and were thrilled by the scene below. We visited the new well-equipped science building and the tremendous new gymnasium, the latter a far cry from that huge old barn that I capered in and janitored many years ago. We had three fine meals in the college dining room. That is a real up-to-date kitchen you have.

"Above all was the friendliness and courtesy of all whom we met.'

Letters such as the above repay us at the college for the planning and effort that is necessary for a sucessful Commencement week-end.

My personal thanks to the Alumni Clubs for the gracious hospitality accorded Mrs. Morgan and myself during the year. We always look forward to this contact with the alumni with great pleasure.

In closing this brief message, may I again urge that you lend your financial support to the Student Union project? Please address your contributions, however large or small, to: Student Union Fund, State Teachers College, Mansfield, Pa.

"FOUR SCORE AND TEN"— 90TH COMMENCEMENT

Monday, May 23rd, at 10:00 a.m. the academic processional ushered in Mansfield's 90th commencement, with Miss Florence Borkey at the organ.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Stanley C. Robinson of the Mansfield Methodist church, and Donald K. Smith. '55, rendered a piano solo.

Dr. Philip Lovejoy, ranging Rotarian and Educator, gave an inspiring address, "Make Way for To-morrow".

Following the address, Dean Herbert E. Manser presented the class of 82 members to President James G. Morgan who conferred the degree of Bachelor of Science in the various curricula.

President Morgan then addressed the graduates, giving them some very worth-while gems of wisdom from which to draw in years to come.

The singing of Mansfield Hail, and the benediction by Mr. Robinson brought the ceremony to a close.

(The 1955 Commencement is over, and our Alumni is strengthened by another group of enthusiastic young people.)

CONCERTS ENJOYED

On the evening of Alumni Day, the Instrumental Wind Ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Bertram Francis delighted an appreciative audience in Straughn Auditorium, and on Sunday evening the Community Symphony Orchestra, directed by Mr. Carmen Ficocelli gave a very fine concert at the same location.

Both directors have worked hard with their respective groups, and the excellence of the production gave testimony to that fact. In appreciation of his efforts in their behalf during the past year, the members of the ensemble presented Mr. Francis with a gift (A corsage was presented to Mrs. Francis.)

The Baccalaureate Service was held Sunday, May 22, in Straughn Auditorium when the Rev. Douglas Davies, Minister of Prospect St. Presbyterian Church of Trenton, New Jersey, gave an excellent sermon on the topic, "Life's Changing Horizon." Mr. John B. Little, was organist, and the Rev. D. J. Griffiths gave the invocation and benediction.

Mansfield Alumni Hold Reunion at Penn State

On Monday evening, July 18, 1955, fifty-four Mansfield State Teachers College almuni held a very enjoyable reunion at the Hetzel Union Building on the campus of the Pennsylvania State University. These alumni were in attendance at Penn State during the summer session studying for advanced degrees and the meeting being the fourth annual one demonstrates their loyalty to their alma mater. Mr. Albert Crispell, Class of 1948, was the chairman for the occasion and acted as toastmaster. In the absence of President James G. Morgan, Dean Samuel M. Long expressed greetings from the College and the Pennsylvania State University was represented by Mr. Charles M. Long, head of the Department of Education. Mrs. Florence Bennett of Lacyville took honors for representing the oldest class present, that of 1925. Two alumni, Misses Josephine Ascenzi and Nancy VanDyke of the Class of 1955, were the youngest present. The Home Economics Department had the record attendance, and six MSTC faculty members were introduced to the group. Before the meeting was adjourned, Miss Virginia Cherrington, Class of 1950, was elected chairman for the 1956 meeting which will be held on Monday of the third week during the summer session.

Former Teacher Honored

Some Alumni will know, and others will be interested to know, that Dr. Anna L. Rose Hawkes, who was recently elected national president of the American Association of University Women, taught in Mansfield S. T. C. from 1912 to 1919.

Of further interest to Alumni is the fact that her father, James Emerson Rose, was a graduate of the class of 1867, the second to be graduated; her brother, J. W. Rose, graduated in the class of 1890, and her nephew, James Stacy Coles, in the class of 1934. Her sister married Edwin S. Coles, of the class of 1900.

Dr. Hawkes retired July 1, after ten years as Dean of Students at Mills College, Oakland, California.

She was recently re-appointed to the U. S. Advisory Commission of Educational Exchange, of the Department of State, and in January expects to go to the Far East on a mission for that commission.

Nature is a revelation of God;
The Arts a revelation of Man.

As usual there were many of the Alumni back for their reunions and many expressed their pleasure at meeting their old classmates and other friends. There is something heart-warming about returning to your Alma Mater frequently. Questions were asked about the Mansfieldian and the Alumni Directory. These are sent first to those who have paid their dues but are available on request to any of the Alumni.

These dues are a trifle—only $1.00 per year—but we do not require that every alumnus or alumna pay each year. However, some of them do.

We have several members who have paid regularly for over fifty years, and they have been put on the free list.

The Mansfieldian is published as funds are available and would be issued more often if enough of the Alumni paid their dues. We welcome news from you, and information about your family, etc.

The Alumni Directory is also published as funds are available. Last Fall our supply was running short, and we decided on publishing the Directory in sections, beginning with the first classes to 1925, as they are more fixed in their addresses. This is not very satisfactory, but is the best we can do with what funds we have, we can't look to the "government" to help us. Your help is also needed in keeping correct permanent addresses. When you write the secretary please be sure to include the year of your graduation.

On behalf of the Executive Committee I wish to thank all of you who have so loyally supported your Association in the past, and hope for your continued support.

Following registration the alumni meeting was conducted by John Hertz, '31, of Harrisburg, Pa., with Mariam Neal, acting secretary. The Class of 1956 was presented to the association by Miss Elizabeth Allen, their sponsor, Edwin S. Coles, president of the Alumni Association, received the class into membership. Robert Terry, president of the class of '56 responded for the class.

During the business meeting of the association, B. B. Powell of Scranton, Pa., was elected chairman of Alumni Day, 1957. Vice-chairmen are Charles DeWitt, Towanda; John Eckert, Stroudsburg, and Charles Dalrymple, Bar Harbor, Maine. Secretary will be Mrs. Celia Higley, Mansfield, Pa.

New members elected to the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association were Joseph Frawley, R. Lloyd Jones and Michael J. Casale.

After the luncheon in the college dining room, an alumni exhibit was opened in the lounge of the Men's Dormitory. The exhibit committee this year missed the presence of Karl F. VanNorman who is convalescing at his home. Mrs. Clarice Stilwell Evans, '47, functioned this year as a new member of the committee, together with Miss Stella Doane and Mrs. Bertha Palmer, chairman.

The fine arrangement and care exercised in the display each year is appreciated by all returning alumni. Class reunions and a ball game were the afternoon program.

President and Mrs. James Morgan held a tea for alumni at their home at 4:00 and the band concert in Straughn Auditorium closed the day's activities. Bertram W. Francis conducted the band in this final concert of the year.

The Baccalaureate Service was held Sunday, May 27 with the Rev. Robert MacAskill, Minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Athens, Pa., as speaker. Mr. John B. Little was organist for the service and the Rev. John Ross Hays of the First Presbyterian Church, Mansfield, gave the invocation and benediction.

On Sunday evening the Community Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Carmine Ficocelli, gave a concert in Straughn Hall to which the public was invited.

The commencement exercises for the 95 graduates took place on Monday morning with Salom Rizk giving the address. Department Heads presented the various department candidates and the degrees were conferred by President James G. Morgan. Miss Florence Borkey was organist for the service and the Rev. J. Daniel Stover of the Mansfield St. James Episcopal Church gave the invocation and benediction.

EDITOR'S NOTE

Readers may wonder at the news arrangement in this issue, as some items concerning reunion year people appear under regular class news. The explanation is simple, yet complicated —An early spring issue was planned, but the Alumni Administration decided, (after the script was at the printers) to delay publication and come to press with a post-commencement issue. For that reason some "spring buds" of April will be "withered blossoms" in July or August. But "News is news", and we trust you will not mind.

Some reunion classes do not appear in the Post-Alumni Day column, as we received no word relative to their activities on May 26.

GREETINGS TO THE ALUMNI

The 1956 Alumni Day and the Ninety-first Commencement are now written into the history of Mansfield. Once again we are thrilled that so many alumni of the college found the time in their busy schedules to return to Mansfield. When more than 600 returned for these activities and particularly the large number celebrating their 25th and 50th anniversaries, it is a tribute and acknowledgement of contributions that Mansfield has made in the lives of those who left her halls of learning.

During the year it was again the prizilege of Mrs. Morgan and myself to attend a number of our Alumni Clubs at their Annual meeting. The warm reception accorded us on these occasions is always a real pleasure. We are pleased to know the clubs are providing scholarships for students in their particular areas and we highly commend them for this action. We at the college are making plans to celebrate fittingly the 100th anniversary of the college.

Alumni Day 1957 will be a red letter day. It was in 1857 that the Mansfield Classical Seminary was chartered, and school opened with an enrollment of 105 students. Six days after the second term the building burned to the ground. Following many delays and disappointments, South Hall was partially completed and the seminary reopened in December, 1861. The Mansfield Classical Seminary on December 12, 1862, became the State Normal School of the Fifth Senitorial District. On June 4, 1926, the Normal School became the Mansfield State Teachers College with right to grant baccalaureate degrees. Since that time the college has progressively developed and has provided excellent teachers for the children of the Commonwealth. And so we ask you again to make plans to return to Mansfield for Alumni Day of 1957 and your Alma Mater's 100th birthday.

MANSER PASSES

Herbert E. Manser, beloved Dean of Instruction, and remembered by countless alumni as instructor in French, died unexpectedly October 22, 1955.

He was a member of the M. S. T. C. faculty since 1922. Dean Manser gave of his time and talent to further the education of many, and those who know him best loved him most.

To quote from the grave-side prayer, "Our lives are richer for having known him — even this short while. Use him in thy land of silent mystery where great minds and souls have free reign to live and grow without restraint."

ALUMNI BACK AFTER 70 YEARS

Mrs. Carrie Close Leonard, who graduated from Mansfield Normal in the class of 1886, came back for the Alumni meeting. She greeted the returning Alumni and the graduating class who were admitted to the Alumni Association seventy years after Mrs. Leonard's admission.

For the first time in many years Grace Cruttenden Bailey, '91, was unable to attend.

Also present were: Mrs. Carrie Carley Beach, 1891, Mansfield; Mrs. Edna Adams Brophy, 1893, Mansfield; Mrs. Mabel Shipman Shaw, 1893, Mansfield; James Bennett, 1901, Buffalo; Mrs. Anna Encell Miner, 1901, Kenmore, N. Y.; Lee Shadduck, 1901, Cortland, N. Y., and Mrs. Bessie Wetmore Loveless, 1901, Tioga, Pa.

THE DELPHIC BANQUET

Twenty-two members of the Delphic Fraternity that thrived at Mansfield Normal from 1897 to 1915 attended the alumni banquet in the Baptist Church dining room Saturday evening, May 26. The Delphics had annual banquets from the time the fraternity was founded until it was disbanded, and the Alumni made it a point to attend them. About 25 years ago some of them conceived the idea of having the banquets again.

"THE HUT" Student Union Building

TO THE ALUMNI

I'm happy that as Student Council President I've been given the opportunity in this issue of "The Mansfieldian" to say "thank you" from all of us, the present students of M.S.T.C. for your fine financial and moral support in our successful quest for a Mansfield Student Union. From the start, this has been a joint Alumni-Student Body project. It is our hope that you will find the time in the near future to revisit your school and to visit, possibly for the first time, our Union. We wish you could share in our Union's use as fully as we are now.

Sincerely,

Merle Stilwell

Pres. 1955-'56 Student Council

Dean Earlley

Dean of Instruction, Dr. Harry W. Earlley, succeeding the late Herbert E. Manser, began his duties June 1.

Dr. Earlley, a native of Scranton, Pa., graduated from the Scranton Technical High School. He obtained his Bachelor of Arts, Master of Education and Doctor of Education degrees from the Pennsylvania State University.

At the Edinboro State Teachers College he has been a member of the Mathematics Department and Chairman of Admissions. Prior to going to Edinboro, he taught Mathematics at DuBois, Pa. He spent nearly five years in the United States Army, being separated with the rank of Captain.

The new dean brings with him into his new position a deep sense of responsibility and a keen insight relative to the academic problems of college students. College and Community folk welcome him and his family to Mansfield.

AROUND CAMPUS

The local college branch of the P.S.E.A. staged an enjoyable picnic type social evening at the Corey Creek Golf Club, February 3, with nearly one hundred per cent faculty attendance.

The March 12 faculty meeting featured Dr. T. Z. Koo, visiting professor of Oriental Studies at Bucknell University. The school men of the county were college guests at dinner and attended Dr. Koos' address.

On March 24 the Annual Spring Conference of the Tioga County Branch, P.S.E.A. was held on the Mansfield campus. During March, the College was host to two state-wide collegiate groups — the Annual State Intercollegiate Band Festival, and the Annual Meeting of the Associated Student Government of the Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges.

A successful Basketball Tournament was sponsored by the College this spring with 16 area high schools participating. This was the eighth annual tournament sponsored by Mansfield.

Mrs. Elizabeth Morales, College Director of Home Economics, was recently appointed by the Office of Education, Washington, D. C., to work on a committee with a selected group of Home Economic Administrators in Chicago. The work of the committee was to write a supplement for Home Economics to the Guide and Standards developed by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Dr. Elizabeth Swan is president elect of the Faculty Association for the academic year '56-'57. Other elected officers are: Vice-President, Bertram Francis; Secretary, Rea Steele, and Dr. Clarence Hunsicker, Treasurer.

A new parking lot is under construction back of the new Student Union. Mansfield has become an auto college, having issued 322 parking permits to students and staff. This is exclusive of the large number of visitors every day.

NEW COACH

Mr. Edward Stelmack, completing his first year as athletic coach at Mansfield State Teachers College, received his B. A. Degree from St. Francis College, Loretta, Pa., and his M. Ed. from Pennsylvania State University. He coached football and basketball at Mahonoy Jt. High School, Dalmatia, Pennsylvania, where he developed in three years, a team that was winner in the Twin Valley Football Conference. He was "Coach of the Year" in Harrisburg area for 1954.

During the war Coach Stelmack was a chief petty officer in the U. S. Navy in the physical fitness program.

Among his former coaching positions are Portage, Pennsylvania, and Arcadia, Pennsylvania.

M. S. T. C. SOUVENIR PLATES

The Alumni Association of Mansfield State Teachers College have secured a stock of Souvenir Plates that they are selling at the Bookroom of the College.

RONALD C. KICHLINE

Word has been received by Karl VanNorman of the death of Ronald C. Kichline, former member of the Faculty of M. S. T. C. and athletic coach. He was a graduate of Ursinus College, Collegeville, and was a roommate of Herbert G. Peterson of Mansfield. He came to Mansfield in 1916 and taught Geology, Astrology and Economics, and coached football, basketball and baseball. During the five years he was in Mansfield the College teams had one of the best records in the history of the school.

In 1921 he went to Juniata College as coach and remained there for several years. Later he had been mathematics teacher in Reading. A year ago he spent some time in the hospital following a heart attack.

At Ursinus he was their star fullback. Coming to Mansfield at the age of 21, he not only made good as teacher and coach but won many friends with his wit, humor and friendliness.

WHAT'S NEW IN THE MANSFIELD ALUMNI CLUBS?

Maryon Farrer, '18, Chairman Alumni Relations Committee

Several of the Mansfield Alumni Clubs have held meetings recently or during the past year.

Forty-eight members of the Penn-York Club met at Vestal, N. Y., June 2, with President Walter Norton presiding. President and Mrs. Morgan attended from the college. The group enjoyed singing led by Mrs. Beryl (Champlin) Schumacher, and a display of magic by Richard Powell.

The newly-elected officers of the club are:

President—Miss Emily Van Horn, 33 Front St., Binghamton, N. Y.

Vice-President—Mrs. Clara Pratt, 3752 Hoover Ave., Endwell, N. Y.

Secretary—Dolores Ohara, 210 St. Charles St., Johnson City, N. Y.

Treasurer—Kenneth Kintner, 68 Allen St., Johnson City, N. Y.

Continued

Miss Maryon Farrer

Next year the meeting will be June 8 at the St. John Ukrainian Hall in Binghamton.

Chemung County Club has held two meetings—one was held last September and another in April at Elmira, N. Y. Mr. Leon Lunn, '36, represented the College at the September meeting. The Chemung County Club which is the newest of the Alumni Clubs has the distinction of giving the first scholarship. Last fall they gave $25 and this spring $50. Last year's recipient of the $25 grant was Frank Matkosky, a freshman at M. S. T. C., and son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Matkosky, Elmira, N. Y.

Club officers for this year are:

President—J. Gordon Gray, 785 Laurel St., Elmira, N. Y.

Vice-President — Mrs. Eleanor Doughton, 563 Maple Ave., Elmira, N. Y.

Secretary—Miss Ann Conboy, 362 Columbia St., Elmira, N. Y.

Treasurer—Walter Forrest, 1244 W. Third St., Elmira, N. Y.

The oldest member present at the club election was Dr. Fannie Updyke Angelicola, Class of 1894.

The 14th annual meeting of the Lycoming County Alumni Club was held at the airport, Montoursville, in April —President Morgan was the speaker of this meeting and Mr. John Little of the Music Department faculty played several piano numbers. At this meeting one of the club's long nurtured objectives was met by being able to give a $25 scholarship.

A rather unique feature of the Lycoming County Club is their steering committee—this committee "steers" students to Mansfield. Five prospective students were guests at the meeting and they are now enrolled at the college for fall.

The scholarship funds are administered by the Student Aid Committee of the college. Scholarships from the clubs are an expression of loyalty to Mansfield and serve as a means of helping others to enjoy the advantages which the college offers.

The Philadelphia Alumni County Club held a family picnic on June 2 at the home of Helen Curtis Cooper, '14, Montgomeryville, Pa. After the club's annual meeting last spring, they sent $10 to the Student Union and this year they hope to send a larger amount. Funds sent for the Student Union are another fine expression of interest in the continued development of Mansfield.

The Sullivan County Club is planning a meeting in the near future.

Last summer the Mansfield Alumni attending Pennsylvania State University held their fourth annual reunion.

The Alumni meetings are always well attended and enjoyable occasions. The clubs serve as a strong bond between the College and the Alumni and are mutually helpful. Affiliate with the club in your area.

The officers and directors of the General Alumni Association appreciate the expression of the loyalty and support of the Alumni to their Alma Mater through club activities and take this opportunity to say thank you.

Mrs. Westgate

BELOVED CANTON TEACHER PASSES

Mrs. Nelle Black Westgate, class of 1897, passed away in Canton, Pa., January 30, 1956, at the age of 79. Mrs. Westgate, life-long resident of Canton, had a 50-year record of teaching service, 49 of which were in Grades 5 and 6 of the Canton Elementary School. The Senior Class of Canton High School dedicated their yearbook to her in 1946 when she retired from teaching.

The local paper paid tribute to her as follows: "One of those rare persons who can impart their knowledge to others, Mrs. Westgate made learning a pleasure. She was an authority on community history and had a keen recollection of early events in the Canton area. She made a lasting impression for good upon the young people of the community which has spread throughout the United States and many foreign countries."

Mrs. Westgate's intense interest in the school affairs of Canton was reflected in her will, provisions of which were, in part:

(1) Her home was left to the school district as a rent-free residence for the supervising principal.

(2) Residue of her estate, after bequests, was left to the school district the income from which is to be used to maintain an auditorium. After 15 years the principal sum shall gradually be expended toward the same project. The auditorium shall be known as the "Nelle Westgate Auditorium." In the event such an auditorium is not erected, the district may expend the funds "for increased opportunities and better educational facilities for all school children served by the joint school district in which Canton borough may be participating."

"PAPPY" PARKE DIES IN KANSAS

Word has been received through the courtesy of Mrs. Grace Bailey, '91, that Leonard Parke, '79, died May 18, 1954, at the age of 93. Through lack of information this fact has been unpublished in the Mansfieldian.

Mr. Parke was thought by his associates to have taught longer than anyone else in the country; he began teaching at 15, and was in some phase of the teaching field for 71 years.

A man of medium build, he was strong physically—playing hand ball until 70, and reading without glasses until 90.

He headed the first commerce department at Emporia State College, Kansas, and was considered the Dean of Kansas Business Teachers.

In one account he stated that his initial teaching salary was $11 per month and that he "boarded around." At a late age he was asked to sum up his career, and he answered, "I guess I've had a fairly satisfactory life."

(The Mansfieldian salutes the memory of this grand old man).

KARL F. VAN NORMAN

Karl F. VanNorman, graduate manager of athletics at M. S. T. C., has been ill for a number of months and is convalescing in his home at 20 College Avenue.

His association with the College dates from early childhood when his father began his long career as an instructor. Karl was a varsity footballer in the old Normal and since graduation in 1906 has never lost his interest in college athletics.

Due to his illness he has resigned from his duties as Community Librarian and at the Twain Theater. His affiliation with show business dates back to 1903, when he was an usher at the Old Opera House.

The Mansfieldian wishes to Karl a speedy recovery and many years as graduate manager.

DR. HAWKES VISITS FAR EAST ON EDUCATIONAL MISSION

Dr. Anna L. Rose Hawkes, of Orleans, Vermont, has returned from a trip to the Far East for the United States Advisory Committee on Educational Exchange, of which she is a member. She was re-appointed to this Committee last year by President Eisenhower.

She is also President of the American Association of University Women. She is the sister of Mrs. Edwin S. Coles, of Mansfield.

She retired last July after ten years as Dean of Students at Mills College, Oakland, Calif.

POST ALUMNI DAY NEWS FROM REUNION CLASSES

1896 — The seven members of the Class of 1896 present at the Alumni meeting were: Mrs. Edna Day Harper, Corning, N. Y., teacher and social worker; Mrs. Lena Lewis Argetsinger, Elmira, N. Y.; Dr. Mary Lewis Heist, College of Osteopathy, now living at Kitchener, Canada; Mrs. Katherine Neefe Gallup, Port Allegany, Pa.; Mrs. Rosemond Sherman Leonard, Elmira, N. Y.; Irving E. Tewksbury, Kingsley, Pa., retired, a veteran of the Spanish War, and William D. Bradway, Mansfield, Pa.,

General Insurance and Real Estate Agent. All reported an enjoyable day.

Ray Mitchell of San Pedro, Calif., acted as secretary and was successful in receiving letters from a host of '96ers. Ray, himself, was unable to attend. William D. Bradway of Mansfield, who, by the way, recently received an award of citizenship from Mansfield businessmen, spoke for the class. The MANSFIELDIAN hopes to use some of the class news from time to time.

1906 — Twenty-five members of the class returned for the Alumni reunion which marked a half century of past-college years. Joseph D. Bradford, class secretary, informs this column that records of returning members over the years show 19 in 1926, 15 in '36, 17 in '46 and 20 in '51. Evidently, interest improves with time, with the record attendance this year. Those attending were: Edith Fitzpatrick, Olean, N. Y.; Rena Cass Nelson, Elmira, N. Y.; Ethel Pepper Pratt, Columbia Cross Roads; Jennie Orvis Johnson, Mansfield, Pa.; Jennie Peck Foster, Keyport, N. J.; Jennie Ball Highouse, Montrose, Pa.; Norma Davis Schoen, Scranton; Henry V. Matthews, Clifton, N. J.; Claude S. Gorham, LeRaysville, Pa.; TeDesco Clark Flowers, Larchmont, N. Y.; Alta I. Crumm, Pittsburgh 12, Pa.; Elizabeth Rose Austin, Morris, N. Y.; Lelah Sterling Doane, Philadelphia 19, Pa.; Eugenia Grover Carothers, Cannonsburg; Harriet Teachman Lewis, Philadelphia 19, Pa.; Martha Bodine Keeler, Portland, Oregon; Merle Cogswell Grant, Mansfield, Pa.; Pearle Fenley Havens, Belfast, N. Y.; Emma Jones Kelley, Mansfield, Pa.; C. Wey Olver, Chester, Pa.; Francis C. Roupp, Liberty, Pa.; Rose Mitchell Kshir, Elkton, Md.; Lisle Leonard McMahon, Troy, Pa.; Louise Leonard Bradford, Troy, Pa.; Joseph D. Bradford, Troy, Pa.

Notes of interest from those not attending have come from letters to the class secretary or to Miss Farrer: Mrs. VanOrman French is in Switzerland; Joseph E. Dayton, who for many years has held the exalted position of Director of the Rehabilitation Bureau in Washington, D. C., was unable to attend because of recent surgery. He became affiliated with the Bureau 26 years ago. Prof. and Mrs. Amos Reese live at Acampo, Calif., and would like to see old friends. G. Ralph Jennings has an important position with Dow Chemical Company. Short messages were received from Dr. Frieda E. Baumann, Sister M. St. Catherine (Eva Keefe), Mrs. Aurelia Bresee Grant and Mrs. Erva Berry Reese. In the Alumni meeting, Fred Jupenlaz spoke in regard to Karl and Marion Greener VanNorman, stating that Karl is convalescing from illness. A large number of classmates visited Karl and Marion in the afternoon at their home at College Place.

1911 — The Class Reunion was attended by: Yoland Clark Judge, Mansfield; Mrs. Bess Crittenden Carpenter, Coudersport; Mrs. Ethel DeWitt DeCourcy, Corning, N. Y.; Edith Miller, New Jersey; Mrs. Bessie Bernauer Steele, Ithaca, N. Y.; Mrs. Marion Pratt Lundberg, Nicholson, Pa.; Florence Kingsley Smith and Carl W. Smith, Galeton. Also, attending the Alumni meeting in Straughn Hall were: Mrs. Lulu Bush Miller, W. Webster, N. Y.; Howard Dorsett, Mansfield; John J. Jaquish, Tunkhannock. At the Class Reunion letters were read from Harry B. Martin, Syracuse, N. Y.; Bess Estes, Oswayo, Pa.; Mildred Ogden Hershberger, Johnstown, Pa.; and Blanch Prevost Heinzman, Sarasota, Florida.

1916 — The Class of 1916 celebrated its fortieth reunion with a record attendance. This class numbered one hundred thirty-five at Graduation. Thirty-nine members are deceased. Of the ninety-six remaining thirty-seven attended this fortieth reunion. Mrs. Ruth Hall Peabody, class secretary, deserves much credit for the fine attendance. At the class meeting letters were read from many members who were unable to be present. Those present spoke briefly of their experiences and achievements in the years since they left Mansfield.

After revisiting their favorite haunts on campus, and attending the tea given by President and Mrs. Morgan, the class of 1916 was welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Kim Marvin at their home on Sherwood Street. Twenty-five women members of the class enjoyed a buffet supper served by Miss Mildred and Miss Jessie Grigsby at their home, while the men of the class attended the Delphic Banquet at the Baptist Church. All present expressed enthusiasm for the day's program, appreciation of their Alma Mater and its progress and assurance that they would be on hand for a fiftieth reunion. The group present enjoyed reminiscence and planned for a large reunion in '61.

1921 — Walter Swimley, Assistant Superintendent of Tioga County Schools and M. S. T. C. Trustee, acted as secretary for the class and spoke for it at the meeting and reunion. There were a few at the meeting and luncheon who did not appear at the reunion, therefore, the following list represents only those signing in the afternoon: Mrs. Helen Tidd Baxter, 13 Balentine Brae, Utica, N. Y.; Mrs. Louise Goodall English, 2031 Whitehall Street, Harrisburg, Pa., former supervisor of music for 18 years; John J. Sirotnak, 312 Dunmore St., Throop, Pa.; Mrs. Mary McInroy Sheffer, 2103 N. Third St., Harrisburg, Pa.; Mrs. Helen Ford Butler, R. D. 4, Wellsboro, Pa.; Mrs. Sibyl Payne Smith, Tioga, Pa.; Mrs. Cytheria Blair Ford, 20 Nichols St., Wellsboro, Pa., taught for a time, now a housewife; Walter Swimley, Knoxville, Pa.; Mrs. Eva Barnes Kentner, 426 Main St., E. Rochester, N. Y., personnel manager at W. T. Grant Co.; Dr. Robert Beach, 5810 Pleasant Run Blvd., Indianapolis, Ind., physician since 1929; A. Boyd Cass, 1433 Calasangua Road, Bethlehem, Pa., auto dealer and civic leader; Lindly Baxter, 166 Magnolia Avenue, Hillsdale, N. J., superintendent of schools; Mrs. Ethel Stone Bailey, Leroy, Pa.; Mrs. Arline Shupp Riker, Nicholson, Pa. Walter appreciates the questionnaires returned by so many of the class even though space prohibits much of the news at this time.

1926 — Charles James, who has been in school administration for many years is responsible for information on the class of '26. Over thirty members of the Class of 1926 returned for their thirtieth anniversary. Charles James, Dallas, Pa., represented the class at the Alumni meeting. At the class meeting in the afternoon it was learned that several of the members expected to tour in Europe this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Jones and daughter, Elaine, expect to meet daughter, Suzanne, who has been attending the University of Wales, in the British Isles and spend the summer traveling in Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lillie (Jennie Hammond) expect to spend the summer in Europe. Ruth Aldrich is teaching in the high school at Bethlehem. Myrtle Grover Wynne is teaching in the Canton Elementary School. Two who have turned from teaching to business are Paul French and Mark Loveless. Dr. Edson Haven sent his regrets as his duties at Wayne University prevented his coming. Edward Pech is living in San Diego, Calif. He has been with the American Red Cross since 1941. Mrs. Marie Thoren Van Shelly teaches first grade in Port Allegany, Pa. Rev. Robert Kellerman is pastor of the Central Methodist Church, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Ellis Williams teaches physics and mathematics in the North Plainfield High School, N. J., and also instructor of physics in Evening School, Newark College of Engineering. Mrs. Ivah Youmans Deane is Librarian for the Stromberg-Carlson Company, Rochester, New York. Mrs. Lillian Rauscher Donaldson, who lives in State College, was unable to attend because of conflicting engagements.

1931 — Class of '31 had a rather large number of returnees as a result o fthe excellent contacts made by Howard Baker of Port Allegany. At the class reunion meeting, considerable time was spent in reminiscing, counting and recounting offspring, and a general good time without too many permanent statistics. It was definitely decided to meet again in '61 and to have an even greater representation.

1936 — Approximately 25 attended Alumni Day and following the class reunion, a number of them were entertained with dinner at the home of Leon Lunn. Helen Allen and Michael Borden of Pawtucket, R. I.; Melvin Brace, Bath, N. Y.; Mrs. Mary French Kemble, Maryland; Mrs. Elizabeth Hess Heagy, Glen Moore; Mrs. Maude Hewitt Weeks, Auburn, N. Y.; Mrs. Lorena Jerald Penno, Mansfield; Mrs. Kathryn Jones Lunn, Mansfield; William Neal, Takoma Park, Maryland; Mrs. Marion Parmenter Ballard, Troy; Mrs. Marion Parry Hess, Williamsport; John W. Price, Connecticut; Dr. Thomas J. Sinclair, Takoma Park, Maryland; Norma Strait, Gaines; Dr. Robert Straughn, Madison, Wisconsin, and Lois Weir Ashkar, Riverside, L. I. Leon Lunn was secretary for the class meeting and Thomas Sinclair spoke for the class at the Alumni meeting.

Athletics and Physical Education have their place in a well-rounded Collegiate Program.

DR. LEWIS W. RATHGEBER

Dear Alumni:

It is a pleasure for me to pen these lines of greeting to the alumni of Mansfield State Teachers College. I feel both humbled and honored at the opportunity to lead this college on the opening of its second hundred years of service to the world of education.

I have been asked many times since my arrival regarding MY plans for the college. Frankly speaking, they will not be MY plans at all. Our future development will be guided by the wishes and desires of all elements comprising the college community—our trustees, the faculty, students, alumni, townspeople, educators we serve, and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

As with any change of administration there will be an infusion of new ideas and methods. It should be emphasized, however, that such changes must be made with due regard for past precedents. Change, in itself, is not necessarily beneficial. On the other hand, just because a procedure has been followed for many years is no indication that it should be continued per se. It is vital that new ideas and methods be carefully analyzed in the light of past experience and in view of the impact they will have on the total picture. Above all else, both history and education demonstrate that change is most beneficial when it is a gradual process.

Finally, any change must be made with full consideration for the rights and sensibilities of the individuals involved. Consideration for the individual is one of the most important characteristics of the educational profession—in fact of our civilization.

Mansfield has had a long history of service to the educational profession and to this area of Pennsylvania. This service has been ably fostered and developed by our past presidents. I consider it our responsibility to carry on in their footsteps. Trusting in your help and with a profound faith in God we go forth to meet that responsibility as Mansfield begins upon a new century and a new administration.

Sincerely,

LEWIS W. RATHGEBER

ONE THOUSAND ATTEND ALUMNI DAY

The long awaited Centennial Commencement Week-end at Mansfield State Teachers College met even the highest expectations as about 1,000 alumni, parents and friends gathered on campus to commemorate and celebrate one hundred years of educational and cultural evolution.

The Alumni meeting opened at 10:00 a.m. with Charles Dewitt, '27, chairman, and Frances Lent Maneval, '32, secretary.

Fred A. Jupenlaz, '31, chairman of the nominating committee presented the slate of general officers and committees for 1958 alumni day.

Dr. Richard Wilson, '35, is president elect of the general alumni association, replacing Mr. Edwin Coles, '00, who has served for many years, and who has become known and loved by the entire alumni. Edwin had expressed a desire to retire two years ago, but consented to remain in office through the Centennial.

The new president brings to the office his experience as vice president and a very genuine interest in the welfare and furtherance of the association.

The association approved the entire slate of officers as presented:

Executive Committee, General Alumni Association

President: Richard Wilson, 1935

First Vice President: Warren L. Miller, 1919

Second Vice President: Harry McInroy, 1918

Secretary-Treasurer, Helen Wood, 1918

Directors, Term Expiring 1960

Leon E. Lunn, 1936

Joe Fred Bedenk, 1919

H. Austin Snyder, 1932

Officers for Alumni Day 1958

Chairman: Lloyd Straughn, 1928

First Vice Chairman: Paul Miller, 1928

Second Vice Chairman: Frank Dolbear, 1928

Third Vice Chairman: George Hendricks, 1933

Secretary: Mrs. Webster English, (Esther Colwell) 1928

The senior class was presented by Albert K. Sundberg, class advisor; the class was welcomed by President Coles and the class response was given by Robert Swinsick, Senior Class President.

James Powell and Margaret Gavin, music majors, sang, after which representatives of alumni clubs were introduced.

The introduction of anniversary classes followed and the meeting closed after pertinent remarks by President James G. Morgan.

At the alumni luncheon, the dining room was filled to capacity and interesting exhibit, which included the entire collection of Karl Van Norman. His widow, Marion Greener Van Norman, 06, has kindly donated this collection of over 100 pictures and items to the Alumni Association.

An interesting feature which brought favorable comment was the fact that a number of college girls circulated through the gym—wearing the old gowns of yesteryear. The committee is deeply grateful to all who gave or loaned these gowns.

At 3:00 Mansfield played a baseball game against Lycoming College, winning in a spectacular performance by a 4-3 score, and at 4:00 President and Mrs. Morgan were at home to hundreds of alumni who have always looked forward to this very pleasant feature of Alumni Day.

The centennial celebration was made especially interesting by the return of so many from older classes, including—

Miss Rose Judge from the class of '82

Grace Cruttenden Bailey and Jenny Scouten, '91

Mary Carlin, Julia Strange Kingsley, Carrie Prouty Green, Grace Phelps Twitty, Nellie Hoard Tubbs and Arthur J. Dann, '92;

Louise Adams Brophy, Mable Shipman Shaw and Bertha Presho Baker, '93;

Edith Lounsbery, Sophronia Bayton Warner, Alice Doane, Lulu Barton Dodd and Susan Cameron Hoard, '94;

Bayard Bradford and James Muir, '95;

Mary Wilson Amorette, Lee Voorhees, Thomas Hanahue, Joseph English, Edith Brown Gelder, Dr. Carl Bradford and Ella Boland, '97;

Walter Strait, Lorena Sherwood, Walter Shaw, Eleanor Saxton Rider, Viva Payne, Ella Orr Stratton, Ethel Lewis Nickerson, Nettie Leonard, Florence Doumaux, Grace Daily Reed, Frank Bly, and Blanch Barton Huntington, '07.

Reunion classes were represented in their respective meetings as follows: 1897, 7; 1902, 6; 1907, 12; 1912, 17; 1917, 43, and 1932, 18.

There may have been others present from these classes and the same for others not reported.

MANSFIELD MEMORIES BROUGHT TO LIFE

In many scenes from the past, Mansfield Alumni found bits of yester years and fond memories unfolded before them during the performance in Straughn Hall Saturday evening.

Despite the limitations of a stage in the process of getting new curtains, the tableau type scenes sandwiched into the narration of Robert Denning and Sharon McNaney who were "writing the history of the traditions of Mansffeld State Teachers College," were authentic and entertaining.

The fine traditions were stressed and upheld from the beginning of the Seminary by the men of Mansfield through the 1860's, the World War I, the Roaring twenties and finally the Queen ceremony of today.

As fitting climax to the evening, Miss Rose Judge, oldest living alumna of the college was introduced and Miss Michele Cotter, May Queen, graciousabdicated her throne in favor of Miss Judge and presented her with a bouquet of flowers.

Many in the audience relived former days as the names of their classmates, parents or even themselves were brought to the limelight in connection with the college traditions. In fact much laughter and a few tears were in evidence during the most enjoyable and sprightly evening.

Elizabeth Allen, '35, deserves much credit as director of this memorable event

BACCALAUREATE SERVICE

Sunday morning, May 26 at 9:00 a. m. the Bacculaureate Service was ushered in by the academic procession with Miss Florence Borkey at the organ. The Invocation, Scripture and Benediction were given by the Rev. D. J. Griffiths, Minister, First Baptist Church, Mansfield.

Mr. Eugene Jones, director, conducted the Music Education Choir in the Anthem, "Say Ye to the Righteous," after which President James G. Morgan introduced the speaker, Rev. George K. Bowers, Pastor, Christ's Lutheran Church, Lewisburg.

Rev. Bowers held his congregation with an inspiring address, "Swinging on Tiny Hinges." He pointed out that life is an "open door," or rather a series of open doors, through which the graduate may walk to any level of achievement, depending on the type of "hinge" -- a hinge of his or her own construction.

Mansfield State Teachers College Baccalaureates have always featured outstanding personalities, and Rev. Bowers certainly was no exception.

Miss Rose Judge

Mansfield's oldest living alumnus, Miss Rose Judge, 92 years young and a member of the '82 class entered the circle of "Royalty" as she was crowned centennial queen on the evening of Alumni Day.

A native of England, she came to the U. S. at an early age and has devoted her time to educational pursuits.

Miss Judge is still active and very much alert to college and community events as she recalls her 50 years of teaching, most of which was in City College, Detroit, Michigan. She had previously taught at Wellsboro, Pa.

We consider her not only "Queen of the Centennial", but "Dean of M. S. T. C. Alumni".

The Ninety-Second Commencement

The Ninety-second Annual Commencement was held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Straughn Auditorium. This was a new departure for Mansfield, but seemed to meet with satisfaction by students, parents and others. The past century has seen many changes, especially in the graduation exercises. Until recent years the festivities took up nearly a week, beginning with the baccalaureate on Sunday, the Senior and Junior Days, Alumni Day, oratorical contest, special programs, and ending Thursday or Friday with Commencement. Also Valedictory and Salutatory addresses by the best scholars, Declamations, awarding of prizes, etc.

The program Sunday opened with a recital by John Little of the College Faculty. The invocation was said by Rev. J. Daniel Stover, and was followed by a baritone solo by Gordon Evans, '57, with Judith Smith, as accompanist.

The Commencement address was given by Dr. Anna L. Rose Hawkes, who was a member of the faculty of Mansfiell Normal from 1912 to 1919. Her father, J. Emerson Rose, was a graduate in the class of 1867, and her brother, J. W. Rose, of 1890. The latter was the youngest graduate of Mansfield, being only 15½ years old.

Dr. Hawkes chose as her topic "The Long Trail of the Brave", and stressed three qualities that are needed in the world today—To Think Clearly, Choose Wisely, and Act Courageously. She said these qualities are greatly needed if we are to survive as a democratic nation. These are qualities not easily won, they come from hard work while you are getting your education.

She said that the Chinese have great respect for education, they believe that the object of education is not alone mental achievement, but what they consider more important, moral character. The ignorant and the illiterate may be forgiven much, but nothing evil or foolish may be forgiven an educated person.

As you learn to think clearly you learn to choose wisely. Courageous action should follow inevitably from clear thinking and wise choosing. Your college has given you, by precept and example, the opportunity to combat standardization, materialism and intolerance, which qualities seem to characterize this age. It has also given you a vision of something beyond that, a challenge that these forces are incompatable with the free development of the human spirit.

Your commencement does not mean that you have become a learned person, but that you are now prepared to begin scholarship.,

Following Dr. Hawkes' address, the class of 1957 was presented to President James G. Morgan by Dr. Harry W. Earlley, and they were given their degrees by President Morgan and hooded by the heads of their departments.

After singing the Alma Mater, the benediction was pronounced by Mr. Stover, and the Class of 1957 marched out to be greeted by family, friends and relatives. ,

L. Shenman Green, Former Normal School Instructor Dies

"Sherm" Green will be remembered by our older alumni as an instructor at the college a number of years ago, and will be saddened by the announcement of his death. He was a former housing administrator for the Southeastern States, trustee of Alfred University and faculty member in a number of colleges.

FOR ANOTHER HUNDRED YEARS

THIS WEEKEND THE MANSFIELD State Teachers College is celebrating its Centennial Commencement weekend. The community is cordially invited to any or all of these events. It has been so for all the hundred years of the existence of the college. The community has been interested in, and a part of, the events in the community. This has become a closely knit unity for the good of both.

In many college communities there is a rivalry and feeling of animosity between the two groups. In Mansfield there is the greatest friendliness between the two, and may it continue. There is hardly a family in the town and immediate area which has not some connection with the college through alumni, employee etc., and the town proudly feels that it is "our college". They fully realize the important place the college occupies in their economy and their culture.

Similarly the college feels a warmness toward the town and when the cooperation of the town is desired, it feels that cooperation will come willingly. For the college has received a great benefit from the town, also. It is a situation seldom equalled in the histories of the colleges across the state. Every graduate of Mansfield State Teachers College finds that his attitude toward the town to which he will go, as a teacher, has been colored by the goodwill and friendliness felt between Mansfield and her college on the hill.

When the students come back in the fall, life in the community picks up. Their happy faces are a welcome sight on our streets and about town. The citizens smile indulgently as the twosomes stroll hand in hand or arm in arm, and their athletic teams are cheered with the same vigor and enthusiasm that is lavished on the High School teams.

Now on the occasion of this one hundred years of serving the needs of education, this community salutes its friend on the hill, Mansfield State Teachers College, and wishes for it another century of progress and prosperity, of growth and greatness.

May the spirit of friendliness between the college and its community never fade and the two grow together in service each to the other.

Mansfield Advertiser, May 22, 1957

Dr. Richard Wilson

Greetings! Alumni

It is a great feeling to be a graduate of a college which has celebrated its hundredth birthday. This feeling of proudness certainly permeated the atmosphere, as your alumni association participated in the the celebration during the commencement week activities. The Alumni Association extends to the college sincere hopes for a happy and prosperous future.

"Any organization is as strong as its members" is a saying which we have heard repeated many times. It true in relation to our Alumni Association. The loyalty of so many of the graduates of Mansfield has been instrumental in maintaining a successful Alumni Association. We are fortunate in having those who devote much time to the affairs of the Association. May we applaud their efforts and lend our support, it is our Alumni Association.

A note of best wishes should go to Edwin S. Coles, Association President for so many years. Edwin has contributed more than words can express, and we most sincerely wish him many years of health and happiness. It is our hope that the Association will move forward in the manner with which we are accustomed.

RICHARD WILSON, PRESIDENT

New MSTC President

During Mansfield's one hundred years of progress fifteen principals and presidents have occupied the administrative chair, and on August 14 the sixteenth man arrived on campus to take over that important position.

The new president is thirty-five year old Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber, a native of Lock Haven, Pa. He attended Lock Haven schools and received his B.S. Degree from Lock Haven State Teachers College. His Masters and Ph.D degrees were earned at the University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Rathgeber was a teacher in the Port Alleghany schools from September 1943 to June 1945. Following this he held a position with the United States Veterans' Administration where he worked in Pittsburgh, Erie and Lock Haven. In 1947 he went to the University of Pittsburgh where he was Assistant to the Dean of Men, and Lecturer in the History Department while working on his Ph.D degree. During this time he was also Researchist on the papers of Hervey Allen for six months. In 1952, Dr. Rathgeber went to Washington, D. C. as Educational Adviser to the Chief Chemical Corps while doing research at the Library of Congress for his doctorate. In 1955 he came to Harrisburg as Director of the Bureau of Private Schools and Veterans' Education in the Department of Public Instruction, from which position he came to Mansfield.

He is a member of the American Legion, National Education Association, Pennsylvania State Education Association, Masons and Phi Alpha Theta, national history fraternity. He is also a member of the St. Luke's Reformed Church (United Church in Christ) of Lock Haven.

The Mansfieldian wishes for Dr. Rathgeber good fortune and happiness as we welcome him to his new position.

Edwin S. Coles

GREETINGS TO THE ALUMNI

As those who attended the Alumni Meeting last May know, Richard Wilson, of the class of 1935, was elected to succeed me as President of the General Alumni Association of Mansfield State Teachers College. He will begin his term with the opening of the new school year in September. "Dick" has been one of the good workers for the Alumni Association and the College ever since he returned to Mansfield to serve on the faculty. I have known him for 20 years and think highly of him, as do many others in and out of the College circle.

I have no desire to write a "Swan Song" as I hope to continue my interest in, and work for, the Alumni Association and the College for as long as I can. I have served in some capacity, on the executive committee or as president, for 45 years, beginning with working with Dr. Andrew Thomas Smith on the Semicentennial of the changing of Mansfield Classical Seminary to Mansfield State Normal School.

We have had excellent co-operation from past presidents of the College as follows:

W. R. Straughn
Andrew Thomas Smith
Lester K. Ade
Willis Pratt
James G. Morgan

President Morgan in particular has been exceedingly generous with his time and efforts for the Association. He has attended many meetings of the various Alumni Clubs, as well as working with the Executive Committee.

It would be difficult to name all who have helped to keep your Association active. Many have worked in various ways, and we appreciate their cooperation and thank them for it. The present officers are listed on another page, and there are many others whom I would like to name but space prohibits. I should like to name the three secretaries of the past half century: Mrs. Bessie Ely Longbothum, Mrs. Julia Goodspeed McMurtry and Helen Wood.

I wish to extend my personal thanks to all who have helped make your Associated an active working organization.

It seems to me that I have mentioned finances rather frequently, but it has not been as often as other Colleges ask their Alumni for money. Then, too, we have not asked our Alumni for money, but simply reminded them that we would like to have them pay their dues as often as they can. We have intended simply to remind Alumni that your Association has no funds except what dues are paid in. These dues are only $1 a year, as compared to $3 and $5 in other Colleges. We have not been strict on payment, relying on the impulse of members to pay as they could.

The Association has to pay for the publishing and distributing the Mansfieldian, the Alumni Directory, sending out notices of annual meeting, keeping records, etc. The only person receiving any compensation is the Secretary and what she receives could hardly be called compensation, because it is only a fraction of what her work is worth.

We can send the Mansfieldian and the Directory only to those who have contributed toward their expense. At present our supply of Alumni Directories is exhausted and we must soon publish a new one. This will require another request for members to pay their dues. Some members have paid every year for many years. Others send in $5, $10 or $25. But you understand you OWE the Association nothing except what you voluntarily give.

We have many letters from Alumni telling us what their years at Mansfield have meant to them in their later lives. You would be surprised how many Mansfield students have been children and grandchildren of former graduates.

The College Commencement last May was the best we have ever had. The Alumni were here in greater force than usual. At the Luncheon, tables had to be set up in another room for those who could not get into the dining room. Many people were unable to get into Straughn Auditorium for the Commencement program. The Alumni exhibit attracted much larger crowds and was a huge success.

In closing, many, many thanks for what you have done for Mansfield State Teachers College and your Alumni Association.

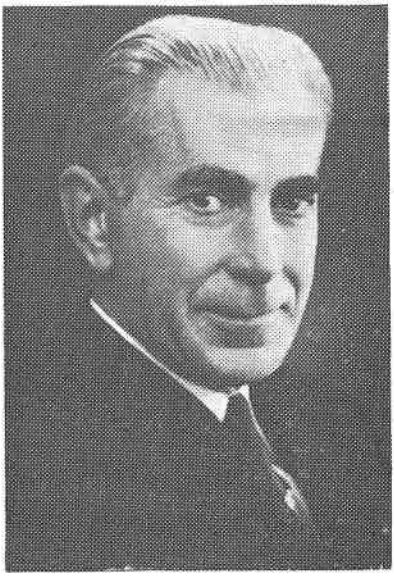
EDWIN S. COLES

DR. DECKER,
NOTED SURGEON, DIES

Dr. Walter J. Decker, '13, died suddenly December 5, 1956. One of Mansfield's noted alumni, Dr. Decker was a specialist in nose, ear, and throat diseases and in oral and plastic surgery in Elmira from 1938-1944, when he retired and returned to Westfield, his birthplace.

From 1924 to 1930 he was a fellow at the Mayo Clinic, and later was an assistant in oral and plastic surgery at the Mayo Foundation for Medical Education and Research, Graduate School of the University of Minnesota.

He also served as section head for oral and plastic surgery at Green Bay, Michigan.



PRESIDENT MORGAN RETIRES

The news of the resignation and retirement of President James G. Morgan has been received with regret by the countless alumni who, over the years, have loved and respected him.

Mr. Morgan came to Mansfield as an instructor in 1921, was in charge of the psychological clinic a number of years, served as Dean of Instruction, and was Acting President on three occasions prior to becoming President in 1945.

Mr. Morgan was active in and honored by a number of organizations.

In Boy Scout work he was awarded the Silver Beaver by the General Sullivan Council and the Silver Antelope by the Eastern Region.

He holds the American Legion Distinguished Service award given for service to the Community, State and Nation and the Treasury Department award for service in the Savings Bond Program.

His work with the Tioga County Draft Board won him an award from the Selective Service System and at the time of his retirement, he was honored by the Mansfield Businessmen's Association for 36 years service to the community.

Mrs. Brace is Home Economics Supervisor in the Mansfield borough schools.

News of Early Classes

A number of interesting letters were received from our friends who, while unable to attend, still were at the centennial in spirit:

1883—Minnie Weiss Strauss, 112 Central Park South, New York, N. Y., sent centennial contribution and note of greeting in which she gratefully acknowledged a telegram sent her by the alumni association on this, her 74th anniversary.

1887— Mrs. Helen Clemons Davis, 262 Brand Street, Elmira, N. Y., on her 70th anniversary "Enjoys good health, attends all household duties for son and herself and works crossword puzzles without glasses."

1889—Ray Eckerson, 2866 Ladera Road, San Bernardino, Calif., sends word that "Eck is still alive, and in better health than last year." He has recovered from pneumonia in both lungs, and is starting his 91st year.

1891—Dr. Edith Flower Wheeler, Cortland, New York, pursues her hobbies of geneology and collecting old Manuscripts, letters and diaries. She kindly gave the Advertiser a reminiscence of former days in Mansfield. In it she recalled her early days as a rural teacher and later her medical practice in Mansfield during the horse-and-buggy days.

1895—Rena Copley Carpenter, Box 32, Penn Yan, N. Y. had a severe fall in January, but "Is snapping out of it" although she did not feel well enough to come to the centennial celebration.

1897—David Paine, whose permanent address is Troy, Pa., wrote from Marlboro Inn, Montclair, N. J. expressing his regret on not attending alumni day this year. He practiced law for a number of years in New York, but is now retired.

1898—Katherine Gibson Mold sends her regards to classmates and others.

1899—Florence E. Brigham sends her address as 311 - 3rd Avenue North, St. Petersburg, Florida. She has a son in Oregon and one in Seville, Spain.

1902—Esther Davies Hughes, 10938 S. Bell Avenue, Chicago 43, Illinois, wrote last fall that she would come to Alumni Day if possible, but we regret that she was not present.

1907—Mrs. Belva Pearsall Brown, 74 Rockaway Avenue, Rockville Center, N. Y. sends greetings and states that she is busy looking after six business properties. She also is Nassau County WCTU President, member of the Methodist Church and Foreign Policy Association of New York. (Busy woman!)

William H. Carson, Monroe, Oregon has been a realtor for the past 20 years, and had hoped to be at Mansfield this spring for his 50th.

Miss Maryon Farrer

Alumni Clubs

Miss Maryon Farrer, '18, as chairman of the Alumni Relations Committee has worked unceasingly to establish and foster as many alumni clubs as possible, and a special feature of this issue was to have been a resume of activities from the twelve clubs.

The editor wrote each club to that end, but not all replied. We are grateful to those who did respond and trust that others will write us so that the next issue can carry news from all our clubs. (When you read this, get busy and arouse your Mansfield alumni friends in order that our club program may continue to grow.)

The following items are largely direct quotes from the letters received:

Mae L. Light, '29
Secretary-Treasurer
Philadelphia Area Club

The Mansfield Alumni Association of the Greater Philadelphia Area held its 1957 annual get-together at Valley Forge Park on Saturday, June 1.

A covered dish picnic was shared by twenty-nine members and twenty-seven guests. Classes represented ranged from 1895 to 1760, with Mrs. Ruby A. Taylor from the former class and Miss Beckie Smith, who has just finished her first year at M.S.T.C., from the latter.

During the business meeting at which Dr. J. Edward Smith, president, presided, it was decided to send a contribution of $50 to the Scholarship Loan Fund.

Mrs. Kathryn Roberts Fox, class of 1924, represented the group at Mansfield Alumni Day, and Miss Jean Hall, class of 1914, and Mr. Walter Strait, class of 1907, also attended. Their resume of the activities brought back fond memories of Mansfield.

Officers in 1956-57 were:
President, Dr. J. Edward Smith, '25
First V. President, Russell Alden, 1927
Second V. President, Anna Sheffer Gibson, 1922
Secretary-Treasurer, Mae L. Light, 1929

Officers elected for the ensuing year are:
President, Alexander M. Hardie, 1932
First V. President, Ruth Chamberlain, 1937
Second V. President, Anthony Petrillo, 1936
Secretary-Treasurer, Mae L. Light, 1929

Laura C. Strader, '21
Past President
Metropolitan Club, New York

It is with much embarrassment that I must write you that the Metropolitan Alumni Club is no longer in existence. There are many contributing factors to the situation, and as time goes on, the club incentive gets remote.

In brief: During the war, club activities were discontinued,—and then the officers moved away—except myself and my first attempts to get started again were not successful. At various times, I have talked to a member here and there on the Island about lending a hand in re-organization but most every one is so involved with the 'mad-rat-race' of metropolitan living they didn't feel they could give the time, so nothing has developed.

I will make one more attempt to turn this project over to some alumnus this fall, and hope that we will be able to come back into existence.

Emily Van Horn
Past President
Penn-York Club

I am sorry for this delay in the answer to your June 22 letter. It is that time has gone very rapidly and I have been on a trip which took in the N.E.A. Convention.

The officers for the Penn-York Club are:

President: Mrs. Otto Pratt
3752 Hoover Avenue
Endwell, New York
Vice- Pres.: Mr. Kenneth Kintner
68 Allen Street
Johnson City, New York
Secretary: Mr. Natal George
56 Fairview Avenue
Binghamton, New York
Treasurer: Miss Delores O'Hara
210 Crarles Street
Johnson City, New York
Historia: Mr. John Hannon
89 Mason Avenue
Binghamton, New York

The Penn-York Club held its annual meeting at St. John's Memorial Center, Johnson City, New York, June 8, 1957. Over seventy members were present.

Mr. Fred Jupenlaz, Public Relations Director, and Dr. Richard Wilson, General Alumni President, brought "greetings" and told of the College's progress these past years.

The group watched with enthusiasm and interest the dances done by Ukranians and the baton twirling of Miss Barbara Emminger, the Junior world champion. The evening closed with the game "Bunco", and all feeling they had had a grand time.

The only dark shadow cast on the event was the knowledge that the College was to lose its President, James G. Morgan. A letter was sent to him expressing the sincere sentiment and regrets of the group.

The next meeting will be held in June, 1958. The time and place will be announced later.

Josephine Larison, '10
Program Chairman
Steuben County Club

Because Mr. Shearer had to leave town on business several hours after receiving your letter, he asked me to send the information you requested.

Steuben County Mansfield Alumni Club officers are:

President: Mr. William Shearer
First V. President: Mrs. Bernard Sheidweiler
Second V. President: Mrs. Margaret Lapp
Secretary: Miss Stella Pierce
Treasurer: Mrs. Hugh Smith
Program Chairman: Mrs. Donald Larison

During the past two years our club has been inactive. Living in an "over-organized" community has made it difficult to draw a large enough attendance to carry on club activities. We were represented at the Centennial celebration in Mansfield. The school consolidation program has occupied the time and efforts of many Mansfield alumni during the past two years, but we are planning a meeting in the form of an outing early this fall.

Velma Smith, '25
President
Chemung County Club

We do not have another election of officers until our October 8 meeting. The present officers are as follows:

President: Velma Smith
Vice President: Willard Ehlers
Treasurer: Ann Conbog
Secretary: Mrs. Eugene McLain

In our by-laws, officers can hold office for only one year so I appointed a nominating committee to report October 8, and I will be glad to send you the names as soon as I know who is chosen.

Dr. Dalrymple

DR. DALRYMPLE RETIRES

Charles O. Dalrymple, who graduated from Mansfield Normal in the Class of 1907, has recently retired after nearly fifty years in educational work. After leaving Mansfield he continued his education at Cornell University and getting his doctorate there. He took further work at the Teachers College, Columbia, and Boston University.

His teaching experience included: Principal of Colebrook Academy, Colebrook, N. Y.; Superintendent of Schools, Colebrook; Principal of High School, Attleboro, Mass., 12 years. Also he did special teaching in Massachussettes Teacher Colleges, Boston University and Bates College, Maine.

He has published books on Science and Education, as well as collaborated in an Arithmetic textbook.

He married Marion E. Skinner, a Maine girl who was a teacher in one of his schools. They have two children: Eugene P. Dalrymple, dentist in Camden, Maine, anl Paul C. Dalrymple, Micrometerologist, at present with the Byrd Expedition at Little America, and will be at the South Pole during the coming winter.

He bought property at Port Clyde, Maine, and lives there the year around, being one of the selectmen of Port Clyde.

Delphic Fraternity

The centennial of the founding of Mansfield State Teachers College was also the Sixtieth Anniversary of the Delphic Fraternity which thrived in Mansfield Normal from 1897 until about 1915, when the old fraternities and societies were banished.

This was not the oldest fraternity, was in fact almost the youngest. The Normal Literary Society and the Athenaean Societies were formed in 1868 and 1869 respectively. The Philalethean Fraternity and the Agonian Sorority were formed in the 1890's. The Clionian, (girls) was established soon after the Delphics.

For many years now the Delphics have been coming back to Mansfield for their annual reunion. Each year brings from 25 to 40 of the old members to renew acquaintances and talk over old times.

The banquet this year was served by the ladies of the Baptist Church. Bill Hetrick furnished the music and Harold Strait led the singing. The meeting adjourned in time for the Centennial Entertainment.

Those present at the banquet this year were: Maxwell Baxter, Waverly, N. Y.; J. D. Bradford, Troy; Curtis Campbell, Corning, N. Y.; Miles DeCoursey, Jersey Shore; Dr. John H. Doane, Dallas; Sheldon Frost, Cherry Creek, N. Y.; Eugene Frutiger, Liberty; John Jaquish, Tunkhannock; Clarence Mott, Williamsport; William J. Norman, Indiana, Pa.; William Payne, Purden Sta., N. Y.; Maynard Reynolds, Canton; Bert Richmond, Alfred, N. Y.; Everett Stephens, Carbondale; Walter Strait, Drexel Hill and Wentworth Vedder, Jr., York.

And the following from Mansfield: Stephen Beach, E. S. Coles, P. A. Coles, Kimble Marvin, Walter Shaw, Colie Starkey, Harold Strait, Ernest Stuart, and Myron Webster.

Karl F. Van Norman

Graduate Manager,
Karl F. VanNorman Passes

Karl, F. VanNorman, class of 1906 died at his home November 29, 1956 at the age of 70. A quarterback of note on the Normal teams of 1905-06, he maintained his football interest through the years, and until the last year of his life, rarely missed a practice or home game. He was elected graduate manager about 1918 and held that position with distinction until his death.

Karl was an authority on athletic statistics over the years and at one time wrote a rather complete history of Mansfield football.

His business interests included the theater business of Mansfield, with which he was affiliated for 53 years, and the Mansfield Public Library where he was librarian since 1927.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Marian Greener VanNorman; daughters, Mrs. Charles F. Jerabek, Mrs. Peter Paul Rice anl Mrs. R. Kelts Dillman. Mrs. VanNorman and all three daughters are graduates of Mansfield.

M.S.T.C. SOUVENIR PLATES AVAILABLE

Your Alumni Association still has some M.S.T.C. Souvenir Plates. These show the Alumni Hall Clock Tower, which is so familiar to graduates of Mansfield.

They are priced at $2.00. If sent by mail, add 50c for State Tax, postage and insurance. Mail your check to Miss Helen Wood, Secretary, and she will see that a plate is sent to you.

If by any possible chance your plate is broken in the mail, notify your postmaster at once, and he will take proper steps to see that your Association is reimbursed. This will probably be done through the Mansfield Advertiser, as they have the facilities for mailing these plates.

Also, notify Miss Wood at once and another plate will be sent to you.

Dean E. Phelps

Dean E. Phelps dies;
Athlete, Coach, Justice, Farmer

Dean E. Phelps, a man of many callings, died July 3, 1957 after a lingering illness.

A Mansfield graduate of 1900, Dean attended Bucknell University and was a member of the country's first All-American football team.

He returned to Mansfield Normal to coach in 1901-02. Dean enjoyed a varied life, being a teacher and high school principal, later a farmer and finally a retired farmer and justice of the peace.

He was considered an expert on football and was called upon frequently for advice which he gave in his own philosophical manner. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mattie Gillette Phelps; daughter, Mrs. Fred D. Bennett; stepmother, Mrs. Ethel Phelps, one brother and three sisters.

NEW ADMINISTRATION AND LIBRARY BUILDING

Plans Are Progressing For Larger Enrollment

Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber

Dear Alumni:

The return of so many alumni this past spring was a very pleasant sight to all of us because we value most highly your kind thoughts and your many deeds in support of our Alma Mater. The large number who returned was also a tribute to Mr. Leon Lunn and his Faculty Alumni Committee who worked hard to develop the program.

Most of you know that we have moved strongly in the direction of strengthening our alumni program. Mr. Lunn heads this particular service of the college. We have set aside a regular alumni office, and Mr. Lunn will be available to travel to various alumni meetings.

You will all be interested to learn that work on the new Library Administration Building as well as the new athletic field should begin before the end of the summer We have also been successful in obtaining an additional appropriation from the General State Authority in the amount of $210,000. This money has been earmarked for the renovation of the Education Center Building—more familiar to alumni as the yellow brick model school.

Summer school enrollment during the summer of 1958 was 160, an increase of 40 over the summer enrollment of 1957. Of even more significance is the fact that our enrollment in September 1958 will be over 800. This represents an increase of 120 above our enrollment in September 1957.

We have added much in the way of new equipment and improved physical facilities during the past year. We have new risers for the Auditorium. new equipment in physics and electronics; we will have new drapes for the entire college and new furniture on the first and second floor wells by September. We are especially happy about our library plans. We have added two more assistant librarians to the staff and will expand our book holdings from 35,000 volumes to 40,000. This will be a systematic increase until we eventually have some 90,000 volumes.

Please plan to set aside October 11, as Homecoming Day. We are anxious for you to come and see for yourself the changes being made to make Mansfield the best small college in the state and nation.

Sincerely,
LEWIS W. RATHGEBER
President

Alumni Enjoy Pleasant Day on Campus

Capacity crowds, a new administration, a newly organized Alumni Committee, a trip to "Oklahoma", and variable weather were all a part of the Connencement weekend at Mansfield State Teachers College.

The first such weekend in the institution's second century of progress began with Alumni Day, Saturday, May 24, when nearly 700 persons were in attendance at the luncheon, in addition to the usual large number who ate elsewhere. Dr. J. Lloyd Straughn, '28, of West Chester, Pa., was Chairman of the Alumni Meeting in Straughn Auditorium at 11:00 a.m. and Mrs. Esther Colwell English, '28, of Mansfield, acted as Secretary. The graduating class was presented early in the meeting by their sponsor, Mr. Bertram Francis, and were received into the Alumni Association by Waren L. Miller, '19, Vice-President. Robert O'Neill, Class President, responded for the Class of 1958.

College President, Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber, greeted the Alumni with emphasis upon the importance of the Alumni to the well-being and progress to any institution. Music for the meeting was furnished by the Brass Ensemble under the direction of Dr. Benjamin Husted, '47.

The Nominating Committee Chairman, Edwin S. Coles, '00, submitted the following slate: Directors for 1958-61 Louise Palmer Harris, '30, Rutland; Agnes Burt Scutt, '30, Mansfield; and Melvin Woodard, '58, Wellsburg, N. Y. Officers for the 1959 Alumni Day are: Joe Fred Bedenk, '19, Chairman; Robert Norris, '39, Dr. Ellsworth Obourn, '19, and Kenneth Perschau, '49, Vice-Chairmen; Elizabeth Youngkin Beach, '24, Mansfield, Secretary.

Chairman Straughn called for comments from older and anniversary classes, with gratifying results. A comparatively large number of persons were present from all classes, and the following responded: 1891, Grace Cruttenden Bailey; 1893 Mabel Shipman Shaw, Louise Adams Brophy, and the Rev. John T. Williammee; 1896, William D. Bradway; 1898, Mattie Bodine Keeler (4 class members present); 1908, Everett Morley; 1913, Leo Bailey; 1918, the Hon. Harry McInroy 1933, Ferris Lutes; 1938, Joseph Berzito; 1943, John Campana; 1946, James Ritter; 1953, Julia Wertz Doughty.

The Meeting ended with the traditional Alma Mater and recessional of the newly admitted Class of 1958.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICE

Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, May 25, 1958, a large congregation attended the Baccalaureate Service in Straughn Auditorium. The Rev. Dr. Norman W. Clemens, District Superintendent of the Binghamton District, Methodist Church, spoke on the topic, "Your Equipment for Living". Music was by the College Choir, directed by Mr. Eugene Jones. The Rev. Donald Cronk of the Methodist Church, Mansfield, gave the Invocation and Benediction and Mr. John B. Little was organist.

THE NINETY-EIGHTH COMMENCEMENT

The Ninety-Eighth Commencement was held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, May 25, 1958, in Straughn Auditorium. The Invocation and Benediction were given by the Rev. Bruce Campbell, Rector of St. James Episcopal Church, Mansfield. Miss Florence Borkey played the processional and recessional.

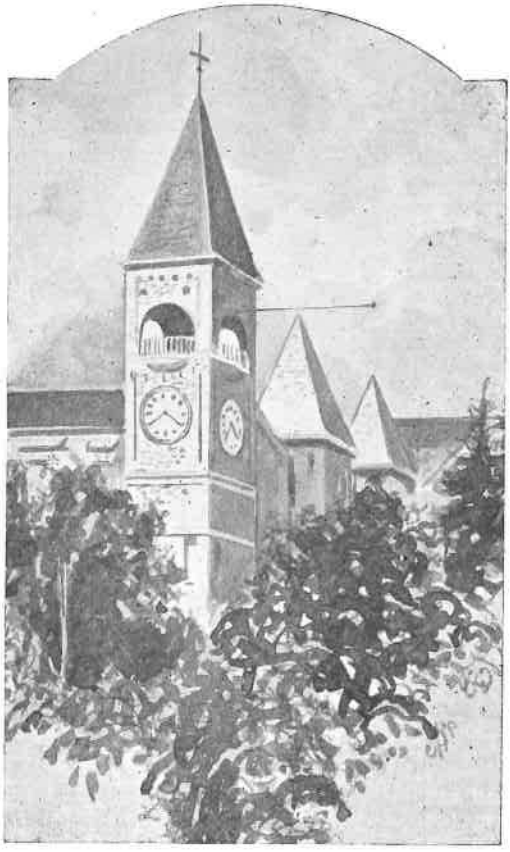
The Superintendent of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania, Dr. Charles H. Boehm, brought to the graduates and to the standing-room audience an inspiring address which thoroughly outlined the "teaching world" in which the newly certified teachers would find themselves. He also brought out choice words of wisdom relative to the teacher's place in the school and society.

Miss Jean Wildermuth, '58. sang a soprano solo, with Miss Jessie Ruvo. '58, and Miss Carol Davis, '58, accompanists.

Dr. Harry Earlley, presented 131 degree candidates to College President, Dr. Lewis Rathgeber, who conferred the degrees. The Department heads, Dr. Clarence Hunsicker, Dr. Clarence Mutchler, Mrs. Elizabeth Morales and Miss Marjorie Brooks, performed the very colorful hooding ceremony for their respective Departments.

DEAN CURE HONORED

John W. Cure, for many years Dean of Men at M.S.T.C., was an honored guest at Bucknell University on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of his graduation from there.



An Era Ends At M.S.T.C.

The end of an era has taken place at Mansfield State Teachers College. Its passing was as inconspicuous as as was its beginning.

In the lazy sunshine of a breezy late spring day in June, college maintenance crews went about their work unnoticed, as students and teachers hurried to their pre-session courses, and townspeople went about their work as usual.

Just seventy-two years ago, come July 23, dedication ceremonies were held in front of the "Alumni Hall", a three-story brick building containing classrooms, offices and concert hall.

The occasion was the presentation by the Alumni Association of Mansfield Normal School, as the college was then known, of a huge bronze bell to be placed in the building's tower. The bell, which weighed two tons, was cast by the McShane Foundry Company of Baltimore, Maryland, in 1886. Its peal, striking each hour, became commonplace.

In the tower just below the bell, a huge clock with two faces was placed, cast in iron and glass. The roman numerals measured one foot each, and the faces of the clock, more than seven feet in diameter, weighed approximately 1000 pounds each. The weights which moved the hands of the clock totaled one ton.

As the years passed, the popularity of the tower grew. Graduates.... sweethearts....proud parents . . . all had pictures taken with the tower as a background. "Meet you at the

The Alumni Exhibit was held in South Hall Lounge. This fine display reflected credit upon the Committee in general and especially the co-chairmen, Mrs. Ruth Hughes Marsh, '41 and Catherine Kuster, '50, who were ably assisted by Mrs. Inez Coles Leonard, '08, all of Mansfield.

At 4:00 p.m. President Rathgeber and his mother entertained the Alumni at tea at the president's home.

At 6:30 p.m. a service was conducted on the campus to memoralize Alumni Hall, which will soon be replaced by a new building. This service was arranged largely through the efforts of George Beyer, '58, Robert Kennan, '58 and Dale Stewart, '60. Speakers for the event were: Mrs. Mary Strange Rose, '12; Barbara Press, '58; Fred Jupenlaz, '31; Michael Fleming, '60; Orville Dickerson, '48; and Dr. Lewis Rathgeber.

At 8:00 p.m. Saturday evening, a new level of entertainment was reached on campus when a capacity audience witnessed "Oklahoma", directed by Mr. Jack Wilcox, '47, and produced by the Opera Workshop. Space does not permit a just analysis of this production but it can be said that a truly professional presentation resulted from this masterly direction of Mr. Wilcox and the superb acting and singing of the cast.

AN ERA ENDS

tower" became a well-used phrase. Soon it became the most distinguished building on campus.

Through the snows of winter to the colorful splendor of autumn, the beauty and magnificance of the tower prevailed.

Last week, amid the clamor of hammers, rattle of drills, shouts of men, and the sound of straining rope, the clock and bell were dismantled and gradually eased from their long-time resting places and stored, in order that the tower and Alumni Hall could be demolished. In its place will be a new four-story building which will house administrative offices and the college library.

MESSAGE FROM ALUMNI PRESIDENT

Greetings Alumni:

Commencement Weekend at Mansfield State Teachers College began with Alumni Day, Saturday, May 24th. The feeling of interest in the College and in activities of the day was evidenced by the large crowd in attendance. The annual meeting of the Association was ably handled by Lloyd Straughn, Class of 1928; greetings to the Alumni were extended by Warren L. Miller, Vice-President of the Association; old friendships were renewed at class reunions; President Rathgeber and his mother, Mrs. Rathgeber, welcomed the Alumni at a tea in the President's home; the memorial program to Alumni Hall was conducted on the front campus and the day came to a close with a magnificant production of "Oklahoma" under the direction of Jack Wilcox, '47, of the Music Department.

Such a successful day can only come about through the combined efforts of many people and credit for the organization must be extended to Leon Lunn, Chairman of the Alumni Relations Committee of the College and its members, and to the several hundreds of loyal alumni who came from near and far to pay homage to their Alma Mater. To all of you a sincere expression of appreciation.

This word of greeting from an officer of your Alumni Association would not be complete without a tribute to those loyal Alumni who year after year pay their dues, thus creating funds without which the Association could not operate, and to the various Alumni Clubs which utilize their numerous opportunities for promoting the welfare of the College. May you continue the good work.

Let us look to the future with pride and optimism. May the College and the Association work hand in hand to promote those principles upon which the College was founded. Any suggestions you may have for the betterment of your Association should be offered to an officer of the Association and due consideration will be given them by Executive Committee. Best wishes to you and may we see you at a club meeting in your area or at next year's Alumni Day.

Richard Wilson, President
General Alumni Association

Mr. Leon Lunn, '36

NEW COMMITTEE APPOINTED AT M.S.T.C.

The policy of giving the faculty and students greater voice in the future development of Mansfield State Teachers College was further emphasized with the announcement of the Faculty-Student Alumni Relations Committee. In announcing the committee—all alumni of Mansfield—Dr. Rathgeber, Mansfield's President, underscored the interest of the college in developing a strong, active group in every county of the state.

Mr. Leon Lunn, Mansfield Class of 1936, will serve as chairman of the committee consisting of John Baynes, Catherine Kuster, Ruth Hughes Marsh, John Reese, Louise Smith, Jack Wilcox, and Dr. Richard Wilson. Dr. Rathgeber stated that Mr. Lunn's administrative experience as a former supervising principal in McKean county would be a strong asset in carrying out the work of the committee.

Mr. Lunn, following a meeting with the committee, said: "Basically what we are trying to do is to closely coordinate college-alumni contacts and bring about a united effort for the betterment of M.S.T.C. The older alumni have been a pillar of strength in the past, but more recent graduates have been less in evidence at alumni functions. We want to bring in all groups."

The Alumni Committee has been given an office on the 2nd floor of North Hall along with clerical help to aid in establishing more and better coordinated alumni relations.

Mrs. Ila Lugg Wiley

Mrs. Ila Lugg Wiley, '25, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Mansfield State Teachers College, was elected Treasurer of the Association of Trustees for the Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges on March 21 at their annual meeting in Harrisburg. The Association is an organization formed by all of the Trustees of the 14 State Teachers Colleges.

Besides Mrs. Wiley, Mrs. J. J. McMillen and Mrs. Nellie V. Curran, members of the Mansfield Board and College President, Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber, attended the meeting whose theme was "preparing Qualified Teachers in a Satellite Age."

At the luncheon meeting the trustees together with the college presidents, heard an inspiring address by Dr. Charles H. Boehm, on the long range plans and policies for Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges.

A. Brief Sketch of Its History

The first class to graduate from the State Normal School of Mansfield was in June 1866. It numbered 15 men and women. In 1867 there were 29 and in 1868, 28. These graduates came back for Commencement and in 1869 held the first Alumni meeting. They decided to form a permanent organization and papers were drawn up and signed by 34 members of the Alumni. This petition was presented to the Tioga County Court on August 31, 1870. On Feb. 11 a charter was granted. This charter gave the Association authority to "take and receive, hold and enjoy, all and all manners of lands, tenements, rents, franchises and other hereditaments, and any sum or sums of money." Management of the Association was vested in the President, Secretary, Treasurer and two trustees, to be elected each year. This charter has been amended to conform to the change in the name from State Normal School to State Teachers College, and to provide the continuing, interlocking organization that we have today. Three trustees, or members of the Executive Committee, are elected each year for a term of 3 years. .

The Charter members, and other members of the Alumni have sent their children and grandchildren to be graduated from their Alma Mater. Over 8,000 teachers have been graduated from Mansfield, most of whom taught in various communities. Today our graduates can be found in almost every State in the Union, as well as Alaska, Hawaii, and foreign lands.

Our graduates have been:

Presidents of Liberal Arts and Teachers Colleges.
Members of the faculty of those institutions.
City and County Superintendents.
Principals and Supervising Principals in many cities and towns.
Governor of Pennsylvania.
Members of Governors' cabinets.
Judge of the Supreme Court.
Judge of many County Courts in several States.
U. S. Attorney.
Attorney General of several states.
U. S. Diplomatic Service.
Ministers and Missionaries.
Army, Navy and Air Force officials.
President of Railroad.
Physicians and Hospital Directors.
Poets, Authors and Editors.
Prison Wardens and aides.
And heads of many business corporations.

After the death of Prof. Allen the Alumni began to raise a fund to erect a building to be named in honor of him, and for the use of the Alumni. However, the State of Pennsylvania built a large building with an auditorium and class rooms. This was named Alumni Hall and was finished in 1886. The Association voted to furnish a bell and clock for the Tower that has been a landmark for so many years. They gave the bell at a cost of $550 when the building was completed but they had also undertaken the raising of a fund to aid worthy students who would come to Mansfield Normal, so the clock was delayed until 1907.

The fund for aiding students has occupied the interest of the Alumni all through the years. until now it has reached over $40,000. The income from this sum is available for loans to any student at Mansfield.

The Alumni joined in the celebration of the 50th anniversary of its recognition as a State Normal School. It also joined in the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Mansfield Classical Seminary which grew into Mansfield State Teachers College. This was celebrated last year.

Mansfield has been fortunate in having so many loyal Alumni. They have formed many local clubs in New York, Philadelphia, Elmira. Corning, and nearby counties. The first information we have of these clubs was the invitation to the Alumni in 1908 to attend the Tenth Annual Picnic of the Elmira Alumni to be held in Grove Park on Aug. 12.

The early Alumni started the custom of planting trees on the campus. which was practically bare. Each class planted a tree and some were planted by the teachers. The trees on Normal Hill behind North Hall, which was also bare 60 years ago, were planted by fraternities that flourished here from the late nineties.

The Association has the minutes of all meetings, (except one) since 1908. The book from 1908 on is numbered 3. What became of the others is unknown, and we would appreciate any information you can give us about them.

This is merely a sketch of the Alumni history, which we are preparing. The writer has been associated with the Alumni since the Celebration in 1912. He has been gathering data preparing to compile some sort of record while there are living Alumni who may have information.

What we plan is to get in manuscript form a comprehensive history in which we can give the names of those who have had a part in your Alumni Association.

The Association has for several years prepared an exhibit of mementos and antiques relative to the Alumni. The photos of the graduates of the early classes on exhibit on swinging panels were formerly hung in big frames on the walls of Alumni Hall until there was not room left. The committee in charge of the Semi-Centennial in 1912 decided on the present plan in order to preserve them. Be sure to visit this exhibit in the Lounge of South Hall. If you have anything to contribute we will be pleased to have it.

Also, any information for the history should be sent to Helen Wood, Alumni Secretary, or to Edwin S. Coles, both of Mansfield, Pa.

M.S.T.C. LIBRARY

PART OF SURVEY

Mansfield State Teachers College has been selected for special study in the Pennsylvania Library Survey, Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber, President of the College announced.

The Survey, conducted by the Department of Public Instruction under the direction of the State Librarian, is made possible by a Federal grant.

Particular emphasis is placed in studying those facilities outside metropolitan areas where the state can be of further assistance, ways in which local groups of librarians can assist one another, and areas where each library can help itself.

"Mansfield was selected for special study because of progress made in library service in this area and because of continuing problems of service remaining here," Dr. Rathgeber said, adding, "In the development of any institution of higher learning, the library must be the hub of campus activity. Faculty and students are the first essential parts. If they have a library, the process of learning can be stimulated so as to produce startling educational results."

The proposed Library-Administration Building will consist of four floors, the administrative offices occupying the lower floor, with the three upper floors reserved for library use.

Theodore J. Spentzas '55

NEW BUSINESS MANAGER FOR MSTC

Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber, President of Mansfield State Teachers College, announced the appointment of the new college Business Manager on April 9, 1958. He is Mr. Theodore J. Spentzas of Towanda, Penna.

During the past two years he has been a Management Analyst in the Department of Public Instruction. He has dealt extensively with problems of budgeting, contractual procedures, purchasing, inventory control, personnel efficiency, and space utilization. He has worked closely with the teachers colleges on many of their budgeting problems and has visited several of them during the past few months.

Mr. Spentzas is married and the father of one child. He began work on April 14.

In commenting on the appointment, Dr. Rathgeber said, "We are not only happy that Mr. Spentzas is a Mansfield product, but we are also highly pleased with his competent background and experience in Teachers College financial matters."

MSTC CHOSEN FOR AREA CURRICULUM STUDY

Mansfield State Teachers College has been designated by the Department of Public Instruction as one of the thirteen centers for Pennsylvania's Program of Curriculum Study and Instruction Improvement. An Area Curriculum Committee of twenty-eight public school administrators and teachers has been organized and held its first meeting at the college on April 29, 1958. Reports were given on research studies being carried on in public schools in the area. Plans were made for the activities of next school year and for an Area Conference on Instruction Improvement in April, 1959. Reports on research will be distributed to all areas in Pennsylvania and will be on file in the Curriculum Center Office. Dr. Earl W. Seibert was appointed Chairman of the Area Curriculum Committee by President Lewis W. Rathgeber. Also representing MSTC on the committee are Dean Harry W. Earlley and Dr. Richard M. Wilson.

THE ALUMNI DIRECTORY

The supply of Alumni Directories has been exhausted. The State does not pay for Alumni Directories, and we will have to wait until the Association can again amass sufficient funds to have new ones printed.

Our previous directories have been financed through dues and gifts from loyal and generous Alumni, and we will soon begin a drive to gather more funds.

Meantime work is still being carried on to bring the Alumni List up-to-date. If there is any correction to be made in your address please send it in at once to Miss Helen Wood, Secretary of the General Alumni Association, Mansfield, Pa.

SOUVENIR PLATES

Alumni Clubs

Lycoming Country Club

Thirty-two people attended the fifteenth annual dinner meeting of the Lycoming County Mansfield Alumni Club held at the Village Tea Room at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Burnette Eisenbeis led the group in singing the Doxology. Mr. John Little from the College was in charge of the entertainment after the meal. He brought with him Miss Joy Wallace, a sophomore who sang four selections, and Mr. Manzo Hill, a junior who also sang several selections.

President Michael Casale then welcomed all present and extended thanks to the following committees:

Dinner: Mrs. Dorothy Ritter
Decorations: Miss Charlene and Miss Joan Collins
Steering: Mrs. Jane Strous and Mrs. Mariam Mix

Mr. Leon Lunn, Chairman of the Alumni Relations Committee announced that Alumni Day would be held May 24. Plans are set for a usual day plus a performance of "Oklahoma" at 8:00 p.m. being directed by Jack Wilcox.

Our next speaker was Dr. Rathgeber. He told us of the plan for renovating buildings on campus and stated that $1650 was available through Alumni Funds for scholarships. Six of these will be in music to try to broaden the string program at the College and three each in the Elementary, Secondary, and Home Economics Departments. He also related that golf has been added as the fourth intercollegiate sport.

Three more people made known to the group were prospective students Nancy Koch, Raeneta Saar, and Bruce Thomas.

Money will be added to the scholarship collection of the evening of $15.50, to make a $25.00 scholarship in the name of Leatha Patterson, our deceased board member.

Newly elected officers were:

Treasurer: Miss Dawn Harer, Linden, Pennsylvania
Director: Mrs. Dorothy Ritter, 404 Main St., So. Williamsport.

After the singing of "Mansfield Hail", directed by Mrs. Eisenbeis and accompanied by Mr. Little, the meeting adjourned.

Chemung County Club

The spring meeting of the area Mansfield alumni was held at the Horseheads High School on April 22nd with 70 members attending.

The Reverend Norris A. Sours, '49, offered the invocation. Miss Peggy Gavin, '58, rendered the vocal selections, "Danny Boy", "If I loved you" from "Carousel" and "You Are Love" from "Showboat". Miss Cora Atwater accompanied Miss Gavin.

President Austin Thomas conducted the business meeting. The group decided to continue meeting twice a year, and the Fall meeting is scheduled for October 7, (Tuesday) 1958, at the Horseheads High School. The following committees were appointed:

Nominating:
Mrs. Vivian Dailey
Thomas J. Hurley
Miss Muriel Wright
Decorating:
Peter Pazahanick
Entertainment:
Edward A. Netski

Following the business meeting Mr. Leon E. Lunn spoke on the contemplated building changes at the college, and outlined his activities as chairman of the alumni relations committee whose main objectives are to act as the connecting link between the college administration and the alumni associations and to render better service to the alumni. Mr. Lunn elaborated on the drive for the preservation of the "alumni clock". He also outlined the bulletin "News for Alumni" which is to be mailed to all Alumni. Mr. Lunn requested that those who do not receive the bulletin submit their addresses to the alumni office at Mansfield.

Dr. Richard Wilson, President of Alumni Associations, explained the present expansion of alumni clubs, and expressed hope for further expansion in other areas.

The final portion of the meeting was devoted to the renewing of old friendships and the acquaintance of new club members.

PROF. C. S. GILBERT DIES

Prof. C. S. Gilbert, for many years instructor in penmanship at M.S.T.C., died suddenly at his home in Mansfield on July 13. He retired several years ago. He was in demand by students of the College and Mansfield citizens for embellishing scrolls, citations, etc.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ethel Gilbert. She has gone to Pacific Grove, Calif., to live with her sister.

Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery, Mansfield.

GAVE TALK ON ALASKA

J. Ellsworth McCarthy, principal of the high school in Fairbanks, Alaska, gave a talk on that state in the parlors of the Methodist Church in Mansfield recently.

Ellsworth is one of the outstanding graduates of Mansfield State Teachers College. He graduated first in 1938, and then got his degree of B. S. in Secondary Education in 1949. He went to Fairbanks as principal of the high school when there were only 150 students, and their school was an old building. Since then the enrollment has increased to 800 and they have a fine modern building.

His mother, Vesta Fritsche McCarthy, lives with him and makes the trip by motor back and forth to her home in Mansfield. She graduated from Mansfield Normal in 1899, taught several years, then moved back to Mansfield because of its educational advantages. After she went to Alaska with Ellsworth she also taught for a few years.

M.S.T.C. ALUMNI GET DOCTORATES

From the beginning of Mansfield Normal many graduates have gone on for higher education, but it has been difficult to get information.

In a recent survey on "Baccalaureate Origins of Doctorates", prepared by the National Acodemy of Science, the report of Teachers Colleges of Pennsylvania shows that Mansfield State Teachers College has had 20 graduates get their doctorates since 1936.

Fourteen of these were in education, 2 in chemistry, and one each in botany, sociology, music and English.

Compared with other Teachers Colleges the size of Mansfield, our Alumni have a good record. Bloomsburg and Lock Haven have 21 each, Stroudsburg 23, Kutztown 15 and Clarion 11.

Previous to 1936 there were also many Alumni with Ph. D. Some of these are shown in the Alumni Directory, but the Association has not been able to get all of them. If yours is missing please let us know.

DELPHIC FRATERNITY

The Delphic Fraternity, which was active in Mansfield State Normal School from 1899 to 1915, held their annual banquet in the Baptist Church Parlors Saturday, May 24. Due to other activities there were only 19 out. Earl Shaw presided in the absence of Harold Strait. Greetings were read from many unable to be present. The Delphics have been holding these banquets on Alumni evening for many years.

Those present from out of town included: Burdel Phillips, Largo, Fla.; B. A. Rockwell, Hershey, Pa.; Rayburn Smith, Lancaster, N. Y.; George Frost, Cherry Creek, N. Y.; Harry Marvin, Syracuse, N. Y.; J. D. Bradford, Troy, Pa.; Eugene Frutiger, Liberty. Pa.; Walter Strait, Drexel Hill, Pa.; William J. Norman. Indiana, Pa.; Miles M. Decoursey, Jersey Shore, Pa. The following were present from Mansfield: E. Coles; M. Webster, W. Shaw, E. Shaw, E. Stewart, S. Beach, E. Nash.

Message for MANSFIELDIAN

Many and hearty greetings to Mansfield Alumni:

It looks as if 1959 will be a banner year for Mansfield! This will be a year which will see much emphasis on the basic purpose of Mansfield's existence—providing the best education to develop the best graduates! The faculty is thinking more and more on curriculum development. Is the framework of our course structure adequate for the mid-20th century? The faculty is thinking about the internal content of individual courses. Is the course content adequate for the times? Does it reflect the latest thought involving the tremendous advances in all areas of knowledge in the past thirty years? Does the presentation of this course reflect the advances in educational philosophy in recent years?

The phenomenal rise in admissions—some 23% in September 1958 over September, 1957, and the largest of any of the teachers colleges—has obligated us to look at our admissions policy to make sure that we obtain the best qualified student for each vacant place. Our scholarship program, which preceded the National Defense Act, has been strongly oriented in the direction of the top-notch student who shows a valid need. Some 14 students are being aided by this program. We intend to take advantage of the National Defense Act which provides loans to students, but we are proud of the fact that even prior to this program, Mansfield was taking action ON ITS OWN to develop a scholarship program.

We are especially pleased with the work of Mr. Lunn and his Alumni Relations Committee This group has not only expanded our alumni activity, but Mr. Lunn has been and will be travelling a great deal to keep in touch with you.

Demolition of Alumni Hall is completed. The new Library-Administration Building will be ready by June 1960 and the new Athletic Field will be ready even before 1960. Those of you who recall the yellow brick Education Center Building will be happy to know that the interior of this building will be completely renovated in the near future. The Elementary School has been repainted and renovated during the winter—thanks to the willingness of our Elementary School faculty and students to shoulder the inconvenience of men at work while school was in session. We have made great additions to our Library holdings, running into thousands of volumes. New lighting has improved the Library area and we have doubled the floor space.

By the end of 1959 there will not be a structure on this campus which has not had some renovations, re-painting or repairs of a major nature the past three years.

Finally, we are happy to announce that Mr. J. Ellsworth McCarthy, Class of 1949, will be our Commencement speaker. Mr McCarthy is Principal of the Fairbanks, Alaska, High School and a part-time member of the faculty of the University of Alaska. His mother will be celebrating her 60th class anniversary this year (Vesta Fritzche McCarthy, Class of 1899).

We hope you will all be here in May to see these changes for yourselves.

Sincerely,

LEWIS W. RATHGEBER

NEW PLANS DEVELOPED

The development of a Faculty-Student Seminar at Mansfield STC has been announced by Dr. Earl Seibert, Co-Chairman of the Curriculum Committee. Two Seminars have already been held.

The Seminar series began at the suggestion of faculty members in the Secondary Education Department with an interest in interdepartmental and interdisciplinary discussions.

The first Seminar discussed "The Integration of Subject Matter", and when the meeting adjourned, many phases of the problem were uncovered and resolved.

The last Seminar was titled "The Integration of Art, Music, Literature, and History." Faculty members from those subject areas sat on the panel.

The Seminars begin with a general sharing of points of view on the topic under discussion by the Faculty members on the panel after which questions are invited from the student.

It is expected that the College will expand this program by scheduling Seminars for the Faculty and Students interested in a particular subject area.

DEPARTMENTAL NEWS

Elementary Department News

The Freshmen class for 1958-'59 has an enrollment of 71 students, which is the largest freshman class in the Elementary Department in recent years. Another encouraging sign is that approximately one-third of these students are men.

Members of the Elementary Department Staff have been working on a plan for revising the curriculum in Elementary Education. An evaluation of the present program has been made by studying the results of questionaires completed by last year's Seniors and recent graduates. Proposals by the State Council of Education for teacher certification and opinions received from administrators in our service area were also considered in setting up a program of General Education recommended by the Elementary Department staff.

The Elementary School welcomed three new faces at the opening of the 1958-1959 term:

Miss Patricia Curran is teaching third grade, replacing Mrs. Marsh, who was transferred to first grade. Miss Curran hails from Galeton, where she attended public school.

Miss Curran did her undergraduate work at Mercyhurst College, Erie, Pa., where she earned her B.A. degree. Her graduate work was done at Fordham University, New York City, where she earned an M.S. degree.

Miss Curran had taught in Harrisburg, Erie, and Galeton schools before coming to Mansfield.

Mrs. Dorothy Lawson is teaching fourth grade, replacing Miss Habeger, who retired at the end of the 1957-1958 term.

Mrs. Lawson comes from Clarion, Pa., where she attended public school and Clarion State Teachers College.

Mrs. Lawson had taught in Franklin, Pa., and Erie School districts before coming to Mansfield.

Mr. Frank Bedogne Jr. is the present Art teacher, replacing Mrs. Brennan. Mr. Bedogne is married and originally came from Sunnyside, Pa.

Mr. Bedogne attended Edinboro State Teachers College, where he earned his B.S. degree. He then traveled to Colorado, where he attended the University of Colorado earning an M. Ed. degree. He has also done graduate work at the Colorado State College, Greeley, Colorado.

Mr. Bedogne has taught in the schools of Carnegie, Pa., Stockton, Cal., Longbeach, Cal, Aurora, Colorado and Fountain, Colorado, before coming to Mansfield.

Ruth H. Marsh (Ruth Hughes, Class of '41) has written a series of supplemental arithmetic books, grades one through four, for the F. A. Owens Publishing Company. They will be printed for use with Direct Process machines and are designed to be used for meeting individual needs in the classroom.

The A.C.E. of Mansfield State Teachers College has a membership of 191, the largest in its history. The officers for the year 1958-'59 are: President, Katherine Cawley; Vice-president, Ed Harrington; Secretary, Audrey Nelson; and Treasurer, Joe Clancy.

The organization has many interesting programs planned for the year. The first meeting was a get-acquainted meeting with an attempt to answer the question, "Why A.C.E."? Our second meeting was a science demonstration by Mr. Bre Miller, Science Consultant for Ginn and Co. The area teachers and principals were guests. Approximately one hundred guests attended the meeting. ,

Our November meeting was "A Mediterranean Cruise with the U.S. Navy." Ed Harrington showed many colorful and educational slides which he had taken while serving in the Navy.

There are three more meetings scheduled. On February 19th, there is a "Children's Literature Dramatization", March 19th. The program is titled, "School Administrator, Do You Qualify?", and April 16th is a time we look forward to every year—the Banquet. This year we will have as guests some beginning teachers, to give a report of their first year's experience as a teacher.

Honorary Fraternity

Alpha Beta Chapter of Kappa Omicron Phi celebrates Tenth Anniversary.

The Alpha Beta Chapter of Kappa Omicron Phi was installed at the Summer Conclave on August 13, 1948. The Chapter enjoyed a special tenth anniversary celebration on October 11, 1958.

Mrs. Marjorie Arch, national president, was the guest of honor at a coffee hour in the Home Management Apartment sponsored by the active members of Alpha Beta Chapter. Following the coffee hour the Mansfield Alumnae Chapter held a Brunch at the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Arch summarized the accomplishments at Mansfield State Teachers College of the past ten years. Among other praiseworthy activities the chapter is proud of the record of representation at every conclave and every regional meeting held since they were installed.

Two members have held national offices. Mrs. Margaret Spleen Verbeke was Distaff editor for several years. Mrs. Melinda Jupenlaz is now Distaff business manager. The chapter earned a beautifully engraved serving tray in 1950 for the high scholarship average of the chapter members as compared with all other chapters in the United States. At the last conclave a plaque for chapter efficiency was presented to Alpha Beta.

The idea of keeping in touch with members after graduation is fostered by a magazine called The Distaff and membership in an Alumnae Chapter. All members are urged to continue their affiliation.

Around The Campus

Parents were honored guests at M.S.T.C. Saturday, Sept. 27, when the annual Parents' Day festivities were observed Many parents and friends visited the campus and participated in a full day of activiies, including a talent show and a football game.

The Area Curriculum Committee held its first meeting of the new school year on October 16, 1958 at Mansfield State Teachers College. Members of the committee were guests of the college for dinner.

Mansfield STC was designated in January by the Department of Public Instruction as the center for one of the 13 areas of Pennsylvania's Program of Curriculum Study and Instruction Improvement.

More than 376 high school seniors representing 23 schools visited MSTC on October 14, for its annual "A Day At College" program.

"This total represents the largest number of students to take part in our annual festivities devoted to showing campus life to high school students nearing their own college days," Mrs. Elizabeth Morales, Chairman of the Day at College Committee said.

After registering the students were given campus tours, visited classrooms, and had lunch in the College dining room. A Musical Assembly concluded the activities for the day.

Neil Douglas, explorer, author and lecturer, addressed a Student Assembly at MSTC on October 28.

Mr. Douglas narrated a color film, "Russia—the New Face", a complete and unrestricted portrayal of the Soviet Union.

American Education week was observed on November 9th to 15th by the Mansfield Campus Schools. The theme chosen by the National organization was "Report Cards".

Rivka Mandelkern, former resident of Mansfield when her husband was in the music department of MSTC, gave the second of the "Mansfield Feature Series" concerts in Straughn Auditorium.

Mrs. Mandelkern performed with her usual sparkling talent, the difficult "Devil" Trill by Tarini, and selections from the works of Copeland, De-Falla, Khatchaturion and Paganini.

Mrs. Mandelkern, a graduate of Juilliard Graduate School of Music and veteran of two Town Hall Concerts and seasons of concerts with the Buffalo Philharmonic and many other groups, is unique in that she is a left handed violinist. She is one of the very few among noted musicians. When just a child she lost the tip of one finger of her left hand in an accident. She learned to bow with her left hand although she herself is right handed and worked the countless hours to become the great artist she is, with this handicap.

Activities and decorations for the annual Thanksgiving festivities at MSTC gave focus on the theme "We Give Thanks".

The program for the November 24th activity included a semi-formal dinner in the college dining room, a music program by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, and a semi-formal dance in the Gym that evening.

The MSTC Features Series opened its 1958 season with a concert by world-famous baritone, Thomas L. Thomas. More than nine hundred persons filled Straughn Auditorium.

The Welshman, one of America's most gifted artists, breezed through the two-hour program with the air of polished performer, which he is.

Approximately fifty students and faculty personnel attended the charter meeting of the Mansfield Open Forum held December 4, in North Hall.

Dr. Samuel Portnoy and Mr. Joseph Conaway are co-sponsors of this group. The MOF is established with consideration for the serious student interest in serious social questions, and certainly it will be sanctuary for those addicted to the cultural aspects of life.

MSTC was host to the regional conference of Kappa Delta Pi on October 25. Delegates from thirty-seven chapters in seven states were guests of Beta Phi Chapter, the local college branch.

"My Three Angels", a three act comedy by Sam and Bella Spewak, was presented by the College Players under the direction of Mr. Joseph Conaway as its first dramatic production of the year.

On December 13 MSTC's Annual Basketball Clinic, under the direction of Coach Bill Gibson, was held in the Gymnasium.

The Hut and Student Center exteriors have been painted white and an entire floor of the infirmary Building has been refinished to provide additional office space and housing for women students. The Education Center will be completely renovated with a $210,000 grant from the General State Authority, and the Arts and Elementary Building interiors are to be painted.

Victor Riesel, world famous labor columnist and master of the expose, spoke Friday, January 9, 1959, in Straughn Auditorium.

Mr. Riesel's appearance was the third Mansfield Feature Series program of the year. His topic was "Inside Labor"

Since 1943, his syndicated column has appeared in newspapers throughout the country, firing public imagination and criticism wherever labor and union racketeers existed.

He was born and reared in New York's lower East Side, where crime, sordid living and sweatshops were commonplace. Graduating from high school at 15 and working in a series of jobs ranging from newspapers to steel mills and Pennsylvania mine patches, he managed to earn a Master's degree by studying at night.

The sneak effort to "frighten" him has failed as his accurate "ahead - of - the - field" coverage of important labor, political and industral developments go on.

The dedication of this man to his task is exemplified by his first interview in the hospital after the attack. Said Riesel, "The acid hit my eyes but not my mind, my spirit or my backbone."

For the first time in fifteen years, German will be taught at MSTC. In addition, a greater selection of elective courses will be offered the students, notably in the Social Science and Speech fields.

The Opera Workshop, under the direction of Mr. Jack Wilcox, upheld its reputation for fine programs with the presentation of Sister Angelica and Act II of La Boheme by G. Puccini on December 12.

MSTC will again offer extension courses in Bradford County this year in an effort to continue and expand its aid to teachers in its service area, Dr. Harry W. Earlley, Dean of Instruction has announced. "We have been making strides in expanding our service to Bradford County teachers-in-service by providing College courses necessary for those who have not been permanently certified by the Dept. of Public Instruction," Dr. Earlley added.

Numerous improvements were accomplished during the summer months. Additional dormitory space in existing facilities was added for both men and women students, a tennis court has been macadamized, new furniture, equipment, music instruments, library space and books have been added, and various buildings have been renovated.

SEND IN YOUR DUES TO THE SECRETARY

M.S.T.C. Alumni are asked to send their dues to the new Secretary, Mrs. Clarice Evans, Mansfield, Pa. The dues are now $2.00 per year, after having been $1 per year for more than a generation. Other Colleges are charging from $5 to $10.

A generous response in the payment of dues enables the Alumni Association to do more for the Alumni and the College. The Association does not keep books on its membership dues, leaving it to the spirit of the various members, which has in the past been sufficient to enable us to get by.

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT WILSON

This newsletter of the Alumni Relations office should be of special interest to all alumni. It contains special news items relative to the activities of your association and of your fellow alumni. Please take the time to peruse the items and to reflect a bit. You are an important member of the Alumni Association and as such should be an interested and active party to whatever may promote the welfare of the organization.

Many things have been taking place in your association since the last issue of the Mansfieldian. Details of these activities will be found elsewhere in this publication. The Board of Directors of the Association has been activated and has given important directions to the officers. Three items are important to reemphasize here. (1) Dues were raised from one dollar to two dollars per year. However, as an incentive to clubs, all memberships received through a club allows the club to retain fifty cents of the dues. This should allow the area clubs an opportunity to build up a working fund. (2) The decision was made to affiliate with the General Council of Alumni Associations of State Teachers Colleges in Pennsylvania. The council is organized to look after the interests of the State Teachers Colleges. (3) The directors accepted, with regret, the resignation of Miss Helen Wood as Secretary-Treasurer of the General Alumni Association. This was done at Miss Wood's request. Even though she has resigned as an officer, I know that she will stand ready to offer her aid and advice to help promote the work of the Association and we want her to know we have appreciated all she has done. Mrs. Clarice Stilwell Evans has been appointed to succeed Miss Wood.

The officers of the Association wish you the best of everything for the year 1959 and hope that you are making plans to join us on Alumni Day, Saturday, May 23rd. Come and greet old friends and make new ones.

RICHARD M. WILSON,
President, General Alumni Association

Mrs. Clarice Stilwell Evans

Mrs. Clarice Stilwell Evans has been elected to the position of Secretary-Treasurer of the General Mansfield Alumni Asby the resignation of Miss Helen Wood.

Mrs. Evans received her B.S. in Home Ecvnomics and became the wife of Leslie Evans, '49, in 1947. After teaching in the Mansfield Boro Schools sociation, a position left vacant she now fills the role of wife and mother, along with an active participation in many other community activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans reside in Mansfield where he is a member of the Mansfield State Teachers College Faculty.

Mr. Fred A. Jupenlaz, '31, Assistant Professor of Education, has resigned to accept a position as Director of Guidance for the city schools of Elmira.

Mr. Jupenlaz has been a member of the faculty of M.S.T.C. since 1941, with the exception of two leaves of absence with the Federal Government and the American Red Cross.

The Alumni Association joins his host of friends in wishing him success in his new position.

MINUTES OF EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING

The Executive Board of the Mansfield Alumni Association held its annual meeting on the evening of October 7, 1958, in the Student Activity Room at Mansfield State Teachers College, following a dinner as guests of the college.

The meeting was called to order by Vice President Warren Miller, who introduced the new members.

The Secretary-Treasurer reports were read and approved.

Miss Wood reported a balance on hand of $1653.39 and reported that the list of "lost" alumni was shorter than ever before.

Leon Lunn, Chairman of the Alumni Relations Committee discussed the functions of the committee and listed some current projects:

1. Homecoming Day preparations
2. Formation and reactivation of Alumni Clubs
3. Letter contact with alumni members
4. Student role in the alumni organizations

A discussion of these projects was followed by suggestions for closer Alumni contacts and means of preserving the tower clock and bell. It was decided no definite action could be taken on the "clock project" at this time.

Vice President Miller and Mr. Leon Lunn reported on their recent trips to Harrisburg to attend meetings of the newly formed Council of General Alumni Associations, being created to promote the interests of the fourteen State Teachers Colleges. They will work to get more funds for State Teachers Colleges, and will establish an office in Harrisburg. There was a spirited discussion of the scheme and Mr. Frawley made a motion that we join the Council, Mrs. Harris seconded, and the motion was carried unanimously.

Under Mr. Lunn's sponsorship the executive board considered the proper number of issues of the MANSFIELDIAN finally entertaining the motion of Mr. Frawley that that there be two issues annually with the Alumni Day Letter the third general contact; motion passed.

After due consideration by all, Mrs. Harris made a motion that the dues of the Alumni Association be raised to $2.00 a year.

Mr. Lunn made a motion that local Clubs be allowed to keep .50c of each membership if they so request. Both motions seconded and enacted.

Miss Wood presented her resignation as Secretary - Treasurer, which was accepted with regrets. At Mr. Lunn's motion a vote of thanks for her work was expressed. Mr. Woodward presented a motion that a committee be appointed to secure a Secretary-Treasurer for the Association; motion was seconded and carried.

President Wilson (having arrived during the conduct of business) presented a motion that the Alumni Association seek, through Mr. Lunn, a room in the College for Alumni activities; motion seconded and passed.

Meeting adjourned.

Helen Wood, '18
Secretary-Treasurer

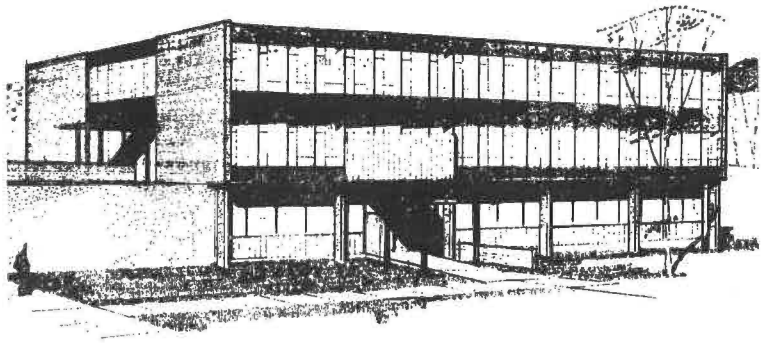
MANY THANKS— HELEN WOOD

The Alumni Association gives grateful thanks to Helen Wood for the splendid work she has done during her ten years as Secretary-Treasurer of the Alumni Association of Mansfield State Teachers College.

She has been indefatigible in keeping track of the Alumni. She has pursued the lost and strayed from our address list with persistence.

As many of the Alumni know, she has cheerfully and promptly given them any information asked of her.

Many of those who have come to know her will join with us in saying: "MANY THANKS — HELEN WOOD."



BIDS LET FOR COLLEGE BUILDINGS

The General State Authority received low bids totaling $530,887 for construction of a combination library and administration building, an athletic field, and expansion of utilities at Mansfield STC.

The library - administration building will provide offices for the college president, the director of admissions and their staffs, a conference room, offices for the dean of instruction, business manager and the publicity department. A postoffice, file room, mimeograph and stock rooms and a reception room are included in the plans.

In addition to customary library facilities, there will be an audio-visual department, curriculum laboratory, listening, reading, reference and staff rooms and offices.

A football field, a running track with curbing and a baseball diamond will be built according to a plan which permits future construction of a field house, grandstand and a parking area. Only the athletic field will be completed under the current project.

CURRICULUM REVISION IN PROCESS AT M.S.T.C.

In December 1955 the Chairman of the State Council of Education appointed an Advisory Committee on Teacher Certification. The Committee consisted of twenty-one professional educators and laymen, including representatives of the four state supported universities, the state teachers colleges, and the chief professional and lay organizations of the Commonwealth. Based partially on the recommendations contained in the FINAL REPORT OF THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON TEACHER CERTIFICATION TO THE STATE COUNCIL OF EDUCATION issued in July 1957 and partially on recommendations of officials of the State Department of Public Instruction, the State Council of Education approved sixty semester hours of general education as a requirement for all teacher certification. Although the general education requirement was but one aspect of proposed changes in certification requirements, it of itself made necessary revision of existing curricula offered by state teachers colleges.

When the effective date has been established, every graduate of MSTC will be required to devote approximately one-half of his undergraduate work to general education. Subject to change by the State Council of Education, it is now believed by officials of the State Department of Public Instruction that twelve semester hours of the required sixty in general education will be devoted to the humanities, twelve semester hours of the required sixty in sciences, and twelve semester hours to the natural sciences. The remaining 24 semester hours will be left to the discretion of the individual college.

The authority granted to the individual colleges to decide what shall be included in general education after the prescribed minimum of 36 hours has been satisfied has been extended on the same basis to the areas of professional and special education where only minimum requirements have been mandated. This will permit a flexibility among the several colleges which has not existed. Experimentation and the utmost use of strengths peculiar to individual faculties is now a real possibility.

It would be wise for members of Mansfield Alumni who have not yet earned degrees to keep in touch with the situation for undoubtedly they will need to appraise their holdings in light of fulfilling requirements for the earning of a degree based on the new standards.

FUNDS ALLOTED FOR EDUCATION CENTER

The General State Authority has granted Mansfield State Teachers College $210,000 to be earmarked for the complete renovation of the Education Center Building, Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber, President of the college, recently announced.

The Center, built in 1912, has been for many years the main class room buiidlng on campus

Plans are under way for installing a new lighting system, a new heating and ventilating system, and a total repainting as part of the interior renovation. Work on the exterior of the building includes repair of the roof, windows and painting.

With the construction of the new Mansfield Borough Junior-Senior High School, renovation of the present Junior High School on the Campus will be undertaken for added classroom facilities.

MANSFIELD ALUMNI ASSOCIATION JOINS NEWLY FORMED COUNCIL

Some of the alumni associations of the fourteen state teachers colleges in the Commonwealth have pledged active participation to a newly organized group known as "A Council of Alumni Associations of State Teachers Colleges." This newly formed group is the outgrowth of an idea formulated by James Gibboney, President of the Shippensburg Alumni Association, several years ago.

The initial meeting of the organization was held August 1, 1958, and followed by meetings September 11, October 31, and December 6, in Harrisburg. At the October 31 meeting, the following individuals were elected to offices in the Council:

President — James H. Rowland, Cheney

Vive-President — Ernest W. Johnson, Clarion

Sec-Treasurer — Sara E. Drake, Shippensburg

1st. Director — Bertha McDonough, California

2nd. Director — Ina H. Nelson, Bloomsburg

Briefly, the purposes of the Council as adopted at the September meeting are as follows:

1. To support high quality of academic instruction and student development throughout the State Teachers Colleges.

2. To promote more effective liason among the State Teachers Colleges and the privately endowed and state supported Colleges and Secondary Schools of the State.

3. To provide a clearing house where State Teachers College information may be received and disseminated.

4. Through organized informal service, secure a better understanding of common problems and better publicize accomplishments.

5. To provide unified approach to the needs and problems of the State Teachers Colleges in general rather than as separate entities.

6. To exchange suggestions and ideas about the operations of Alumni Associations in the State Teachers Colleges.

Former Faculty Member Now Active Tree Farmer

Retirement can mean different things to different people. Some people travel. Some move to Florida and bask in the sun. Others putter more in the garden.

To Hugh W. Alger, of 518 Third St., Towanda, formerly of Mansfield, retirement principally has meant more time to work at improving his 50 acres of woodland atop the mountain northwest of Rome.

But Mr. Alger didn't wait until he was retired to work at his favorite pastime. On the contrary—25 years ago when he was well occupied teaching full time at Mansfield State Teachers College, he found time to launch a tree planting program. Upon retirement in 1945, he pushed the program vigorously ahead, and now has completed the transformation of 40 acres of wasteland into a protective evergreen plantation.

In his teaching days, Mr. Alger founds his woods often gave him the relaxation he needed to go back to instilling knowledge in youth. Now, he finds his Tree Farm even more valuable as an enjoyable and potentially profitable way of making use of increased leisure time.

Tree farming, such as Mr. Alger is practicing, means deep personal satisfaction and increased income over the long pull to the timberland owner. But he isn't the only one to gain—all America stands to benefit by the more than 46 million acres of certified Tree Farm lands.

Who's Who Among Students In American Universities and Colleges for the academic year 1958-59.

There were four home economics students selected for membership in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Jean Francis and Lois Francis, daughters of Mr. Bertram Francis of the Music Faculty at the Mansfield State Teachers College were chosen because of their contribution to Omicron Gamma Pi, Art Club, College Players, Kappa Delta Pi and Day Student's Club.

JoAnn Hoffman, of Lykens, Pa., is president of Kappa Omicron Phi and active in W.A.A. and Ara Club.

Theodora Queipo from Lake Ariel, Pa. was Homecoming Queen in 1958, vice president of the Women's Dormitory Council, treasurer of the Senior class and guard in Kappa Omicron Phi.

The Home Economics Department is proud of the activities and accomplishments of these four girls and predict a high degree of success in their chosen profession.

MANSFIELD STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE ENROLLS RECORD CLASS

MSTC has enrolled 855 students for the 1958-59 academic year, the largest enrollment in 38 years. In addition, thirty students have enrolled on a part-time basis.

Commenting on the record enrollment, Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber, College President said, "Mansfield has been able to expand its resources so as to help meet one of the great challenges in education — the demand for space in our institution of higher learning".

"With the bulk of the World War II babies now about ready to attend college, great demands will be placed upon already strained facilities of many colleges and universities throughout the nation".

INTERESTING CATALOGUE FOUND IN TOWANDA

A Mansfield State Normal School catalogue of 1878-79 has been found by a Towanda man while repairing a sill on his house. The ancient catalogue was lying on the sill inside the wall. Principal at the time was F. A. Allen. Among students listed: Ida E. Hooker, Troy; Lena R. Morse, West Granville; V. E. Prevost, Russell Hill; Judah D. Tracy, East Smithfield; Arthur E. Allyn, Warren Center; W. T. Baldwin, Canton; David W. Jenkins, Carbon Run; N. G. Palmer, Canton; G. R. Smith and Foster Starkey, Canton; John W. Vargason, New Era; George Woodruff, LeRaysville; Frank H. Wilcox, Luthers Mills; Lucy Crowley and Rosa Cox, Towanda. Tuition and board including fuel for a stove, oil, room rent and ordinary washing, cost $189 per year. Students taking appropriations reduced the cost the second year to $168 and in case of soldiers' orphans, to $147. For the senior year expenses were reduced to $118. Tuition without board was $14 per term. "Rooms are furnished with stoves, chairs, tables, stands, pails, bedsteads, pillows and one comfortable." Students were to furnish "lamps, mirrors, wash bowls and pitchers, napkins, pillow slips, sheets and one comfortable."

Professor J. C. Doane, father of the Misses Alice and Stella Doane, was a member of the faculty at the time of this catalogue.

A Long, Last Look At Alumni Hall

The following article was written by George Beyer of Mansfield on the occasion of the One hundreth anniversary of the Mansfield State Teachers College 1857 - 1957. Since that time a contract for the erecting of a new building has been let. The clock in the tower has been removed and placed in storage and Alumni Hall itself, has been razed.

On the one hundredth anniversary of Mansfield State Teachers College, our thoughts turned naturally to the past. We thought of the men and women whose efforts formed a heritage that has come down to us. We thought of the old customs and fashions that seem so quaint today. We thought of how the buildings looked once and of the history for which they served as a setting.

When we reflect on Mansfield's past, our minds are likely to turn to what is perhaps the most eloquent reminder of the past on the campus today. This is Alumni Hall, which has stood gravely between North Hall and South Hall on the site that it had occupied for more than seventy years.

Outside, all around the old building, can be heard the normal sounds of college life: the voices of students, footfalls on the sidewalk, the sound of cars driving past. Yet, Alumni Hall, with so much history behind it, is today deserted and silent—silent, that is, except possibly for workmen moving about on the third floor, prying boards loose or carrying out furniture that can be salvaged for use elsewhere on the campus.

Sounds from the Past — and the Present

Perhaps, one of the students coming along through the Arcade, will notice the half-open door of the back entrance to the second floor and will stop there for a moment. As he gazes down the drafty, abandoned hallway, he may find himself thinking of what once must have been. And if he listens closely enough and long enough, he may begin to hear, echoing through the halls and corridors, instructors less than twenty years ago as they spoke to their college classes, the older sounds of junior high school pupils who are now in their forties, and the childish laughter of little children from a still earlier age. As the student continues to listen he may find that he hears other echoes, this time coming from the auditorium above, which has not been used for that purpose for nearly thirty years. First, it is only the scuffling of men wrestling in the early 1930's. But then, other sounds start filtering down: the voice of William R. Straughn accepting a decree giving the Normal School full power to give four-year courses and grant degrees. William Howard Taft addressing a capacity audience in the first quarter of the century, Simon B. Elliott delivering a historical address that would become famous, the self-conscious voice of a young lady giving her recitation during the 1886 Commencement, the music of the Orphan School Band playing for the entertainment of the Athenaean Society, and then silence—except for the sound of workmen hauling something out.

This student stands there beside that half-open door for another moment and wonders about what he has heard. Then, he turns and walks down the steps leading toward North Hall. Suddenly, the quiet of the morning is broken by the powerful sound of the tower clock, striking the hour of eleven—the tower clock of Alumni Hall. This is not merely an echo from the past. That great bell is ringing now, on this day in the spring of 1957.

The history of Alumni Hall is approaching its end. In a few months, the building will be torn down to make way for a new Library and Administration Building.

There are buildings, even in this town, that are older than Alumni Hall. There are indeed few, however, that have led as full or as rich a life as has Alumni Hall. There are few things in this area that have become so beloved by young and old over the years as has this building, with its famed tower clock. And between 1886 and 1927, probably no other building was the setting for so much of the history of this institution as was Alumni Hall.

An Early Plan

To trace the story of this building to its beginning, one almost has to go back as early as 1875, a decade before Alumni Hall was actually built. At that time, there were only two good buildings on the Normal School campus. On the south stood the original building, then somewhat less than twenty years old and housing the men students. On the north was the new women's dormitory, erected just the year before. Old pictures of the period show a long arcade connecting these two buildings, neither of which stands today.

On Wednesday, July 14, 1875, the Alumni Association of Mansfield State Normal School held its seventh annual reunion. One major feature of the event was the unfolding of a plan, by a committee consisting of J. C. Doane, Stella Young, and Fannie Green, for the erection of a third major building on the campus. Its name would be Alumni Hall. Each graduate of the school, by paying fifteen dollars, was to become a stockholder in the enterprise. On this basis, it was hoped that the building could be completed during the year 1878.

"Shall we not build upon these hallowed grounds," it was asked, "some memorial of our gratitude to the dear old Normal as a testimonial of what she has done for us?"

By the end of the decade, however, there were still only the two principal buildings on the campus.

The Erection of Alumni Hall

In September, 1880, Dennison C. Thomas took over the principalship of the Normal School. At this time, northern Pennsylvania was experiencing a period of great development. The community of Mansfield had grown from a population of eight hundred in 1870 to one of seventeen hundred a decade later. The school itself was undergoing a similar expansion.

Dr. Thomas realized that, to keep pace with the times, the Normal School should expand its physical facilities. In 1884, therefore, a tremendous building program was launched that was to transform the face of the campus. A decade later, Alumni Hall and the Gymnasium (now the Student Center) had been erected, the present North Hall was more than half completed, and South Hall (the original building) had been remodeled.

Alumni Hall was the first unit in this building program. In 1884, the Normal School catalogue came out with this paragraph: "There is now in process of erection, midway between the present structures, a new building 54 x 117 feet, three stories high, which will contain Model School Rooms, Society Rooms, and a capacious Chapel, 108 x 54 feet. This will be completed during the year "

The catalogue of the following year said this: "This building is nearly completed and will be ready for use at the beginning of the fall term."

The erection of this building did not occur so long ago as to be out of the memory of anyone living today. One of Mansfield's older residents can well remember the times when he went up to the campus and watched with fascination as the builders laid the bricks on the rising structure.

As it turned out, the building was not quite completed by the end of 1885. However, on February 24, 1886, it was possible for the Mansfield Advertiser to lead off a news article with the following paragraph:

"The new Chapel Hall at the Normal School, in this boro, was formally opened to the public last Friday evening by the seventeenth annual entertainment of the Athenaean Society. About eight hundred persons, including many from abroad, attended. The Orphan School Band . . . furnished excellent music before and during the entertainment. The beauty of the hall and the good taste displayed in arranging the stage were remarked on all sides. It was a scene long to be remembered."

Alumni Hall had been built at a cost of over twenty-five thousand dollars (a small sum by today's standards, it is true). In structural appearance, it was almost exactly the same in 1886 as it is today, except, of course, that it was then a new building. The three levels of windows on the sides, the designs of the porches in front, the structure of the roof, the main tower rising above the other—these have changed hardly at all. Meanwhile, the rest of the campus, in its gradual evolution over the years, has become completely different from what it was then.

A Bell for the Tower

If a viewer looked up at the belfry of the main tower in those early months of 1886, however, he would see no bell. This had not yet been procured. There was no clock, either, to keep time. The two six-foot dials on the tower were merely dummies. From the start, however, both a clock and a bell had been intended for the tower. How soon these could be supplied was merely a matter of expense and availability.

The Alumni Association, for which the building was named, held its annual reunion during Commencement week of 1886. During its meeting, the association voted to buy both a clock and a bell at the earliest possible opportunity and have them installed in the tower.

A bell, costing five hundred fifty dollars, soon arrived and was hung in the place of honor that it still occupies today. Not until 1907, however, would a clock be obtained. During the first twenty years, the bell would be rung by hand three times a day—in the morning, at noon, and in the evening. One of the students would be delegated to perform this task, and the "slides" through which the ropes passed can still be found in the tower.

The 1886 Commencement

The auditorium or chapel of Alumni Hall, which seated twelve hundred persons, occupied the entire third floor. For the previous decade and a half, the Normal School Commencements and many other programs had generally been held in the Methodist Episcopal Church, which had been erected in 1871 on the corner of Wellsboro and Academy Streets. The 1886 Commencement, on June 17, was the first to take place in Alumni Hall. The Mansfield Advertiser of June 23 re-creates the scene.

"The Mansfield Cornet Band assembled in front of their rooms, corner of Main and Wellsboro Streets, about half past nine Thursday morning, and tooted a lively air as they marched in double file toward the Normal. In front of Alumni Hall they halted and rendered two popular selections. Guests also arrived long before the time announced for commencing the exercises of the day, and gentlemanly ushers showed them to favorable seats in the centre of the hall. The trustees and clergy, followed by the graduating class, marched down the center aisle, the former occupying seats on the stage and the latter taking seats in front of the stage in the auditorium. The heavy tapestry curtains were drawn aside. Delicate palms and bright colored flowers adorned the stage near the center of which sat the faculty of the school. The band played 'Nearer My God to Thee'."

After the recitation of numerous essays by members of the graduating class, several solos, and some words of advice from the principal, "the graduating class, fifty-four in number, took positions on the stage, each received a parchment diploma held together with a bit of blue ribbon, and all joined together in singing the class song, 'Nemo Solus Sapit' . . . "

That Commencement week was a busy one, both for Alumni Hall and for the Normal School. It had opened with the Baccalaureate services on Sunday morning and included, among other things, class day exercises on Tuesday morning, the Alumni dinner and reunion on Wednesday afternoon, and a "grand display of fireworks" on Wednesday evening, the week of activities was closing with the Commencement exercises in the morning. In the evening, the week of activities was brought to a close with a presentation in Alumni Hall of "The Mikado" by the combined Normal Literary and Athenaean Societies.

That was in 1886. Commencement activities and other programs of all types would continue in Alumni Hall for more than forty years.

The Model School

The Model School, located in the original North Hall since 1874, moved into new quarters in Alumni Hall upon that building's completion. In those days there were two public grade schools in Mansfield: the Model School, operated by the Normal School and taught by students of that institution, and the Graded School, located on the present site of Mansfield Senior High School on the other side of town and not connected with the Normal.

When the Model School had been founded shortly after Mansfield became a Normal School in 1862, Mansfield was one of only nineteen normal schools in the country to offer such facilities for practice teaching. By 1892, the Model School consisted of eleven grades, taking pupils from six to sixteen.

Alumni Hall also contained rooms for the two literary societies at Mansfield, the Normal Literary Society, organized in 1864, and the Athenaean Society, organized in 1869. These rooms, according to the Mansfield Advertiser of June 16, 1886, were "richly furnished and beautifully decorated." (Whether or not the attractiveness of the new rooms had anything to do with it is not apparent, but, by 1894, there were no fewer than five literary societies on the campus.)

Before Alumni Hall was yet a decade old, recitation rooms for Normal School classes came to be provided. (This feature of the building was destined to outlast all the others. Long after the society rooms were gone and the Model School and auditorium were moved to other quarters, college classes were still being conducted in Alumni Hall.)

By the turn of the century, the first floor of Alumni Hall was occupied by the Model School chapel and classrooms for the upper elementary grades. On the second floor, alternate rooms were given over for the lower grades and for Normal School classes. The basement housed the school heating plant until 1904.

Installation of the Clock

In 1907, exactly half a century ago, clock-works were finally installed in the main tower of Alumni Hall. The old custom of ringing the the bell would sound from its place the tower clock, then new, began its long career of striking the hours and half-hours. Through the years, the bell would sound from its place high in the tower. Its strong, clear note would be heard over the compus, over the streets of the community, and, faintly at least, over the surrounding countryside. Alumni Hall had assumed the role for which it would become most loved.

About 1909, after the completion of North Hall, the Arcade was built, and certain alterations were made to the back part of Alumni Hall. The tall chimney at the back was removed, a small brick section was added to the rear of the building, and two or three new windows were installed. The appearance of the building was little changed, however.

In the fall of 1910, an organ was installed in the third-floor auditorium. Made by the Austin Organ Company of Hartford, Conn., it possessed orchestral effects as well as organ tones and was claimed to be the finest school pipe organ in the state. The organ was played at many beautiful recitals, open to both students and townspeople.

Semi-Centennial Celebration

Nineteen twelve marked the fiftieth anniversary of Mansfield's recognition as a Normal School. A special celebration was held during Commencement week, from June 16 to 20, during which time both business places and homes in the town were draped with red and black to welcome the alumni and other visitors.

A full schedule of programs was set up for the five-day observance Those to take place in Alumni Hall included the Baccalaureate exercises, the Model School operetta, the Normal School opera, a historical address by Simon B. Elliott, an anniversary address by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Commencement exercises, and the school play. It was said that, on nearly every occasion, the generous capacity of the auditorium was crowded, that the audiences overflowed into the aisles and many were obliged to turn away.

It was at this time that a Semi-Centennial tablet, hand-carved and polished, was placed on the front wall of the auditorium, adjoining the stage on the north side. This tablet, bearing the words "Character, Scholarship, Culture, Service" can today be seen by every person on his way into the auditorium of Straughn Hall.

In 1914, the yellow-brick Model School building on Wilson Ave. (now the Education Center) was erected. Both Alumni Hall, which the town children had attended, and the old Graded School, serving the country children, relinquished their roles as public elementary schools to the new Model School, which thenceforth served all the children of the area in grades one through eight.

The Junior High School

The Graded School building was then converted into the seat of Mansfield High School, which was not a part of the Normal School. Alumni Hall would have to wait six years before it would again assume a public school role. However, in September, 1920, the nucleus of the junior high school movement in Mansfield was formed when a ninth grade met for the first time in the basement of Alumni Hall.

At the beginning of the second semester of that school year, the seventh and eighth grades were moved over from the Model School to join the ninth grade, and the new junior high school was established on the first floor of Alumni Hall. Thus was instituted in 1921 the 6-3-3 plan in the Mansfield public schools.

The junior high school began to feel rather cramped in Alumni Hall, however, and, in September, 1927, it moved into a large, brand-new building on the eastern end of the campus.

The Auditorium Through the Years

For more than forty years, the auditorium of Alumni Hall had formed perhaps the nucleus of activities on the Normal School campus. It had been a center of school and community life. Plays, operas, concerts, addresses, Commencements—all had taken place there.

Simon B. Elliott had delivered his most famous historical address there in 1890. "Standing here near the close of the 19th century," he had said, "I am forced to believe that the probability yea, almost certainty—is, that we are only in the early morn of the world's advancement. The next, and long succeeding, centuries, will see greater progress than have any of the past."

William Howard Taft, former President of the United States, spoke once in Alumni Hall. So did Gifford Pinchot while still Governor of Pennsylvania. (In his address, Governor Pinchot had said that there were in his cabinet more former students from Mansfield than from any other school.) Dr. Will George Butler led the orchestra there many times, and Dr. William R. Straughn, principal of the school, spoke often in chapel (as assembly was then called).

Probably, the greatest single event ever to take place in Alumni Hall occurred on October 25, 1926. On the stage of the auditorium, Henry Klonower, representing the State Department of Public Instruction, presented to the school a decree giving it the power to give four-year courses. This decree, which carried with it the right to grant the degree of Bachelor of Science, was accepted by Dr. Straughn. On this occasion, the school became in fact, though not in name, a state teachers college. (A formal resolution, passed in Harrisburg the following May, authorized the change of name to "Mansfield State Teachers College."

The auditorium was still serving as a center of college activity in the early spring of 1927. Then came an action that marked the great turning point in the history of Alumni Hall; the State condemned the building as unsafe for assembly purposes. The lower floors continued to be used for College classes. The tower clock continued to strike. Still, the fact remained that the auditorium on the third floor had been completely abandoned. College programs, including Commencement activities, were transferred to the wooden gymnasium (today the Student Center), while the old stage, seats, and organ stood unused in Alumni Hall.

It is likely that a fundamental change in people's feelings toward the building occurred at this time. The building was condemned, antiquated, no longer adequate to the times, a symbol of the past—such thoughts must have run through people's minds. So arose a public impression of Alumni Hall as an "old ivy-covered building" or as "ancient Alumni Hall" (as it was called once in the mid-1930's). This was an old landmark past its best days, worthy perhaps, of pity and with it, of veneration and love.

In late 1930, the pipe organ was removed from Alumni Hall, reconstructed, and installed in the new auditorium building then nearly completed and soon to be known as Straughn Hall. Meanwhile, the old auditorium was demoted to the status of a work-out center for Mansfield wrestlers who were to compete with wrestling squads from other schools.

"The stage once glorified by gorgeous scenery and haunted by Thespians, artists, musicians and orators, is the rendezvous of a hardy band of athletes, who would further Mansfield's prestige on the mat. Every afternoon it is the scene of feverish activity. Boys of all sizes and descriptions attempt, by use of strength and skill, to force each other into positions of prostration."

A Time of Slow Decline

Seven years passed. College classes were still being taught in Alumni Hall, for the State's prohibition against the continued use of the auditorium for that purpose did not apply to the use of the lower floors for classrooms. In late 1937, however, came the announcement of a new building program that was to result in the erection of the Arts Building, the present Gymnasium, and the Elementary School building. Naturally, the future role of the old buildings came under discussion.

Alumni Hall, it was stated, would eventually have to be replaced. On its site would be built an administration building. However, this would not be part of the construction project about to get underway. (Nothing was said at that time about a new library building for the College Library was still firmly established on the first floor of old South Hall.)

When the new Elementary School building was completed in 1940, the old Model School building became available for other uses. Soon it had taken on the name of the Education Center and became a college classroom building.

So, no one should have been surprised when he read this item on the front page of the January 27, 1942, issue of The Flashlight:

"It seems that the inevitable must come to pass and the once hallowed walls will never again reverberate from the clatter of students' footsteps plodding their weary way to classes on the first floor of Alumni Hall. On students' ears fall the sad announcement that classes will no longer be held in Alumni Hall, first floor after the second semester. To some of the upperclassmen Alumni Hall has come to be an integral part of college life, just as much as term papers or cokes at the Dairy Store. It will seem quite different, not having to rush to eight o'clock classes in the still dim halls."

So, by the early part of World War II, it looked as if the days of the building — forsaken, through the years, by the Model school, the junior high school, the auditorium, and most college classes—were near their close. Old, mellowed, a little weary, Alumni Hall stood there on the front campus, its clock ticking away the hours. Yet, the daily activity of college life was coming more and more to pass it by.

A New Role For Alumni Hall

Then, the war ended and millions of American soldiers came back from abroad. The large number of veterans whose studies had been interrupted by the war and who now wished to complete their education pushed Mansfield's male enrollment up from its wartime low of practically nothing to unheard-of levels.

Old South Hall had housed men students since before Mansfield had become a Normal School. Its facilities were now inadequate by themselves to provide for the swollen male population, however. Alumni Hall and the Y Hut were pressed into service as additional dormitories.

So, Alumni Hall was rescued from oblivion. Not only was it given its new role as a dormitory, but a study room for men day students and the men's mail distribution center were located there. Meanwhile, the classes that had still been meeting in the building were transferred to the Education Center.

While the importance of Alumni Hall had steadily been reduced over the years, South Hall continued as a center of college activity, serving a greater number of functions than any single building but North Hall does today. But now, in the late 'forties, the ninety-year-old building was proving unequal to the demands that were necessarily placed upon it. First, the upper floors which had grown dilapidated, were abandoned. Then, in 1950, everything else, including the College Library, was moved out. Old South Hall was closed up and made ready for demolition.

So, by a stroke of fate, it was South Hall rather than Alumni Hall that went first. The sixty-four-year-old Alumni Hall stood by as its longtime neighbor was leveled to the ground. Fully twenty-three years after the closing of its auditorium and the beginning of its long decline, Alumni Hall became the oldest building on the campus.

The structure continued as a temporary dormitory while a modern-style men's dormitory, so different from the old buildings in appearance rose on the site of old South Hall. When the new building was completed in 1953, the men students who had been using Alumni Hall moved

And so, for the last four years, the old halls have stood deserted.

Yet, to this day, the clock runs on.

In the years of its prime, the principal feature of Alumni Hall had been its auditorium. In later years, it came to be remembered most of all for its tower clock.

The clock-works, which had been installed in 1907, had later been modernized. Still later, the clock had been converted to electricity and was controlled by a master clock in the president's office.

THE TOWER CLOCK
A SYMBOL

Through the years, this clock has come to represent, better than anything else has been able to do, the vaguely defined yet very real ideals for which the college has stood. Many changes have been made in the institution over the years—necessary changes, in individuals, buildings, and academic policies. Yet, always, the clock has seemed to embody that basic continuity that is underlying. The more things change, it has seemed to say, the more they remain the same.

The tower clock has become, as everyone knows, the symbol of the college. And it has symbolized not only the Mansfield State Teachers College of today, but the college of the past, as well—and of the future.

Like all great symbols, however the tower clock has been more than a symbol. It has been, in its own right, an object of love, of affection, of fascinated interest. These emotions furthermore, have been felt by the people of the community as well as by the people of the college.

The clock has seemed at times to be almost human, and certainly one of the things that has helped to make it so has been the idiosyncrasies of its timekeeping. On most occasions, the clock has kept rather accurate time. It is the occasions when it has not, however, that people have remembered.

A few decades back, after lightning had struck the tower, the clock refused to operate at all for some days (although it really could not be blamed for that). More recently, however, the clock has stopped more than once for no apparent reason. One afternoon before its removal the town must have been somewhat startled to hear the bell strike all the hours and half-hours between five and ten in the course of fifteen minutes. During its fifty-year history, it might be added, the clock has been known to strike fourteen!

If anything, this occasional misbehavior has increased the general affection felt for the tower clock. As Fred A. Jupenlaz expressed it a few years ago in the Mansfieldian, this clock, "oftentimes independent of solar, Greenwich, standard and non-standard interpretations of the zodiac, has its own, unique and unchallenged personality."

The feeling for the clock on the part of so many has been expressed in various ways. More than one fraternity pledge has actually bowed to the clock after each stroke of the bell (although it is doubtlessly true that he was encouraged to do so by others). For eight years, starting in 1948, Christmas music was played from the tower during the yuletide season. The prize for the most attractive float at each Homecoming Day parade has been a miniature replica of the tower clock. Just last year, the Alumni Association brought out a set of dinner plates, each bearing the likeness of Alumni Hall and its tower. When people have been reminded that Alumni Hall would eventually have to come down, their reaction has been, in many cases, the same: Couldn't something be done to save the tower?

A Part of Mansfield Life

That old clock tower still stands there in 1958. With its weather vane on the top, it rises from its place on the campus, just as it did before the twentieth century began. Together with North Hall, the tower dominates the skyline of the college and the community.

Many are the scenes of the clock tower that have become familiar to Mansfieldians—the striking view as one comes around the side of North Hall . . . the view from Academy Street, with the tower set among the trees that have grown up around it. . the scene from the bottom of the Arcade on a moonlit night, with the clock face lighted up and the outline of the tower silhouetted against the dark blue sky . . .the sight of this tower coming into view among the many buildings of the communtiy as one drives in toward Mansfield.

The sound of the striking clock has been a part of Mansfield life for many years — the resonant and mighty tones reverberating over the front campus . . . the notes, scarcely audible because of the atmosphere, heard downtown on a windy afternoon . . . the same notes, coming through clear and delicate and mellow on the very outskirts of town on a cool spring evening.

This is the tower clock of Alumni Hall. Both Mansfield State Teachers College and the town of Mansfield have been richer for having long identified it as their own.

This year of 1959 will be the last for Alumni Hall, including, to the sorrow of many, the beloved clock tower itself. The workmen have come, and the tearing down of the old structure has begun. Soon, Alumni Hall will be no more.

The old building will have passed into history, along with the first century of this institutions existence. As Mansfield State Teachers College embarks on a new century, bright with promise, a new Library and Administration Building, will rise on the old site.

Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber

Dear Mansfieldians:

As I write this message I am led to recall those words from Act IV of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar"—"There is a tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune." Perhaps we should say—"There is a tide in the affairs of Mansfield which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune," because we seem to be riding that tide toward a greater and better Mansfield. Not great in the sense of size, but great in the sense of quality.

Much has been accomplished in the way of buildings—the exterior of the new Library-Administration Building is completed, the excavation and engineering of the new Athletic Field is an impressive sight as one drives west on Route 6, soon the yellow brick Education Center building will be under renovation, and many new projects as well as minor repairs are under way.

But we are also pleased to tell you that our enrollment is the largest in history, while at the same time we have initiated a more selective admissions policy.

We have been sought out by college teachers and administrators who are interested in our work at Mansfield and who are anxious to hear the result of our curriculum conference in September. In most areas we have three or four applicants for every faculty vacancy. The Mansfield Feature Series headed by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has attracted state-wide recognition—and it is a real pleasure to announce that Dr. Edward Litchfield, Chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh, will address the faculty in January at the President's annual dinner. Perhaps most significant of all is the fact that Henry Steele Commager, one of the four or five leading American historians— will be the Commencement speaker next May.

But let me emphasize that all of these advances have been made possible because of the great cooperation which has always been part of the Mansfield spirit. Alumni, faculty, students, trustees and townspeople have worked together to achieve the advances and improvements, both spiritual and material, both in quality and quantity, which have marked these past years—and which will carry Mansfield on the flood tide to fortune.

To all Mansfieldians everywhere we say thanks and God bless you.

Sincerely,

LEWIS W. RATHGEBER

Saturday, May 23rd
Gala Day For Alumni

The ninety-first meeting of the Almuni of Mansfield State Teachers College was held in Straughn Hall, beginning at 11 a. m. F. Joseph Bedenk, '19, was chairman of the event and welcomed the large crowd of alumni and guests.

The invocation was given by Mr. Clair F. Littel, '09.

The class of 1959, numbering 148 members was presented by Mr. Leon E. Lunn, faculty advisor. Mr. Warren Miller, '19, welcomed the class into membership in the General Alumni Association, and Mr. Sears, President of the Class of 1959 graciously responded for his classmates.

A musical interlude was furnished by two college students, Miss Josephine Tagani, '60, violinist, and Miss Mary Ann Davis, '59, pianist, who played the 1st movement of " Sonata in G" by Tartini.

Mr. Miller informed the alumni of the new organization of the State Alumni Association of all the State Teachers Colleges, of which Mansfield is now a member.

The highlight of the alumni meeting was the presentation of the 12 Anniversary Classes and those who spoke for the classes as follows: Class of 1899 — Mrs. Vesta Fritchey McCarthy; 1904 — Mr. Woelfel; 1909 — Mr. Murphy; 1914 —Mr. Ollendyke; 1919 — Dr. Ellsworth Obourne; 1924 — Mrs. Vivian Bergstresser Dailey; 1929 — Mr. Merle Lee; 1934 — Mr. Carlton Hess; 1939 — Mr. Marshall Webster; 1944 — Mrs. Jean T. Guinn; 1949 — Mr. William Bradshaw and 1954 — Miss Dorothy Brittain. Two members of the class of 1893 were present, both from Mansfield; Mrs. Edna Lou Adams Willamson-Brophy and Mrs. Mabel Shipman Shaw. Dr. Rathgeber then spoke briefly and welcomed all Alumni and their friends to the festivities of the day. Those who were in charge of the 1959 Alumni Day meeting were: Chairman, F. Joseph Bedenk, '19; Vice Chairmen, Robert Norris, '39, Dr. Ellsworth Obourne, '19, Kenneth Preschau, '49; and secretary, Elizabeth Youngkin Beach, '24. Also the general officers: Dr. Richard Wilson, '35, President; Warren L. Miller, '19, Harry McInroy, '18; Mrs. Clarice Stilwell Evans, '47, general secretary; Mr. Leon E. Lunn and Mr. Edwin S. Coles.

For the 1960 Alumni Day Program the following were appointed: Chairman, Edward Smith, '25; Vice Chairmen, Max Gannon, '40 and Howard Hendricks, '35. Members of the General Alumni Assn. Board are Leon Lunn, '36, F. Joe Bedenk, '19, H. Austin Snyder, '32, Agnes Scutt, '30, Melvin Woodard, '58, H. Louise Harris, '30, Jack Frawley, '28, O. H. English, '25 and Jack Terry, '39.

The meeting closed with the singing of our Alma Mater "Mansfield Hail" and the Recessional by the Class of 1959.

Over 500 alumni, faculty and guests were served an excellent Alumni Day Luncheon under the supervision of Mrs. Agnes Burt Schutt, '30, the college dietitian.

In the afternoon the Alumni Day Exhibit was presented in the Lounge of South Hall. This is always a worthwhile display and enjoyed by everyone. The Class Reunions of which there were 12, were held in various rooms of the Arts Building beginning at 3 p. m.

From 4 to 5:30, President Rathgeber and his mother, Mrs. Rathgeber, were host and hostess to all Alumni at the President's residence, at a delightful tea. It was very well attended and gave many alumni an opportunity to meet the new college head.

The third presentation of Frank Loesser's musical, the "Most Happy Fella" at Straughn Hall in the evening, under the capable direction of Mr. Jack Wilcox, '47, played to a capacity audience and closed a memorable and delightful Alumni Day for all who were able to attend.

DELPHIC BANQUET

Twenty-one members of the Delphic Fraternity that was established in the Mansfield Normal in 1898, held their annual banquet in the Baptist Church Annex Saturday evening. They held banquets while at the Normal every year until the fraternities were banished about 1916. A few years after that the alumni started the custom again and have continued them for the past quarter century.

Those present last Saturday were:

Allen Rockwell, Hershey, Pa.
J. D. Bradford, Troy, Pa.
V. A. Coveney, Crooked Creek
Sheldon Frost, Cherry Creek, N. Y.
Eugene Frutiger, Liberty
Newcombe G. Park, Clearfield
Bert W. Richmond, Alfred, N. Y.

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT WILSON

The years pass and still the Alumni of Mansfield State Teachers College eagerly gather to renew old friendships, to see how classmates have changed in appearance, to note the changes which have occurred on the Campus, and probably to boast a bit about the good old days.

Such was the character of the crowd which assembled for the 1959 Alumni Day. The honored classes were well represented and all seemed to have a pleasant time. The success of the day certainly must be attributed to the careful planning of the arrangements committee and the enthusiastic support of the Alumni. This feeling has been reflected in the amount of dues received and the activity of Alumni Clubs in the field. We are proud of Mansfield and its graduates.

The Executive Committee is active and seeks suggestions from you for the betterment of the Association. We hope that you will share your ideas and your criticisms with us. It is our good fortune to now have an Alumni Office and an Alumni Room which greatly facilitate and promote our organization.

1958-59 was a very successful year, but may we make 1959-60 an even better one. You can help this program by becoming a dues-paying member and by sharing your enthusiasm with fellow alumni. Join the ranks and receive the "Mansfieldian", the official bulletin of your Association; it will help keep you informed about Mansfield.

I extend to you best wishes for a pleasant and successful year.

RICHARD M. WILSON,
President, General Alumni Association

Artist Series To Feature Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

Announcing its outstanding 1959-60 artist series, Mansfield State Teacher's College's Features Series Chairman, John Reese, stated the College was moving forward in making available a varied type of program and one that would have an appeal to a great number of people.

Opening the Mansfield Feature Series will be the former first lady, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Appearing in the initial program on Wednesday September 23, Mrs. Roosevelt will address a Mansfield audience for the first time.

Contrasting Mrs. Roosevelt, the second of the series programs will offer Jazz '59, featuring the Kai Winding Septet. Winding is a top name in the jazz field today and one of the most sought-after groups by colleges and universities from coast to coast. This program will be presented Thursday, October 15.

The third number of the series, on Thursday, November 6, will bring to the audience an offering in the form of a group titled Gershwin Musicale (Porgy and Bess Singers), which features Avon Long, the original "Sportin' Life". Levern Hutcherson, who played Porgy not only in this country, but toured with the production throughout the world, and Lucia Hawkins, "Cindy Lou" of the touring production of Carmen Jones. This program will offer selections from Porgy and Bess, Carmen Jones, Girl Crazy, Bloomer Girl, Show boat, Carousel, and many other memorable Broadway Musicals, as well as several operatic selections.

On Friday, February 5, 1960, a distinguished actor of Broadway and Hollywood, Raymond Massey, will offer a program of readings, with selections from Benet, Robert Sherwood and Lincoln's farewell speech at Gettysburg.

For the fifth and final program of the season, the Mansfield Features Series will present the outstanding young American pianist, Marjorie Mitchell. Miss Mitchell, currently on her fourth tour of Europe, has just been hailed by the European critics as the U. S. Van Cliburn. Miss Mitchell presents her concert in Mansfield on a date to be announced.

Season tickets for the series of five events are available for a fee of $5.00, tax included, for adults, with children's tickets available for $2.50, tax inclued. Inquiries should be directed to: The College Bookroom, State Teachers College, Mansfield.

All programs will be held at the Mansfield State Teachers College Straughn Auditorium at 8:00 P. M. on the dates mentioned.

Faculty Study Curriculum Revision

In keeping with the policy of continuous evaluation of the curriculum in relationship to pupil need and ever changing social problems. The faculty under the guidance of several national educators held a pre-term curriculum conference September 9-12. The committee in charge arranged the following agenda:

September 9

Consultants discussed the topic, "If you were free to reorganize a program of 128 hours in teacher education, what would you include?"

September 10

Representatives of Department of Public Instruction and of the State Council on Education presented the practical and realistic limitations within which we must operate in Pennsylvania.

September 11

Interdepartmental groupings of faculty discussed the implications of the previous discussions for curriculum revision at MSTC. These will be followed by meetings of the faculty by departments to begin a formulation of specific recommendations for curriculum revision.

Among the consultants present were:

Dr. Joseph S. Butterweck, Temple University, Philadelphia

Dr. Margaret Alexander, U. S. Office of Education, Washington

Dr. Catherine B. Coleman, Director of Teacher Education and Certification, Dept. of Public Instruction, Harrisburg

Dr. Earl Beach, East Carolina College, Greenville, N. Carolina

Dr. Clara Cockerille, Assistant County Superintendent, Armstrong County, Pa.

Miss Cathleen Chaplin, Bureau of Examinations, Board of Education, Phila.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Nine scholarship awards have been granted by MSTC for the 1959-60 academic year, Mr. Thomas E. Godward, Dean of Students has announced. Six recipients are presently enrolled at the College and there are high school seniors who will enter Mansfield in September.

The awards, in the amount of $150, are granted on the basis of high school achievement, academic performance at the College and financial need and are part of sixteen scholarships which will be granted by the College prior to the fall term. Last year, these scholarships numbered eight, but were increased so as to allow more students the opportunity to receive financial aid.

M. S. T. C. Gets Second Loan Grant

Mansfield State Teachers College has received a second grant totaling $21,071 from the National Defense Student Loan Fund. The first grant was $1,477.

Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber, president of the college, said the grant was one of the largest in the Commonwealth.

The National Defense Education Act provides that a student who meets the academic and financial need requirements of the institution may borrow up to $1000 a year while in college and up to $4000 during his four years in preparation for a bachelor's degree.

The loans draw no interest until one year following graduation from college, at which time 3 per cent interest is charged. Students receiving loans and entering public school teaching will have 10 per cent of their loan cancelled for each year of teaching, up to a total of one-half of the loan received.

Seven Teachers Retired This Spring

The retirement of seven Mansfield faculty members was announced by President Lewis Rathgeber; Miss Marjorie Brooks, Director of the Music Education Department; Miss Elizabeth Allen, Associate Professor of English.

Miss Jean Holcombe, Assistant Professor of English; Miss Mildred Grigsby, Associate Professor of Education and Supervisor of Grade Six, Campus Elementary School; Miss Elizabeth Stalford, Assistant Professor of Education and Supervisor of Grade Six; Kimble Marvin, Assistant Professor of Health and Science in the Junior High School; and Mrs. Bertha Palmer, Campus Schools Librarian.

President Rathgeber, commenting on the retirements stated, "We are sorry to note the retirement of these faculty members who have rendered long and valuable service to the college. Nevertheless, we are adding their names to the Professors Emeritti—they will always be part of the institution and tradition of Mansfield State Teachers College".

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Mansfield State Teachers College on June 16, Mr. Milford Paris, '35 of Tioga was unanimously elected Chairman of the Board. Dr. Lloyd G. Cole, Chief Surgeon of the Blossburg State Hospital, and Mrs. J. J. McMillen, '38 of Mansfield were unanimously re-elected Vice-Chairman and Secretary, respectively.

New Faculty and Staff

Broader curriculum opportunity, larger enrollment and the increased needs of society, bring corresponding responsibilities to college administrations. To meet these demands eleven new faculty members joined the staff at M.S.T.C. for the 1959-60 term.

Dr. Aggie M. Boyet
Associate Professor of English

Dr. Boyet received her B. A. from Southeastern State College, Texas, an M. A. from the University of Oklahoma and a D. Ed. from Oklahoma State University where she served as graduate assistant.

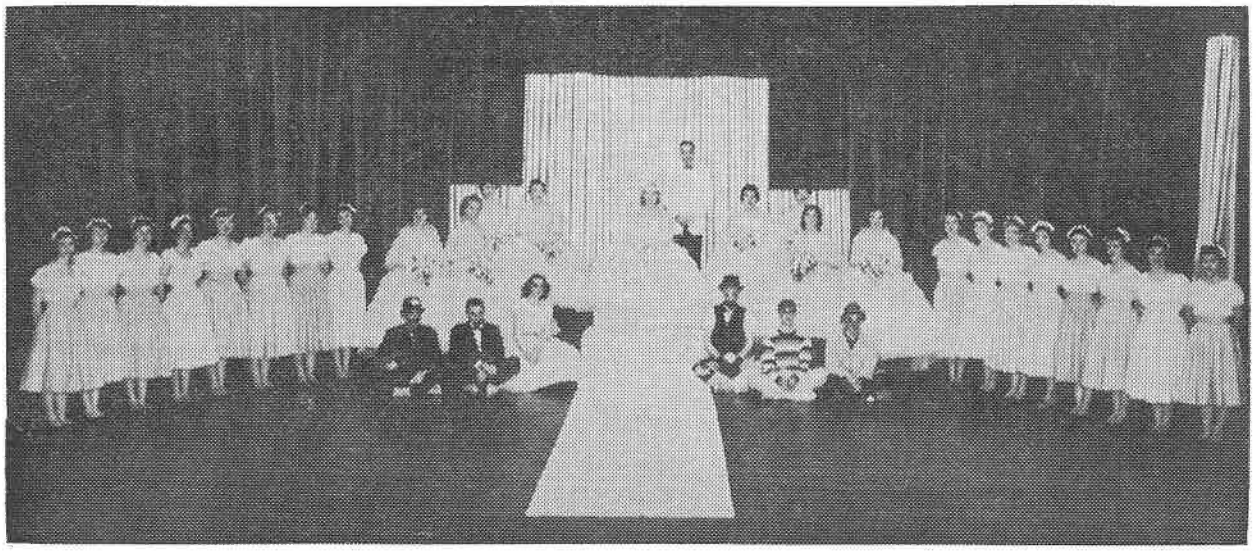
ALUMNI ROOM IN NORTH HALL

Room 34, 1st floor, North Hall, presently used as a meeting room, has been designated as the ALUMNI ROOM.



QUEEN CHRIST AND HER MAY COURT

Miss Marilyn Christ, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. John I. Christ, of Morris Lane, Wellsboro, Penna. was chosen May Queen for the 21st Annual May Day Festivities at Mansfield STC held Saturday, May 2nd.

Miss Christ, a senior enrolled in the Secondary Education Curriculum, is majoring in English and Social Studies.

The nominations for the Court are made on the basis of personality, attractiveness, academic rating and service and contributions to the College through extra-curricular activities and are limited to senior women students.

The May Day Activities included a baseball game between the Mountaineers and Lock Haven at Smythe Park, followed by the Queens Coronation at 2 P. M. The Coronation program included the May Pole Dancers, a playlet, titled "The Park". The Queen was crowned by Student Council President Clifton Kreamer.

At 6 P. M. the May Day Dinner was held in the College Dining Room. The May Day Dance in the gymnasium where the Queen and her Court received the guests concluded the day's activities.

ENROLLMENT INCREASE AT SUMMER SESSIONS

228 students were enrolled in the Main Session of summer school at Mansfield State Teachers College, the largest summer enrollment since the post-World War II years.

The increase over last year's Main Session, which totalled 157 students, was due largely to the greater number of available courses offered by the College, thereby affording teachers-inservice who wish to gain permanent certification and full-time students of the college, an expanded opportunity in gaining additional credits.

The gain is in line with the sizable increase in Pre-Session enrollment at the College this year. Concluding June 26, the registration for the three-weeks session was 50 per cent over last year.

All Pennsylvania College Alumni Association of Washington, D. C. Citation Luncheon honoring Dr. Carl E. Seifrit, Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction of Penna. Eleventh Anniversary. Hotel Shoreham Terrace Room. February 7, 1959.

OPEN FORUM

The Mansfield Open Forum organized under the sponsorship of Dr. Samuel Portnoy, Head of Social Studies, and Mr. Joseph Conaway, Assistant Professor of Speech.

The organization hopes to stimulate student and faculty interest in current world affairs.

"The only stipulation for membership in the forum is that the student be prepared to contribute his thoughts and words to the success of the organization," stated Dr. Portnoy.

"The MOF is established with consideration for the serious student interested in serious social questions," Dr. Portnoy continued, "and certainly it will be a sanctuary for those addicted to the cultural aspects of life."

Professor Conaway, who with Dr. Portnoy, had been instrumental in organizing MOF, stated at the first meeting, "getting together and engaging in intelligent discussion, we will be able to pool our cultural resources and achieve more than any individual could, and in a much more productive span of time." He stressed that the forum's discussions must, by their very nature, be the result of "reflective and not emotional thinking."
